table college. Analysis is an easy method to a skillful man of determining the ingredients of any medicine.

During an experience of many years, in which we have culled from science all the approved methods of manufacturing remedial agents, we have often felt that there was a public need which was unsupplied, namely, a sure, safe, harmless medicine for children; one that mothers could keep in the house and administer without the aid of a doctor. Such a medicine we have at length found in DR. MCKENZIE'S DEAD SHOT CANDY FOR WORMS.

Mrs. Hill is an old English nurse of various and extended experience in the founding hospitals of Great Britain. The following is the result of her five and twenty years' experience. Firstly—That it is best for the mother to be her child's only doctor; to trust herself, and believe that the same reason which assists her in comprehending difficult crochet patterns will also enable her to understand medical facts, and remember them. Secondly—Never to give her child White Calomel or Antimony powders, or any of the many Soothing Syrups, which all contain more or less Morphine and Mercury, that pernicious mineral which rots the very rats in the mines that yield it, and quickly paralyzes and kills the unfortunate men who collect it. Thirdly—Only to give to her children simple physic, and never, under any pretence, to let her child be blood-stained by lancet or leech, those fatal robbers of the red life-stream of which there is never more than enough, and whose proper quantity keeps the heart in motion and the child in life.

Oh, if we were to tell you some of the sad tales, culled from a long experience as a medical practitioner, of the many sweet children we have seen whose bright laughing eyes have been permanently filmed and closed in lasting sleep from the effects of the too strong
