THE MARKETS.

Revised Every Monday for the Weekly Sun.

COUNTRY MARKET.

The supply of beef, including native and Ontario, is still too heavy for good business. Butter is easier, and old stock will probably be cheaper very soon. Potatoes are cheaper, as Victoria county stock, referred to in the Sun a day or two ago, is being offered in unlimited quantities at 70c per bbl. Eggs are easy. Geese are scarce and higher. Other poultry is unchanged, as are meats and vegetables generally. On the whole the market is dull.

For instance, the Concordia, due here last evening, the Convordia, due here last evening, cannot get as many cattle as was expected for Glasgow, and has engaged 70 tons of Westmorland county hay to fill part of the 'tween-deck space. The very large shipments from all quarters had so depressed the British cattle market that we shall probably not see as many go forward as was at first anticipated for the balance of the season. The St John shippers lost money on the first lot they sent over and are not disposed to send any more at present. Should the market revive the effect would of course be felt at once in larger shipments.

THERE WE ME WE WILL HAD BELLOW. I would; it made me sick, and often gave me a shivering sensation all over. When I saw others eating and enjoying their meals I felt as though it were a strange thing; in a way I wondered how they could do it. For my-self, I could hardly eat anything. Food went against me, and I turned away from it, as one turns from smells or sights that are offensive. And yet I knew, what everyone knows, that without sufficient food the body languishes and weakens. And such was the case with me as month after month went by.

A CLEAN CUT INDIVIDUAL OPIN-ION BOLDLY EXPRESSED.

It is for this reason that an assertion like the following sticks up above the dead level of our stupid talk, and becomes noticeable; "When I saw how pale I had grown I said to myself, it was because something had gone out of my blood."

There! that is a statement with the seeds of an idea in it. Suppose we follow it up by quoting the rest of the latter which contains it.
