

PERCE AND CARNEGIE IS DELEGATED

President Taft and Andrew Carnegie Speak At Formal Opening of International Union of Republics.

Washington, D. C., April 26.—The magnificent new marble palace of the international union of American republics was dedicated today in the name of universal peace.

Mr. Bradbury drew attention to the increase of the price of cement since the formation of the cement merger from $1.80 to $2.40 a barrel. He favored the suggestion that the duty on cement be reduced or abolished.

Mr. King replied to Dr. Sproule that publicity was what was aimed at in the preliminary proceedings as a deterrent to prevent frivolous and vexatious complaints.

Mr. King gave an instance from Berlin. A firm there makes cabinets for phonographs, but cannot procure certain records made in the United States because the firm which makes them refuses to sell except to an American firm which makes cabinets and charges double the rate that the Canadian firm does.

Mr. King answered. Mr. King gave an instance from Berlin. A firm there makes cabinets for phonographs, but cannot procure certain records made in the United States because the firm which makes them refuses to sell except to an American firm which makes cabinets and charges double the rate that the Canadian firm does.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

WAR TO KNIFE AMONG LIBERAL LEADERS AT OTTAWA TO SERIOUS PARTY DISORDERS

Continued from page 1. The combined investigation bill received third reading today after an unusually interesting debate. It began with an attack on the bill by Dr. Sproule, who declared that after looking the bill over he had come to the conclusion that the measure was a gold brick.

Mr. Bradbury drew attention to the increase of the price of cement since the formation of the cement merger from $1.80 to $2.40 a barrel. He favored the suggestion that the duty on cement be reduced or abolished.

Mr. King replied to Dr. Sproule that publicity was what was aimed at in the preliminary proceedings as a deterrent to prevent frivolous and vexatious complaints.

Mr. King answered. Mr. King gave an instance from Berlin. A firm there makes cabinets for phonographs, but cannot procure certain records made in the United States because the firm which makes them refuses to sell except to an American firm which makes cabinets and charges double the rate that the Canadian firm does.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

if he set the ship on fire himself." Mr. Sinclair admitted this, but pointed out that in such a case the owner would be guilty of arson. Moreover he urged as a first reason that the bill was the result of compromise and that it was better for the shipper to have the bill with this exemption to the shipowner, than to destroy the bill, which Mr. Doherty's amendment would do.

Mr. Doherty, however, did not see why this proposal should kill the bill and he put it in the form of an amendment. This amendment provided that if a fire was caused by the fault of a shipowner or his employee, the shipowner would be liable for the loss.

A vote was then taken and Mr. Doherty's amendment was rejected after which the bill was passed.

Mr. King Agains. Hon. MacKenzie King got his second bill of the day passed with little discussion. The first one was the proposed bill to change the conditions of labor or wages must apply for the board of inquiry.

Mr. King answered. Mr. King gave an instance from Berlin. A firm there makes cabinets for phonographs, but cannot procure certain records made in the United States because the firm which makes them refuses to sell except to an American firm which makes cabinets and charges double the rate that the Canadian firm does.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

JOY RIDDERS
KILLED SERVANT GIRL ON VICTORIA BRIDGE WILL FACE CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Montreal Men Whose Auto Killed Servant Girl on Victoria Bridge Will Face Charge Of Manslaughter.

Special to The Standard. Monday, April 26.—That Louis A. Dionne and John Louis Keiffer are both criminally responsible for the death of Miss Beattie Smith, the domestic servant who was run over and instantly killed by an automobile, on the Victoria bridge, was the verdict brought in by a coroner's jury this afternoon, at the inquest held on the body of the young girl.

Dionne, who keeps a saloon at the corner of St. Catherine street east and Sanguinet street, is the owner of the automobile which was driven by Keiffer, an unemployed driver and from the testimony adduced at the inquest, at an excessive speed.

Mr. King Agains. Hon. MacKenzie King got his second bill of the day passed with little discussion. The first one was the proposed bill to change the conditions of labor or wages must apply for the board of inquiry.

Mr. King answered. Mr. King gave an instance from Berlin. A firm there makes cabinets for phonographs, but cannot procure certain records made in the United States because the firm which makes them refuses to sell except to an American firm which makes cabinets and charges double the rate that the Canadian firm does.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

Mr. Borden was disposed to hold that if officers were appointed to represent the public, the existing law would suffice. There also was the case of a combine existing side by side with independent firms, the combine would be excessive in the case of the combine and not excessive in the case of the independents.

WHARF BORROWERS
OF WHARF STEAL
Story of Government Witnesses Absolutely Incredible and Whole Transaction an Undeclared Case—Compliments Mr. O. S. Crocket, M. P. in Exposing One of the Most Glaring Scandals.

Story of Government Witnesses Absolutely Incredible and Whole Transaction an Undeclared Case—Compliments Mr. O. S. Crocket, M. P. in Exposing One of the Most Glaring Scandals.

The Hansard report of the speech of Mr. R. L. Borden on the Sawdust Wharf case, which was read in the House, completely destroyed the defence of the government on this point has been shattered.

The speech followed:—Mr. Speaker, this matter has been so fully debated that I do not intend to occupy the time of the House for more than a few moments. The telegram which I received from Mr. O'Leary in regard to this matter is not without importance, because I think we may learn from the methods disclosed in this transaction some of the methods which are applied to transactions of greater amount.

Mr. O'Leary did not seem to be so much as surprised as he was at the fact that he had to defend this transaction this afternoon, and I do not wonder at that. He made some rather curious suggestions in the course of his speech. For example, he argued strenuously—and I am inclined to think that we ought to accept his word—that if the money had been sent by Mr. Murray, it would have been sent to him and not to Mr. Valliquette.

Mr. O'Leary was ready to give his assurance of the House in that regard, and I am inclined to think that, according to the well understood usages of parliament, Mr. O'Leary, friend from Portage la Prairie should have accepted this statement. I do not propose to quote any evidence, but to consider certain facts that are uncontradicted, and at least are not seriously disputed.

Woodstock, N. B., April 26.—Mrs. James Maguire, of Kirkland, passed peacefully away last evening, after a lingering illness from dropsy. She was 86 years of age and was survived by her husband and six children.

Mrs. Jabez Snow, of Kirkland, Mrs. Lottie Lawrie and Mrs. Annie Wieseley of Woodstock, Mrs. Murray Estabrook, of Haddon, Charles and Martha, at home, two brothers and four sisters also survive. The funeral will take place tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Maguire.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES
ANOTHER CITIZEN
Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

Woodstock, N. B., April 26.—At the circuit court which opened today before Judge McLeod, the jury in the case of the King vs. J. W. Woolverton, charged with kidnaping Wilbert Demerchant, brought in a true bill. The lawyers present were Solicitor General McCleod, A. B. Connell, J. C. Hartley, W. P. Jones and L. M. Jones.

A. F. Lockhart was foreman of the grand jury. After complimenting the county on its new court house and the jurors for their attendance, His Honor said that there was only one criminal case to be tried.

It appears that in May, 1905 Constable James W. Woolverton was in a house near the boundary line at Houlton. One Wilbert Demerchant had escaped from the American authorities across the line. Defendant with two or three Maine officers visited the house where Demerchant was on this side of the line and the defendant handed him over to the American officers. This was a serious offence for no man matter who he is should be kidnapped across the line. Officers must know that it is a crime that must be punished. If the evidence before the jury is anything like the depositions in his possession the jury should find a true bill.

The grand jury in a short time did bring in a true bill. Upon the indictment being read defendant pleaded guilty.

J. C. Hartley his counsel stated that this action of constables had been going on for a number of years, but this was the first time it reached the courts. He would ask for clemency for his client but besides as shown by a certificate of Dr. Rankin was suffering from an advanced case of diabetes. Judge McCleod gave a light sentence of one month in jail.

The case of Bertha Rouke vs. Sheriff John R. Tompkins and Deputy Wm. Aronson was also on the agenda. W. P. Jones, counsel for plaintiff, and agreed to by J. C. Hartley, counsel for defendants was postponed until the fourth Tuesday in June to which date the court adjourned.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

ANNAPOLIS ROSES ANOTHER CITIZEN Mrs. William Young Died Suddenly in Boston on Sunday—Funerals of Oscar Hardwick and Mrs. Fillet.

DEATH CLAIMS TWO IN CARLETON COUNTY
Mrs. James Maguire of Kirkland Succumbs to Dropsy—Walter A. Hay of Richmond Corner Dead at 78.

Woodstock, N. B., April 26.—Mrs. James Maguire, of Kirkland, passed peacefully away last evening, after a lingering illness from dropsy. She was 86 years of age and was survived by her husband and six children.

Mrs. Jabez Snow, of Kirkland, Mrs. Lottie Lawrie and Mrs. Annie Wieseley of Woodstock, Mrs. Murray Estabrook, of Haddon, Charles and Martha, at home, two brothers and four sisters also survive. The funeral will take place tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Maguire.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

HEAVY FORCE SENT
AGAINST ALBANIANS
Thousands on Each Side Engaged in the Fighting—Abdul Hamid's Men Leading the Revolt?

Constantinople, April 26.—The Albanian rising has again become serious, and the government has decided to dispatch two brigades of reinforcements, one to the Albanian coast and the other to the affected districts from Smyrna and Saloniki. Latest reports say several thousand Albanians attacked the town of Kuchanik and destroyed the Turkish army in Kosovo Plain in Upper Albania. The Albanians then captured Kuchanik and the town of Bilypass. The Albanians then captured Kuchanik and the town of Bilypass.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill to extend for a year the time allowed for the locating of South American claims was discussed this afternoon. The western members, led by Mr. Leighton and Mr. Campbell, addressed the House on the subject.

Mr. O'Leary's bill