CAPT. PAUL HANSEN DESCRIBES FAMOUS BATTLE OF APR. 3

Wounded Officer Is Now in London Nursing Hospital.

CLOUDS OF SMOKE

Enemy Was 30 Yards Away When Canadians Opened Fire.

Captain Paul R. Hansen, a former resident of St. John, who was wounded in the early stages of the famous battle of April 27, has arrived in London and is now in a nursing home for wounded officers. Captain Hansen's story of the battle has been cabled to the Montreal Gazette. Captain Hansen said: "Our regiment (the Royal Montreal) had come out of the trenches and gone back to St. Jean the night before, but next afternoon my company was sent forward as a reserve for the firing line. There was dense clouds of green smoke rolling up from the line. There had been heavy artillery fire all afternoon and we understood there was to be an attack when we saw the gas clouds of which we had already heard."

Entrench in Stream

"I was instructed to take my company to some cross roads above St. Julien and hold them. We got nicely entrenched in a stream with about 200 feet frontage and the enemy had no idea we were there. They came down to the cross roads and got within thirty yards of us before we opened fire. Right behind the stream was a hedge and on seeing that there was a large wedge of Germans, I decided to back up about 100 yards. Holes were cut in the hedge and men began to get through in single file. Lieut. Knabley, at whom the enemy fired, got through as the shots missed him; then I followed and was about two yards on the way through when a bullet caught me in my right thigh. It went clean through. I told the company to go forward and take up their new position, and in the meantime a little bugler (whom I did not recognize) assisted me to crawl to a shell hole, where I lay for two or three hours. The Germans were, for the moment, unopposed, and Private Matthews came back and helped me to get back to St. Julien. When I was taken off the field, Lieut. Brotherhood was in command; he, too, was hit and is missing. Capt. Steele and Lieut. Knabley were hit later on; in fact, as you know, every officer of our company fell a victim. Lieut. Stairs had just come over from Shorecliffe to replace Lieut. English."

Known Here

Captain Hansen was formerly manager of the Dunlop Rubber and Tire Co. branch here and was well known in the city. He joined a Montreal regiment when hostilities broke out and was among those wounded on April 27. He had been in a French hospital for several weeks, but has now been removed to England. He is able to move about with the aid of crutches, but is suffering from pains below the knees although wounded in the thigh.

Couplings for Hydrants.

Commissioner Wigmore expects to arrange for placing a new coupling with valve on several of the city hydrants in order to give service to the watering carts. The new piece of apparatus, will fit on one of the hydrant outlets and an outer thread will be provided for coupling up the watering cart hose. The water will be left on the plug all the time and the watering cart operator will only use the auxiliary.

Commissioner Wigmore said yesterday, that often the threads on the hydrants were injured by being too frequently used. The frequent turning of the main hydrant valve injured it and caused it to leak. It had been intended to erect stand pipes for the filling of water carts but on account of the expense it was considered that the new valve would be better. It is likely that these will be installed within the next few weeks.

OBITUARY.

Edward Lawton.

Mr. Edward Lawton, a typewriter in the Globe press, St. John, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. S. Clarke, Hampton Station, on Monday and was buried this afternoon in the Hampton rural cemetery. A number of his former friends and co-workers came up from St. John to attend the last sad rights.

Meeting in Interest Of 55th Regiment To Be Held Tonight

The campaign for securing recruits for the 55th New Brunswick Battalion was well underway yesterday. An up-town office under Sergeant Stringer was opened at the corner of Mill and Union streets and several more men were sent forward to Camp Sussex to augment the number already there. The recruiting office at the army was also open all day yesterday.

The members of the local committee in charge of the recruiting campaign spent a busy time yesterday, arranging for the first mass meeting here, which will be held in the St. Andrew's rink tonight at eight o'clock. The speakers will be men prominent in the battalions enlisted for overseas duty.

The 52nd Band will meet at seven o'clock and parade from Douglas Avenue Corner to the rink. It is expected that a detachment from the Railway Construction Corps will be there to accompany the band.

The City Cornet Band will play in the King Square stand but will join with the 52nd when it arrives in King street from the North End. Both bands will give selections in the rink.

Major General Lessard, who arrived in the city last evening, will likely be present at the meeting tonight. Lieutenant Colonel Ramsey and Lieutenant Colonel Kirkpatrick will also probably be among the speakers. Complete arrangements for the programme will be completed this morning.

The St. John Glee Club, under Professor Pascoe, will be present and give several selections.

The local committee have asked the co-operation of the local merchants in the work of recruiting. It is hoped that the King street merchants at least will display flags and bunting and thus create more enthusiasm in this patriotic week.

Another suggestion made by the committee was that the different firms display the pictures of men formerly engaged by them but now enlisted. These pictures could be banked with flags and recruiting posters.

Lieutenant Colonel Kirkpatrick, commanding officer of the 55th, passed through the city last night, from Edmondston to Sussex. He reported a successful campaign in the up river district. Captain A. Lesson, the recruiting officer there had secured thirty-one men within a few days and he hoped to have at least fifty before the end of the week. At the meeting tonight, Captain (Chaplain) J. A. MacDonald, of the Ammunition Column, will address the gathering.

There will be a rally at Grand Falls on Monday evening. Pius Michael, M. P., will act as chairman. Prominent military men will deliver addresses. One of the features of the Grand Falls meeting will be the display of pictures and reproductions of recruiting posters.

While the chief business of recruiting is at present to secure men for the 55th Battalion, Lieutenant Colonel B.

PATRIOTIC FUNDS TO BE GIVEN RECEIPTS OF BASEBALL GAME

Plans have been completed for the game to be played Friday afternoon between the newspapermen and the members of the Musical Revue now playing at the Opera House. The event should prove a novel attraction.

In other years games in which the men that write the news have taken part drew large crowds and this year should prove no exception. An additional feature which should draw a crowd is that it has been decided between the members of the team that the receipts of the collection to be taken during the game will be contributed to one of the patriotic funds, so that spectators will have an opportunity of enjoying an afternoon of fun and also of helping one of the worthy causes, all of which need encouragement.

The newspapermen have not yet announced their line-up. The chief obstacle is that a number of the reporters, learning that the ladies of the Revue company intend to occupy seats in the grandstand show an aversion to playing and protest they too prefer to be spectators. However, stringent measures will be enforced and spectators will see nine or more star players.

newspaper men do battle with the Theatians. The actor men say they intend to be becomingly costumed for the occasion, also that some of them will be in make-up—a wise decision, we believe as they will be just as glad to keep their real identity hidden in view of what we intend to do to them. The plans are complete for the game, and some of the conflict will be announced later.

The actors' line-up is as follows: Catcher—"No Count," Clarice Love. Pitcher—"Charlie Chaplin" Shephard.

First base—Marietta Smith. Second base—Rastus Alleyway Whitebone.

Third base—O'Brien O. B. X. Far-num.

Umpire at large—Morton L. Hartson.

"24TH OF MAY CLUB" ORGANIZED IN 1858 HAS ANNUAL OUTING

But Three of The Original Members Are Now Living.

WAS 57th MEETING

Oliver Roswell Arnold, of Sussex, is President and Oldest Member.

A Victoria Day celebration which escaped general attention, but, which, to the participants, proved one of the most interesting of the day was the annual outing of the "24th of May Club." This organization, which is of limited membership, and conducts its meetings annually, held its first outing in 1858 when several small boys decided to celebrate the Queen's Birthday by camping out. The party of that day included Wesley Peters, Reg. Arnold, Ed. Ketchum, Oliver Arnold, George Smith, J. T. C. McKean, William Vroom and an older lad named McCarthy. The outing was held at Welsford, and as one of the participants in that first excursion said yesterday, proved most enjoyable.

More Young Lads.

Possibly it would be difficult to recognize in the lads of that day, the staid citizens who in later years occupied prominent positions in the life of the community, but the survivors of that happy party are authority for the statement that many delightful annual outings were held, and from that day to this, although the membership has changed, every Queen's Birthday celebration was faithfully observed, the latest being on Monday last, when the club members spent an enjoyable day at the summer camp of Arthur T. Thorne.

Only Three Living.

Of the original club members only three are now living. These are A. Wesley Peters of the Standard Life of this city; Oliver Roswell Arnold, of Sussex, the president and oldest member; and Reginald Hether Arnold, also of Sussex, who is club secretary. The members who have died are George F. Smith, John T. C. McKean, Ed. B. Ketchum, Captain McCarthy and W. E. Vroom. As death made vacancies in the organization these were filled by the election of new members, and it was a coveted honor indeed to have one's name added to the club roster. In addition to Mr. Peters and the Messrs. Arnold, the present club membership includes Sir Frederic E. Barker, Senator William H. Thorne, Mr. Joseph R. Stone, Hon. John Douglas Hazen and Mr. Arthur Townsend Thorne.

Social Intercourse.

No special ceremony was fixed for the annual celebrations except that at noon the members gathered and sang the National Anthem. The remainder of the day was spent in social intercourse, and as the years lengthened and the ranks of the original membership were thinned, interesting reminiscences of former delightful gatherings were given an honored place on the programme.

On Monday last, the 57th annual gathering was held, with all the members present except Hon. Mr. Hazen. The day was fine, the company congenial and the outing proved a delightful one. An interesting feature of each gathering is the card of commemoration. This card bears the name of the club, the date of the organization, and of the last gathering and the club mottoes "Dum Vivimus Vivimus" and "Vivat Rex," or in English, "While we live" and "Long Live the King."

Quietly, unadvertised, the "24th of May Club" has enjoyed a length of existence not approached by any other organization in the city, and its members of the present day are of the opinion that it will long continue to bring an annual day of pleasure into their lives.

MISTAKES WE MAKE AND PAY FOR

Our greatest food mistake is eating refined cereals. Human digestive organs are designed to function properly only when food contains plenty of coarse waste. Most modern cereals are deprived of all waste, hence accumulation, fermentation, constipation disease.

While the starch left after refinement may be dainty it cannot nourish. It only heats the body and in excess poisons it.

Because of these facts Dr. Jackson invented Roman Meal, built it from several whole grains into the most perfect ration known.

It's a rich "nut-brown" porridge when properly made without stirring to preserve the granulations, easily made in a double boiler or single boiler. Set in a basin of boiling water. Make thick. Don't stir after making. It won't get "lumpy." Its delicious in pancakes, gums, puddings, cakes, bread. It prevents indigestion. It relieves constipation or "money back." All grocers, 10c. and 25c.

KING COLE TEA

Work is advancing rapidly on the new Y. M. C. A. tennis courts. Earth is being hauled from the new Scovill Bros. site on King street and the work of leveling off is far advanced. On top of this, forty loads of clay will be placed and when finished the Y. M. C. A. will be the proud possessors of two of the best clay-covered courts in the city. In addition the courts will be netted in and will present an attractive appearance.

Further work in connection with the Y.M.C.A. will be the filling in of all the hollows around the building and the erection of outdoor handball court. The former is a work that has for a long time been felt needed by the local association and many will be pleased to learn that it now is to be definitely undertaken.
