

FINE SHOWING OF MEN'S HATS

Fine because like the quality of the hats it excels all others. A man gets the best of it in every way at this Hat Store—best in quality—best showing and best shapes—come and see if you don't.

The 2 T's Special Derby is a shape created for us, but nevertheless you'd think it was one of the standard shapes—$3.00 instead of $3.50 if it were another label.

Correct copies of the Knox, Youman and Young Derbies at $3.00—no difference in shapes whatever and very little in quality.

NEW SOFT HATS

HOME FROM TRIP ABROAD

Dr. McKeough Returned Yesterday Much Improved in Health.

He Chats Entertainingly About Subjects that the British Public are Discussing.

Dr. McKeough returned yesterday from Europe and is looking splendid. His trip has done him a world of good and his friends were all glad to see him come back looking so well. Speaking to The Planet this morning the doctor said:

"Yes, I had a glorious trip. This has been my third trip to Europe and I seem to enjoy the trip the more each time. The world isn't so large that you won't meet somebody you know. At Edinburgh I met Mrs. E. W. Van Allen and her two children, and in all the places of interest I visited I saw the signatures of Dr. Battisby, Miss Battisby, Mr. and Mrs. Manson Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Stone, in the visitors' book, but I was not fortunate enough to catch up with the Chatham party. They are booming Canada in England, and you will hear Canada spoken of fifty times now where you never heard this good Dominion mentioned before. The prosperity of this country seems to be the general subject of conversation in England just now. There is always a large crowd gathered around the windows of the Canadian emigrant office, where are exhibits of Canadian products. The crush is so great that the police have to move the crowd along. It will take some time for the people to become educated to Chamberlain's new fiscal policy, if they ever do. Scotland is very much opposed to it. Even the Conservatives do not favor it. It is pretty certain that Chamberlain's policy will not carry, and it will take a long time to get the people to it. The election in Argyleshire showed that the agricultural section is opposed to it, and manufacturing places are of the same opinion. I learned this in conversation with some of the leading manufacturers of Glasgow."

The British bound question is being discussed freely by the newspapers. While hoping that the commission will not decide against Canada the British people are resting content in the expectation that it will increase the friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain. This latter seems to be the paramount desire of Englishmen generally just now.

"I was greatly impressed with Germany. This was my first visit to that country and I must say that they are doing a beautiful job. Chitcheatry, clean and sanitary, and the people are industrious and skilled. The large manufacturing plants are nearly all in small places, and this assists in making the cities clean and bright. Canada ought to be able to get more emigrants from Germany. The foreign office in the empire, the Kaiser is alive to the progress of Canada and are gathering information as to the resources of this Dominion. I met a gentleman from Winnipeg in Berlin, who, at the request of the German foreign office, had spent several days there giving information about Western Canada. It is to be hoped that the tariff war between Germany and Canada will soon be settled. The Germans are a clever people and there should be nothing allowed to happen that is likely to in any way retard the migration of German citizens to Canada."

"Put out the fire in a hot, itching skin with Weaver's Cerate. Use it for eczema, nettle rash, tetter and salt rheum. It relieves pain and removes disfigurement."

Dogs came as far as the doorway to see the excitement, found out what was doing, and became infuriated, fighting among themselves.

Proprietor J. A. Wilson Saturday night when closing left the transom open; he also left nine sections of honey on the counter. This morning when he arrived to open up there were thousands upon thousands of bees on the counter, and when Beaman A. D. Patterson had swept a thousand of two out, it was found there was not a smell of honey in the sections.

Mr. Patterson said this was the time of year the bees wandered around looking for sweetness and likely belonged to several different parties. Mr. Wilson in the meantime expects to get rid of his visitors in a week's time. The nine sections of honey in the comb were stripped of the honey and nothing but the wax was left.

BEES AND BEES

J. A. Wilson's Store Raided by the Little Honey Gatherers—Make Life Interesting for the Clerks.

Zizz! Zizz!
"Ouch! Ouch! Oh gee! I'm stung!"
"Why, what have you got here?"
"Hully smoke, the shop's full of bees," "casually" remarked a shopper at J. A. Wilson's Queen St. grocery Saturday afternoon.

It was a fact; the store was full of honey bees, swarming in and out around the doors and windows. The clerks and proprietor were stung several times and customers occasionally complained of bad usage, and a number of the latter insisted on being waited upon out of doors.

Dogs came as far as the doorway to see the excitement, found out what was doing, and became infuriated, fighting among themselves.

TROUBLE FOR ONE

Sad Matrimonial Mix-up of a Young Farmer From Raleigh—Perjury Charged.

Harry Crossby, a young colored man, of Raleigh, N. C., is in trouble, and like all troubles, there is a woman at the bottom of it. Crossby married Emma Wellington, last week, and now Crossby is in the toils as a result of that wedding. It is alleged by the girl's father that she is only 16, whereas when Crossby got the marriage license he swore the girl was 18 years old. Now the young groom, who acknowledges he is 20 years old, finds himself in serious trouble, being charged with perjury. Crossby says that the girl told him she was 18 years old and that he had was well satisfied till some others interfered and turned Mr. Wellington. He blames knockers for the sad termination of his happy honeymoon. Crossby was arraigned this morning and released on $200 bail furnished by Crossby, Sr.

The Scotsman on Seizure of British Islands.

New York, Sept. 14.—The Evening Post has the following from London.—News of the British official representations to Washington regarding the seizures of islands off Borneo had a calming effect upon the British, and especially upon the Scottish commercial interests involved. The Scotsman, which is still Scotland's first journal, was quite nasty in its tone yesterday. It said that it passed the wit of man to understand how such a seizure could be made in error, and added: "Let any one try to imagine what would have been said if a British warship, even by inadvertence, had seized a fragment, no matter how small, of one of the new American protectorates, if the mistake had been repeated in the course of six weeks, as this American mistake has been repeated! There would have been a shout for war. The claim to have the supreme say in the western hemisphere should make American commanders more than usually chary and cautious in snapping up unconsidered trifles of islands or other territory in the other half of the world, where the ground, for the most part, has been long ago appropriated. They cannot imagine that, while claiming the new hemisphere as in principle an American preserve, they may seize what they have a mind to in the old. Blunders like those reported in Sandakan and Darvel Bay might be overlooked as due to inexperience in the art of annexation, but if they should be repeated often they will seem to have a method in them."

BRITISH TRANSPORT LOST?

Ship Conveying Regiment to India Said to Have Foundered.

London, Sept. 14.—An unconfirmed rumor is current that a transport carrying a British regiment to India foundered in the gale which swept the British coast last Thursday.

LOSS OF THE MERSEY.

Verdict Holding Connolly, Gagnon and Barras Responsible.

London, Sept. 14.—The inquest on the victims of the disaster to the tug Mersey, which foundered on the lower St. Lawrence, a month ago, while en route to Seven Islands, terminated at Sandy Bay, Matine county, when a verdict was rendered holding Michael Connolly, proprietor; Hypolite Gagnon, captain, and Barras, second mate of the Mersey, responsible for the death of the five victims. Warrants have been sworn out against Connolly, Gagnon and Barras.

Burglars at Sault Ste. Marie.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Sept. 12.—The office of Speers & Anderson's cold-storage warehouse was entered by burglars during last night and the safe blown open, apparently by nitroglycerine. The office was considerably damaged from the explosion, and the safe completely wrecked. The work was apparently that of professionals, who secured nothing for their trouble.
