SALT AS A FERTILIZER.—An inquirer of the New York Tribune wanted to know how much salt can be used per acre with benefit, to which Prof. S. W. Johnson gives the scientific answer as follows:—"As to the quantity that may be applied per acre, that depends upon the crop and the climate. On asparagus several hundred bushels may be used without harm. On sugar beets, and tobacco, large applications will often promote growth sometimes wonderfully; but the beets will not yield their sugar, and the tobacco will not make good smoke. On grain crops five to fifteen bushels per acre, and in England larger quantities have been used. More can be safely employed in moist climates or seasons than in dry. Ten bushels perhaps the happy medium adapted for an experimental trial."
