How many of our readers are aware that King Edward is a clergyman of the Church of England in good standing, being prebendary of St. David's in Wales, under a salary of $5 a year, and entitled to preach one sermon a year in the Cathedral.

Rushen Abbey. — The Rev. J. M. Spicer, Malew Vicarage, Ballasalla, Isle of Man, calls attention to the desirability of saving what remains of the old Rushen Abbey in that parish. This ancient ecclesiastical building with the hotel which has been built in the Abbey grounds, is available, and as Vicar of parish he

"We find that the ale uniformly and well agreed with the patients, that it stimulated the appetite, and thereby increased nutrition. The taste, likewise, is always highly spoken of. This old Abbey was used for religious purposes up to the year 1541. It is now used as a public-house, and is in danger of complete destruction.

Admission of Lay Clerks at Gloucester.—The six Lay Clerks of Gloucester Cathedral have recently been formally admitted to the Foundation of the Cathedral in order of seniority of service, their admission to date back to the time of their respective appointments. The Gloucester Diocesan Magazine says:—"We understand that the admission of the Lay Clerks to the Cathedral Foundation is in accordance with a statute of Henry VIII. 'for better rule and government of the Cathedral Church of Gloucester,' passed in the thirty-sixth year of his reign, but that for between forty and fifty years the Lay Clerks who have been appointed under agreements have not been so admitted. They will now be entitled to a pension, subject to regulations prescribed by the Dean and Chapter and to the right and proper fulfilment of their duties. They are permitted to wear the choir trencher or mortar-board hat. They also become eligible for admission to the Choir Benevolent Fund.

and had offered to you ten properties, very similar, save that one cost less than any of the others and was, moreover, certain to increase in value to a greater degree than the others—would you hesitate in your decision? Applied to Life Insurance, such a property is offered in the policies of The Great-West Life Assurance Company. The cost of The Great-West Policies is lower and the profit returns to Policyholders higher than obtainable elsewhere. In a word, The Great-West Policies give better value.
