He left the city at prohibited hours. Referred to Judge Dugas to prepare an ordinance. The question of caring for the indigent sick for the ensuing year came up, and it was decided to ask the hospitals how many beds they would place at the disposal of the government for sick patients, for the consideration of a payment to be determined upon after a conference, and said payment to cover a period of

It is believed by some with whom a NUGGET man talked that Mr. Tarte, upon learning the condition of things here, will give up his pro-ject and conform his plans to the situation. They set up that the wharves and warehouses were constructed in good faith and at a great expense, and that their removal now would entail heavy losses upon the investors and companies. Others, however, entertain an opposite view and say that Mr. Tarte will insist on the government plan going through, despite the obstacles. He will be able to find some color for this attitude in the statements of Commissioner Ogilvie, who represents the present lessees of the water front as being much in the nature of squatters. "The lessees have no vested rights to the water front," he said to a NUGUET man Wednesday. "They were allowed to put up their wharves with the distinct understanding and condition that it meets with the approval of the government at Ottawa, and no other way." Mr. Tarte's next move in the matter will be watched with interest by the people of Daw-son, who have seen the water front already fied in their mining certificates; but people who live in communities, and who do not follow mining, are obliged to take out a domeitle though there is no embargo upon the use of the hook an i line. A commercial license costs $20, and is intended for people who catch fish for the market. As is the case in the states, aliens cannot secure commercial licenses.

War on Bad Egg. Dr. Goode and Corporal Wilson this week in-augurated a crusade against diseased hen fruit, and the success which they met with earned the everlasting gratitude of their fellow citizens. Among the places visited was a scow owned by one Henderson, where they found and destroyed an almost endless number of rotten eggs. Henderson delivered a long dissertation on his knowledge of the business, the care he devoted to his stock, etc., and wound up by swallowing two of the eggs which the officers had declared to be bad. The exhibition was eminently successful so far as Henderson was concerned, but the odor emitted by the eggs all but turned the stomachs of the other two, who exhibited their skepticism by putting Henderson under arrest. Later he was taken before Colonel Steele, who fined him $10 and costs. The officers also cou-fiscated and destroyed a stock of eggs found at Nellie Cashman's place; out of eight eggs broken by them, every one was found to be bad,
