Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—At the Montreal Stock Yards (west end market), the receipts of live stock for the week ending Oct. 18, were 328 cattle, 355 sheep and lambs, 402 hogs and 733 calves. Supplies this morning for local consumption consisted of 1200 cattle, 1900 sheep and lambs, 1000 hogs and 400 calves. Owing to the colder weather and the fact that the efferings of cattle were fully 200 head smaller than a week ago, a firmer feeling developed in the market and prices for some grades were 10c to 20c per cwt. higher, and the prospects are that still higher figures will rule later on. There were several Quebec buyers on the market, who wanted cattle, but on account of the increased prices demanded they did not operate as freely as usual. The demand from local butchers and jobbers was good and an active trade was done and there were also some small lots taken by exporters to complete shipments with. Cable advices from Liverpool on Saturday reported trade in cattle slow, but noted no change in prices from a week ago; choice beeves here sold at 4.35 to 45; 504; common, at $2.50 to $3; and canners, at $1.25 to $1.50 per cwt. Receipts, Montreal Live Stock Many people used to have an impression that to sleep on a soft bed had, a spice of wickedness in it and that the harder the mattress the greatthat the harder the mattress the greater the virtue of the sleeper.

This arose in great part from the fact that feather beds were generally condemned as unhealthy, and the ignorant at once seized the idea that they were unhealthy because work ago, for which there continues to be an active local and export demand, they were unhealthy because work ago, for which there continues to be an active local and export demand, they were unhealthy because they do not permit of proper ventilation.

BUILDINGS DEMOLISHED

London, Oct. 22.—Prolonged earthquake slocks beginning at 5 o'clock yesterday morning and lasting for several hours have been recorded on the instruments on the Isle of Wight, and at Laibach, Austria. The distance of the disturbance is estimated at over 3,000 miles. Telegrams received here from St. Petersburg report earth shocks in Central Asia, at Lattajurgan, Samarakand, Khokand, and elsewhere, which caused the injury or collapse of many buildings. At Samarakand the shocks lasted intermittently from early morning until yesterday afternoon. Two women were killed by falling houses, and the population of Samarakand is now camping out.

States Circuit Court of Appeals were discussed yesterday.
The principal argument is that the Government attorneys failed to inform the defence of the Alton immunity agreement. 2. That' the Elkins Act, under which the conviction was secured, was unconstitutional. 3. That as the Hepburn Act was passed before indictments were returned, prosecution under the provisions of the Elkins law was illegal. 4. That Judge Landis did not compute the number of violations correctly. 5. That the Standard Oil Co. accepted the rates in question with the understanding that they were authorized rates.

They were finally obliged to open fire on the mutineers, with shotguns, but they fired low and only one Chinaman was killed. Nineteen were wounded and many were arreated. LIGHTING UP NIAGARA

FAMOUS FALLS ABLAZE WITH COUNTLESS HUES BY NIGHT.

fagnificent Spectacle-Electric Plant Illumines Scene Hitherto Shrouded After Sunset-Huge Searchlights of Many Colors Enhance Beauty of of Nature's Great Show-Thousands

All the folks of Niagara Falls crossed the river into Canada on a recent evening to see their great water falls illuminated by J. Il5,000,000 candle power. The figures sound big, but they are accurate and in keeping with all the other statistics concerning Niagara, says a Niagara Falls correspondent of The New York Post.

The procession over the border was led, at least figuratively, by Anthony C. Douglass, mayor of the city of Niagara Falls. He brought about the illumination as an experiment. If his people approve, the New York town will buy the plant for $100,000 and will maintain it as a municipal enterprise at a cost of about $3,000 a year. To be perfectly frank, it is to be a great spectacular advertisement for Niagara Falls and the nearby places on the Canadian side.

W. D'A. Ryan, the illuminating engineer of the General Electric Co., is the man who has done this thing. He evidently anticipated objection and explained that he had never lost sight of Niagara as it is and headn't for one moment thought he could improve upon it. He simply sought to continue nature's great show after dark. He promises, and so does Mayor Douglass, that no brand of whisky or patent medicine shall ever be fiashed upon the cascade or worked out in colored lights upon the clouds of mist. So, after all, the illumination does not cheapen America's great Niagara. It merely cheate the night by turning it into day all up and down the gorge. It gives wonderful timts to the falls themselves and to the vapor above them. The sensational feature of the night light is that it is concentrated on the locaning waters of the American and Canadian falls, making them stand out dasslingly distinct against the blackness of the grim rock cliffs between and on the outer sides.

The batteries of illumination consist of fifty powerful searchlights equipped with both thrity inch and sixty inch projectors and operated by electrical engines of 300 horsepower. Their combined light is the equivalent of that of light visible for 125 miles.

All the rest of t

Suit Against Pharmacy Company.

Ottawa, Oct 22.—The Pharmaceutical Association of the Province of Quebec have instituted proceedings against the Modern Pharmacy Co. of Hull for $10,500.

They claim that as the company have been selling drugs without the authorization of the association, these sales are illegal, and allege that the company have been employing unlicensed clerks, as well as making sales of certain drugs without keeping records.

The association sue for $25 a day damages on each store, or $10,500 in all.

Bridal Veil. No color showed at first, and nothing could be a purer white than that huge wall of foam plunging 157 feet down the face of rock. Between the big falls and the smaller cascade to the right, known as the Bridal Veil, the naked rock stood out gray and grim, with every crevice revealed by the fearful glare to the watchers across the river.

Then a bread band of the white foam suddenly turned to red, with a rose-tinted cloud of mist above it mingling with the white vaper. Gradually the red rays suffused the whirlpool below, and then their light made its way up the river against the rash of water and climbed into the smoother water of the Horseshoe.

Somebody said "a river of blood," but the remark wasn't as obvious as it might seem to have been. The effect was too beautiful to suggest anything horrible.

Green, orange, blue and violet tints followed, and then all were blended. A score of rainbows spanned the river and changing their combinations of color as the rays were turned from one cloud of mist to another.

And, finally, when the batteries were turned from the American to the Canadian falls, huge vertical prisms of light stalked along the heights, illuminating a dense growth of woodland and appearing as so many ghosts among the trees.

Bagged Four Bears.

An exciting bear chase occurred near Mr. McMurrich's island, Lake Joseph, recently. Some ladies noticed what they thought at a distance were ducks swimming in the water, but it was soon discovered they were a size bear and three well-grown cubs. Sending word to the gentlemen of the party, the ladies rowed over to the bears and beaded them off from Yohe Island, and the gentlemen, speedily following, were successful in securing the whole bag.
