A "Public Speaker" of Oratory.
One of the mistaken theories is that a "public speaker" is necessary to the success of any public affair. This theory had its rise at a time when oratory was a fad. Orators were cultivated, and they were supposed to take human passions in their hands and toy with them. In this practical age public speakers are a bore, and nobody cares anything about them. People gather to be entertained and not lectured. But, this theory having been established that a "public speaker" is important to a picnic, an orator is hauled out and set loose on a few old gentlemen with canes and a few mothers who must occupy the benches in taking care of the children.

Shot an Angel.
Now and again we hear of strange and rare birds being shot in England, but how many sportsmen except Mr. Wells' clergyman can claim to have shot an angel? One such man exists, though it is doubtful whether he is proud of his skill. It was nighttime, and he was passing Crayford parish churchyard with his gun over his shoulder when he saw what he took for a ghost. He leveled his piece and fired, but his aim was wild. He had failed to wing his quarry. Investigation showed that the ghost was a sculptured angel on a tomb, and he had shot off one of its toes!—London Chronicle.

HEALTH FOR RUN-DOWN WOMEN

From the experience of Mrs. John Panke, Saskatoon, nothing compares with Ferrozone. "At times I was confined to my bed and couldn't do any work. I was run down in flesh, lost strength, my appetite failed, my color was pallid. Weak and cast down, it seemed I couldn't catch up. Ferrozone started a new kind of life in my blood, built me up, vitalized and strengthened my nerves, and finally cured my heart and stomach pain." Ferrozone is a rebuilding that has special virtue in female ailments. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes; try Ferrozone.

Way For Religious Peace

Paris, Jan. 19.—The text of the French episcopate's address to the Pope, made public yesterday, contains a protest against the "violations of the most sacred rights of the church," and declares that "religious peace can only be restored by respect for the hierarchy, the inviolability of property and full religious liberty."

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so-called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

It has cost Dr. Pierce $25,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which have been applied for. This book of 1008 pages sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs.

FAMOUS PEACE TROPHY

ORIGIN OF NOBEL PRIZE AWARDED TO PRESIDENT OF U. S.

Prize is as Likely to Go to Person in a Comparatively Humble Position as to One Who Occupies Exalted Station—Once Went to an Innate of a Home For the Aged—Design of Alfred Nobel, the Inventor.

In 1906 the Nobel peace prize was awarded to President Theodore Roosevelt for his services in bringing the Russo-Japanese war to an end. The prize is as likely to go to a person in a comparatively humble position as to one who occupies a post of high rank or enjoys exalted station. The sole test is achievement of some important step toward universal peace and good will among men. The prize consists of a diploma, a medal and 138,536 crowns ($37,127.65).

Five years ago the peace prize went to a man comparatively unknown and so poor that he was at the time an inmate of a home for the aged. This was Henry Dunant. "Who is Dunant?" asked some one when the report of the award of the prize to him was published, and the reply was, "He founded the Red Cross." "Then," said the questioner, "he must be a saint." And so he has been regarded, for he spent a fortune in getting the nations to treat the wounded as neutrals and recognize the work of his society, and in his old age, infirm, almost blind and unable longer to make a living, he was almost forgotten. But when the honor of the Nobel peace prize came to him, with its accompanying sum of money, an amount ample to supply his needs for the balance of his days, he felt himself fully rewarded for all his sacrifices.

The Nobel prizes are unique among institutions of their kind. They were established by Alfred Nobel, the Swedish engineer, and it is a singular coincidence that the man who instituted the great prize for the encouragement of peace should have been the inventor of that most deadly agency of warfare, dynamite, and the first manufacturer on a large scale of smokeless powder. There is a seeming inconsistency in the thought that a man who so much loved peace should have devoted his life to making the materials of war, but Nobel believed that the best way to abolish war is to make warfare as terrible as possible by means of the most murderous inventions. He regarded his own inventions as many steps toward the goal of disarmament. It was Nobel's ambition to bring the Scandinavian peninsula into closer intellectual touch with the rest of Europe. He belonged to a family prominent in Sweden for the past century, but was brought up in Russia and educated at St. Petersburg. He did not believe in leaving great fortunes to relatives, though he gave much to deserving members of his family during his lifetime. At his death in 1896, he bequeathed his fortune, amounting to nearly $9,000,000, for the support of five great annual prizes, each valued at nearly $400,000. These were to be awarded for the most important discoveries in physics, in chemistry and in physiology or hygiene, for the most distinguished work of an idealistic character in literature and for the best effort toward the fraternity of the nations and the promotion of universal peace. The last named prize is awarded by the Norwegian Storting, the others being conferred by various institutions at Stockholm, Sweden. In 1906 the peace prize went to the Baroness Bertha von Suttner, author of "Down With Arms." The year previous it was awarded to William Randall Cremer, secretary of the International Arbitration League and a member of the British Parliament. In 1902 it was conferred on Prof. Frederick de Martens of The Hague tribunal, who advised the Russian commissioners in the peace conference at Portsmouth. In 1901 it was won by Dunant. Mr. Cremer devoted his prize money to promote the work of the International Arbitration League. Mr. Roosevelt has announced that he will use the money he will receive to establish at Washington a permanent industrial peace committee with the view of maintaining peace in the industrial world, which he regards as equal in importance to maintaining peace between the nations.

An Embarrassing Present.
Dr. W. G. Grace, the famous English cricketer, has been the recipient of many gifts from lovers of cricket as tangible proofs of their admiration of his prowess. Some of them have been remarkable in character, but perhaps the most embarrassing gift he ever received was one of three young pigs which a Worcestershire farmer sent to him in recognition of a great batting feat which he had witnessed.

High Finance.
"Say," began Burroughs, "lend me a five, will you?"
"See here," replied Markley. "If you'd only save your own money you wouldn't have to borrow from your friends."
"But by borrowing from my friends I do save my own money."

Sleep.
Now blessings light on him that first invented sleep. It covers a man all over, thoughts and all, like a cloak; it is meat for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, heat for the cold and cold for the hot—Cervantes.

Quite Different.
He—But I thought you'd forgiven me for that and promised to forget it!
She—Yes; but I didn't promise to let you forget I'd forgiven it!

THE ORIGIN OF GALL STONES

They are simply dried bile, made up of dry gall constituents of that fluid. Very common in this disease among merchants, clerical men, shopgirls and those of sedentary habits. Prevention consists in maintaining correct action of the liver and bowels, which is best accomplished by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. No person using this medicine need fear gall stones, nor will they ever be bilious. Sound digestion, good appetite, a clear color will evidence the health-giving properties of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are the safest and best for general family use. CLERKS' HOURS IN GERMANY

An Effort to Do Away With the Long Midday Interval.

A discussion is going on in commercial circles in Germany regarding the respective merits of the English and German systems of arranging the hours of work in banks, company offices and big business houses.

It has always been customary in Germany for clerks and accountants and all workers of this class to begin work considerably earlier than in the case in England and to terminate work in the evening much later than is usual in London. Work begins in German offices, as a rule, at 8 o'clock in the morning and is frequently not concluded before 8 o'clock in the evening. Partial compensation for the early beginning and late termination is obtained by taking a two hours' pause at midday, but even with this break the total hours worked in German offices considerably exceed those in English offices, especially as a half holiday Saturday is still an exceptional arrangement in Germany.

An agitation is now going on for the abolition of the long midday interval and of the introduction of the hours of work usual in English offices. Many German business men, however, resist the innovation and persist in maintaining the old fashioned system.

Many German stockbrokers, company directors, directors of banks and captains of industry adopt a curious arrangement by which they dine at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and afterward return to their offices from 6 till 8 o'clock in the evening.

Those Germans who have practical experience of office work in England are unanimous in declaring that English clerks do just as much in six or seven hours as German clerks in nine or ten hours and advance this as a strong argument in favor of the general adoption of the English hours of work in offices.

A few of the big banks in Berlin have already got as far as a working day of eight hours, from 9 o'clock in the morning till 5 o'clock in the afternoon, with two hours' leave Saturday, when they close at 3 o'clock.—Berlin Letter in London Standard.

Electricity in the Home

In a $3,000 or $4,000 home it is a very common matter to wire for electric lights, but by giving the subject a little further attention with your electrical contractor and the architect it is possible to arrange outlets for lighting socket heating devices at very little extra expense. Such receptacles would be taken off from the lighting wires in a very simple manner. The cost of operating later at lighting rates would not be large, for the reason that the electrical devices which will be used on such a circuit consume only a small amount of electricity and are generally used for only short intervals. They would comprise, for example, the chafing dish, the coffee percolator, heating pad, cigar lighter, shaving mug, curling iron, baby milk warmer, small frying pan and many others.—Cassell's Magazine.

A Bale of Cotton

In order to see how far a certain bale of cotton was shipped before being manufactured into goods W. H. Parks, Jr., of Ennis, Tex., placed a note in a bale which was shipped in the autumn of 1905 asking the person who finally received and opened it to write to him and tell him where the cotton was used and what price was paid. The bale traveled many thousands of miles, as is shown by this letter, which Mr. Parks received recently from Reval, Russia, which is situated on the Baltic sea:

Reval, Russia, Aug. 22 (Sept. 5).
The bale of cotton in which your letter and bank memorandum were found was received at the Baltic mill, Reval, Russia, via Bremen, bought from Gebruder Fritz of that city at 6.5d. a pound.

A Tree Freak

A rare proof of the vitality of certain trees is offered by a poplar in the village of Gunten, on the Lake of Thurgau. When, about twenty years ago, a fountain was placed before the post-office building of that place the builders used for a shank and girder of the water conduit a young poplar trunk which they drove into the ground and in which the pipe was inserted. After a short time the trunk began to throw out shoots, and today it is a tall tree, with heavy foliage. The water pipe is now completely overgrown, and it is a strange sight to see a jet of water stream forth from the interior of the uninjured tree.

Chinese Pirates

When Chinese pirates are caught and convicted they speedily pay the penalty of their crimes. A newspaper of the far east publishes this bit of news: "Seven of the pirates who took part in the attack on the river steamer Salm were beheaded in Canton. The prisoners were brought on to the ground in baskets, from which they were immediately released. They were then made to kneel in a row. Promptly on the stroke of 12 the executioners took up their positions in front of the doomed men and cut off their heads in very quick succession, to the accompaniment of loud shouts from the Chinese spectators."

Balloon Ropes

A New York concern has begun the manufacture of a specially made rope for balloon purposes. One prominent aeronaut has given it an order for 60,000 feet. Here are these explorers of the faithless upper regions have been compelled to import the rope needed for their excursions. The kind now being made in America is hand spun from the finest Italian fiber and laid up with the utmost care so as to produce the greatest possible tensile strength with a minimum weight.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will staghorn the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, but one that grows back to flesh again. That is impossible! But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfect, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I can cure all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend Fractured His Skull.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—William Johnstone, aged 65, of 7 Lima place, called on his friend the watchman at the St. Lawrence Foundry last night. While on his way home he fell into an excavation at Berkeley and Front streets and fractured his skull. He was taken to St. Michael's.

Hon. W. T. Hamley Dead.

ARE YOU SUBJECT TO STIFFNESS

Perhaps it is in the neck or shoulder. First thing is a good rub with Nervilleine. No more speedy remedy can be adopted. When applied to the muscles Nervilleine gives them flexibility and vigor; inflammation, soreness and stiffness disappear. "Whether in the chest or throat nothing can surpass Nervilleine," writes O. B. Deaton, Lumber Merchant at Oak Bay, N. B. "Rubbed on at night, the trouble is gone by morning. I have proved Nervilleine a great medicine." Everyone says the same, and Nervilleine always makes good. 25c. bottles sold everywhere.

The Extinct Mammoth

Perhaps the most notable native bird of the Sandwich Islands was the mammoth, which has been extinct comparatively only a few years. It had two little tufts of yellow feathers on its wings, which were used exclusively in the manufacture of cloaks worn by the kings of those islands. The estimated value of one of the cloaks is $200,000, and it took an almost indefinite number of birds to furnish the feathers.—London Times.

STOMACH MEDICINE IS USELESS

Impossible to cure catarrh in the nose by dosing the stomach. Send the healing vapor of Catarrhazone after the germs and you at once accomplish good. Any case of catarrh is curable—all that's necessary is to inhale Catarrhazone; you stop hawking, no trills are cleared, throat is healed and freed of phlegm; every vestige of the trouble is forever driven from the system. If you want permanent cure for catarrh, throat trouble or bronchitis, Catarrhazone is a stand-by. Two sizes, 25c. and $1.00, at all dealers.

No Sweethearting in Ireland

Through a great part of Ireland public opinion, molded by the clergy, separates the sexes as far as possible. At the church door and wherever else they congregate men group on one side, women on the other. It is not well thought of for people of opposite sexes to be seen walking along the road together even to a market. The position certainly of some ecclesiastics has been made definite by the refusal of certain bishops to allow "mixed classes" in branches of the Gaelic league. On the whole, public opinion disapproves whatever can be justly or even unjustly set down as sweethearting.
