TOO GREAT A RISK.

In aimost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Biarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. ommy's Thoughts Were Else but He Could Guess.

"There is a sentimental Tommy in almost every school," said Michael King of Lewiston as he leaned over the counter of his cafe on Main street and cut a luscious pumpkin pie. "There was one in our school when I was a boy. He was Tommy Frazier, and he was a mighty smart little fellow, but he never had his lessons. He knew where every bird nested, where the May flowers grew the thickest and where the high top sweetings fell first; but, bless you, he couldn't remember his lessons was critical in many matters too. He knew all that was passing in the politics of the state and nation, but he was off in his history lesson. One day he came in late and couldn't keep his thoughts on his book. On his way to school he had seen a big mud turtle by the side of the track, and he had to put a big rock on him to hold him till night, and his anxiety lest the turtle should get away blinded his eyes. He hoped that somehow the teacher would pass him over. He listened to the other children reciting, with a big mud turtle crawling away before his eyes with a rock on his back, but finally the teacher's eyes fell on him.

"Tommy Frazier, what battle was Lord Nelson killed in?"

"Tommy was in despair, but he found way.
"'Did you say Lord Nelson?' he asked cautiously. 'Yes.' "'Which battle?'

" 'Yes, certainly.' "'Well,' said Tommy as the light of inspiration broke over him-well, I specks it must have been his last."

It was in a country school, an I was hearing my little second reader class. The lesson that day was a story about files, their curious ways and habits. Among other things the story said that flies always kept their faces clean and then went on to tell how they rubbed their feet over their heads, as could often be seen by watching them. The last thing in the lesson was the question, "What lessons can boys and girls learn from the flies?" I asked the children to answer the question. Only one small boy ven tured an answer, and that was, "To wash our faces with our feet."-Christian Register.

after shaking hands with his host and taking a basty glance at the other "your wife is jealous of you!" "By George, Holmes, you're a wonder! I've never told a soul about it, and I don't believe she has. How did you find it out?"

"Merely one of my wonderful de-ductions, my dear sir. It's very simple. I see she has invited only old ladies and bomely ones."—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE BEST LINIMENT.

"I have derived great benefit from the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism and lumbago," says Mrs. Anna Hagelgans, of Tuckahoe, N. J. "My husband used it for a sprained back and was also quickly relieved. In fact it is the best family liniment f have ever used. I would not think of being without it. I have recommended it to many and they always speak very highly of it and declare its merits are wonderful." For sale by all druggists.

A NOTED HORSEMAN'S EXPERI-ENCE.

Mr. Antoine Wendling, owner of Deveras, 2.111-4, and proprietor of the Clifton House, Brockville, says no liniment compares with Nerviline for general use around the stable. For strains, sprains, swellings, internal pains, and especially for affections of the whirl bone Nerviline is unequalled. Mr. Wendling believes Nerviline is indispensable as a horse liniment; it has strength, penetrating power and works thoroughly. Every horse and stock owner should use Nerviline.
