The Irish Question.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—Have we not enough problems of our own which need our best energies and attention? How would we take it if Canada or the U. S. butted into our local problems of fish, education, etc.

The following extract from the London Globe might convey some ideas to the local enthusiasts on this subject. Hope you will be good enough to insert it.

Yours truly,
COSMOPOLITAN.

Dec. 9, 1920.

LONDON GLOBE IS ANGRY AT EXPENSE OF UNITED STATES.

London.—Very little attention has been paid here to the so-called American Commission to investigate the Irish question, sponsored by a New York weekly paper, as dispatches from America have made it clear that the "commission" has no official standing.

Sir Edward Carson, who was one of many asked to testify before the commission, sent a reply declining the invitation, feeling certain, he said, "that all true Americans who desire close friendship between their country and ours would resent such unwarranted interference with the affairs of a foreign friendly state."

The Globe prints Carson's reply with a commentary editorially entitled "Damned Impudence."

"Let Americans," adds the Globe, "mind their own business and leave us to mind ours. They have quite enough to do at home; for a country which before the war had, and for aught that has appeared to the contrary, still has, the highest record of murders and homicides of any civilized state in the world, a record surpassing even that of Turkey, to affect to teach us how to manage our own affairs borders upon the ludicrous."

"We are a long-suffering and very patient people, but it is just as well that Americans should understand at once that we will not have our rule in Ireland, and the integrity of the British Empire, made pawns in an exceedingly dirty game of American politics."

"It has not occurred to us to issue commissions on the policy of the American Government toward Mexico, or the administration of the water cure to the wretched natives of the Philippines. We are not even proposing to inquire into the system which makes the gift of the franchise to the negroes in the southern States a tragic farce, and when all American mob burns two or three helpless negroes alive we address no demonstrations or reproaches to Washington."

"When we want American advice on the government of Ireland we will ask for it. At present we think we know rather more about the matter than they do and are a great deal more competent to deal with it than the most self-centered and, on foreign affairs, the worst-informed nation in the world."

City hills and inclines are in a slippery and dangerous condition frequently at this time of the year. We would recommend a good strong stick with a spear in the end of it to prevent broken limbs. BISHOP, SON'S & CO., LTD., Men's Furnishing Dept. has a very large collection of sticks at reasonable prices, with and without spears. For persons who will call now there are some good sticks as low priced as one dollar each.

Christmas !!!

Christmas !!! No season so looked forward to by young and old, no other so well-loved, none so merry. Full to the last happy minute of joy, laughter and music. The smallest cottage, the largest mansion has within its walls Christmas music, or Christmas would lack one of its greatest sources of amusement and happiness.

Why not let "Columbia" supply your Xmas music? Why not let your gift to your friends be some worth-while offering of a nice selection of good records? Why be without Christmas music when Columbia Grafonolas bring good music within the reach of all? Think it over, and let this 'sound' advice sink in.

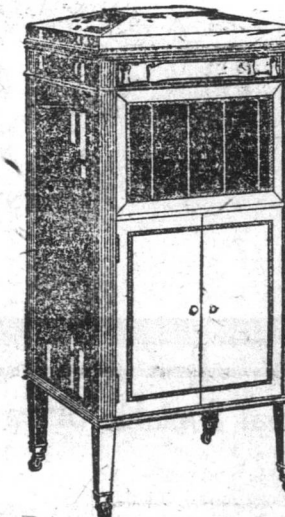

The Columbia Graphophone Co. take a pride in adding to their already famous list of singers and instrumentalists all the world's best artists as soon as humanly possible. The most famous operatic stars, most wonderful violinists, pianists, cellists, the most beautiful 'grouped' music, ALL that the musical world proclaims the BEST is re-produced, and placed within the reach of the humblest music lover.

The United States Picture & Portrait Co.—the Colony's representatives of the Columbia Graphophone Co.—beg to announce to the music-loving public of St. John's that they carry in their Grafonola Dept., at the present time, over 10,000 "Columbia" records of all descriptions.

One of the most popular models, simple and dignified in build. Beautiful rich tone quality and exceptional volume. Equipped with three-spring motor. In Fumed or Golden Oak. Price $100.00.

L--2.

Apart from its exquisite perfection of reproduction, this handsome Cabinet Grafonola is a joy to the eye in its austere beauty of line and build. It is fitted with the Columbia non-set automatic stop. Finished in English Brown Mahogany with Satinwood Marqueterie. Price $360.00.

A Good Plate Trick.

Only two can play this trick at once. First of all you send the one who is to be tricked into another room, then you get a candle, two plates, and a box of matches. Light the candle, then put one plate over the candle, holding it there till the bottom of the plate is quite black. Put two chairs opposite each other, not as the black side of the plate, call the other person in, sit on one chair with the plate that is not black, tell the other to sit on a chair, and give him the other plate, face upwards (taking great care that he does not see the black side of the plate), and tell him to look at you and do exactly what you do. You have to put your finger under the plate, and then rub it on your face. Of course, he gets black all over his face, which causes a great deal of merriment.
