Parnell ought to have taken a lesson from the fate of Sir Charles Dilke. Sir Charles a few years ago was one of the ablest men in the British House of Commons. He stood next to Mr. Gladstone in the ranks of the Liberal party, with the prospect of succeeding his chief in the due course of nature. But he fell, just as Mr. Parnell has fallen. The newspaper accounts were shocking to the English sense of morality, and Sir Charles was at once forced to retire into the obscurity of a private and be emirched citizen. Whether he was or was not as black as he was painted, public opinion decreed that he must go, and from that day until now Sir Charles Dilke is an ostra-

A similar fate has since befallen another nember of the House of Commons; not a great man, it is true, but prominent by eason of his military title, position in society and status as a Conservative. Public sentiment compelled him to withdraw from the House, and now his name is almost unknown. It is indeed one of the distinguishing qualities of the English people that they will not tolerate licentiousness in their representa tive men, and although there are in the House of Lords members of malodorous reputation, it is almost certain that they could not remain in that chamber had the ople a voice in their selection.

Parnell has made the mistake of his life in attempting to brave the moral sense of the English people, after having disgraced himself. The fate of Sir Charles Dilke ought to have been warning enough to him and had he profited by it he might have half-redeemed his character in the service done to his country. But manifestly Ireland does not hold the first place in his estimation, and he is doing his utmost to drag her down to his own level.

BEWARE OF THE SPECULATORS. The decision of the Ontario Government in closing the lands adjoining the new mining territory of Sudbury, and refusing to sell them under the old system which gave great advantages to the speculator, has been well received in the Province. All the district lying between the eastern limit of four preceding years. Awrey, in Nipissing, to the western limit of Esten and Spragge, a distance of about 115 miles, and extending from the French River and Georgian Bay north, has been closed. It includes besides those townships Proctor, Lewis, Shedden, Victoria, Salter, Hallam Tennyson, Gough, May, Hallam, Shakespeare, Baldwin, Merritt, Nairn, Lorne, Drury, Trill, Cascaden, Cartier, Hart, Ermatinger, Levack, Hyman, Dowling, Fairbank, Denison, Louise, Goschen, Carlyle, Humboldt, Graham, Creighton, Cariye, Humboldt, Graam, Creignton, Craig, Balfour, Morgan, Rayside, Snider, Waters, Broder, McKim, Blezard, Neelon, Dill, Dryden, Hawley and other townships delay will be caused in the development of the mining territory by the change of policy, but the step will prevent the speculators from seizing control of the lands and reaping the benefits that should go to the e as a whole and to the actual miners. Hon. Mr. Hardy says that no new regulations will be immediately resolved on, but that the whole question will be considered the Legislature into their confidence before finally promulgating it. The resolution will meet with public approval.

Let us suggest to the Government that the policy most likely to receive general acceptance, because of its justice, will have for its groundwork the idea that the diverted into the public exchequer rather than into the pockets of speculators.

THE FARMERS QUIETLY THINKING. In an interview with the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Grover Cleveland said, in speaking of the recent elections over there: "The result tends to re-establish a man's faith in Democrate in the wildest dreams of his imagination came within 50—no, I'il say 100—of the Democratic majority in the next House. I heard enthusiastically sanguing Democrate say we would have 50 majority in the House, but I don't believe that anybody supposed it would be more. The larmers do their thinking for the most part on the quiet; but when they make up their minds that they have paid tribute enough for the support of a class, they have the courage to vote as they feel.

The Kalamazoo celery crop this year beats all previous records.

TO-MORROW'S CEREMONY.

The opening of the new wing of the City Hospital to-morrow night will be an eve nt of no small importance. There was a time when public hospitals were managed in a very perfunctory manner, the chief object being to bestow as little care as possible on the unfortunates compelled to seek shelter and treatment within their walls. That day has gone past. While not forgetting that public institutions should be managed with due regard to the public purse, out of which the greater portion of the sustaining fund must come, a philanthropic spirit now dictates the management of these hos-pitals. Patients are surrounded with all easonable comforts and an endeavor is ade to render their lot as cheerful as possible. Nothing has conduced more to this than the improvement which has taken place in the nursing of patients. Indeed, oper nursing is one of the most effective ds that the healing art can have.

The professional nurse is no longera "Sairy Gamp," to be dreaded, yet tolerated because no better can be found; and in the place of this monstrosity in all well reguated hospitals and in cities where the exist are to be found intelligent, well-educated, sympathetic women, who have chosen the profession mainly through their desire to do some good to the afflicted ones in the world. London hospital and London city, it is reassuring to know, are so situated. It is to be hoped that the hospital may long continue to train such nurses as make up its staff and as it is constantly contributing to the world. The profession is a noble one, even though it does entail a certain nount of self-sacrifice.

CANADA'S DRINK BILL.

An advance copy of the report of the Do inion Minister of Inland Revenue shows that the accrued revenue during the year ending June 30, 1890, was $7,854,581, compared with $6,974,540 for 1888, or an increase of $880,041. The following summary em upon which excise duties are levied, nearly $750,000 being represented by the nerease in spirits. A considerable portion was doubtless realized on spirits taken from bond in June, in anticipation of the provisions of the law as to the maturing of spirits coming into force on and after July 1, 1890. During the year 5,491,475 proof gallons of spirits were produced, compared with 5,847,508 proof gallons produced in the previous fiscal year. The raw material used in its production was as follows:

Excise	$6,89	889. 92,612 4 10,457 21,416 50,034 21	1890. $7,779.616 6,782 17,420 50,700 63

At the convention of the Carriage Builders' National Association in Chicago last month, there was read a paper on the above subject, containing words of wisdom which those who wish to succeed in trade should not willingly let die. The only "business college" I know of, says the writer-Law son Valentine-is a good business office under a good merchant. The idea is to get not yet named. The nickel so far has been found principally in the townships impediately west of Sudbury. All of Denison, most of McKim, about one-third of Hyman and of Drury, one-half of Naira, all of Graham and considerable parts of Blezard, Fairbank, Craig and Creighton have already been sold.

There is no royal road to business any more than to learning. An obstacle is not something put in a man's path to block him; it is something put there to make him climb up and over if he can't move it There is no volition in an obstacle. It must be requested to "move on."

The ability to organize skillfully is one of the most important factors of success at next session of the Legislature. This means that the Government have in contemplation a new policy, and desire to take marked by at least these half dozen characteristics: Promptness, alertness, decision, tact, push, principle. Out of these you can weave almost anything. If you want something done an old rule and a good one is to go to the busiest man. PERSONAL AND GENERAL. -Prof. Koch calls his lymph paratolidin name more easily pronoun obtained for so notable a curative agency.

-Wentworth County Council have re solved to discard the ballot in the election of warden. The councilors got tired tak ing ballots, and they believe they will be able to reach a decision more quickly in the 'open.

-If this snowfall would stay with'us till after the holidays it would be of more value to the merchants of London and the Province generally than anything else shor of emancipation from the rule of the Com bines Government.

-The Methodist Church of the United States—a body numbering millions of ad-herents—has been taking a popular vote on the question of admitting women as mem bers of the General Conference of tha church. The votes are all in, but not yet that there is a clear majority in favor of the admission of the women. The world moves This means a similar result at an early date in Canada, and it also means the suffrage for women at an early date.

-According to the inland revenue re turns for the year ending June 30 last the tobacco bill of the Dominion shows a large increase. The total amount of tobacco taken for consumption during the year was 9,875,427 pounds, compared with 9,080,269 pounds for 1889. Duty amounting to $1,896,359 was collected in the latter year and $1,719,667 in the former. The revenue accrued from cigars during the year, in cluding licenses, was $603,473, compared with $550,468 for the previous year.

-Teronto policemen are to be taught specially how to attend to cases of sick-ness and accidents on the streets. The city police generally should have similar in struction. It has been worked with suc cess in Great Britain under the super vision of the St. John's Ambulance Associa tion of England, and there is no reason why the same good results should not flow from its introduction here. The uneducated policeman has been known to frequently mistake genuine sickness drunkenness, to the serious, if not fatal injury of the victim. :::

-The Canadian census will not be taken efore April next, when the enumeration of the population of the whole British Empire will be undertaken. Germany anticipates us by three months, the imperial census having been taken on the night of Nov. 30-Dec. 1. In Germany census cards are left by Government officials at every house beore census night, and on these cards the householder records on the succeeding morning all the required information conerning all persons, transient or permanent, during the night. Thus all duplication and omission are avoided. The questions on the census cards concern the relationship of each person to the householder, occupation religion, military service and rank, and mother tongue, besides the usual inquiries as to age, etc. In Prussia, a typical German State, it is expected that, despite the heavy emigration, this year's census will show an increase in round numbers from 27,000,000 in 1880 to 30,000,000 in 1890, or approximately 11 per cent. "Little Prussia" of the days of Napoleon I. will then have more than sextupled her population in the last 80 years.
