

WHENEVER I see Hood's Sarsaparilla now I want to bow and say "Thank You!"

I was badly affected with Eczema and Scrofula, covering almost the whole of one side of my face, nearly to the top of my head. Running sores discharged from both ears. My eyes were very bad, the eyelids so sore it was painful opening or closing them. For nearly a year I was deaf. I went to the hospital and had an operation performed for the removal of a cataract from one eye. One day my sister brought me

THE ENGLISH CHAMPIONSHIP.

LONDON, July 17.—In the lawn tennis championship at Wimbledon today Mrs. Hildyard beat Miss Austin two love sets, taking the championship which Miss Dool does not defend. CANADIANS AT BISLEY.

LONDON, July 17.—In the shooting at 500 yards for the Queen's prize the following scores were made by the Canadians: Davidson and Baylis, 33 each; Hayhurst, Turnbull and Rose, 32 each; Kamberley, 33; Bertram, Belle, Simpson and Moore, 30 each. Twenty-one Canadians are competing. Adj. Kilpatrick, of the Canadian rifle team, was interviewed today concerning the team's work at Bisley. He said that although he regretted the loss of the Kellogg cup he was pleased with the success of the team.

Milligan scored the highest possible mark in the Jaffray contest for target rifle. Hayhurst also made the highest possible score, but he dropped a point in the tie shoots in the Apsley-Bellat contest, open to all comers, distance 200 yards. King, Mitchell, Ross and Ogg each made 34, or 1 point below the best possible score, and won valuable prizes.

In the field rifle contest, Bertram and Milligan made 54 each and got prizes. In the first stage at 200 yards—of the contest for the great Queen's prize, Ross, Mitchell, Milligan and Baylis yesterday reached a total of 30.

THE WHEEL.

SIX NEW RECORDS.

WALTHAM, Mass., July 17.—Six new world records were established today on the Waltham Bicycle Park. Walter Sanger, riding for the Springfield, Mass., Bicycle Club, tried for a mile without pace-makers and with flying start. The existing record was 2:16 for such a trial, and was held in France. In the face of a stiff wind Sanger broke not only the mile mark, but also that for every fraction of the mile without pace-makers.

The new records are: Quarter mile, 25.8 seconds; one-third mile, 40 seconds; half, 1:01 2-5; two-thirds, 1:24; three-fourths, 1:35 4-5; mile, 2:11 2-5. A claim for these records was entered immediately after the riding was finished.

AQUATIC.

THE VIGILANT'S VICTORY.

BANGOR, Ireland, July 17.—The Vigilant acquitted herself gloriously today in her second contest over the Royal Ulster Yacht Club's course of two miles for the rear commodore's cup, valued at $250, and a cash prize of $125. Some of the lustre of her victory was lost by the failure of the Britannia to finish, but nearly three-quarters of the course had been sailed over when the Briton carried away her gall and limped back home. The lead of the Yankee yacht was then about six minutes, and as the breeze held steady all day she doubtless would have increased her advantage in the last three legs. The Yankee sailed over the course, and under the rules of the regatta defeated the Britannia and won the cup and the cash prize, which will be divided among the Vigilant's crew. The Vigilant finished at 3:49:40, thus covering the 50-mile course in 4 hours, 49 minutes and 28 seconds, or at the rate of somewhat more than ten knots an hour, which, considering the many turns and fourteen miles of hard windward work, is exceptionally fast. If she had been pushed she probably would have reduced the time by half an hour, but as her victory was assured she came home not as swiftly as she would have done if the Britannia had been chasing her. Every English yachtman with whom the United Press correspondent talked said that it was apparent when the accident happened to the Britannia that she had no chance whatever of catching up.

BROCKVILLE, July 17.—Mrs. Barnes, wife of a G. T. R. employee, yesterday gave birth to triplets, two boys and a girl. The infants are all well. The boys weighed 5½ pounds and the girl 6 pounds. They have been christened Patrick, Joseph and Mary. The extraordinary event has created great excitement in the town, as it is the first of the kind on record here.

The United States Tariff.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The meeting of all the conferees on the Tariff Bill was called to order at 2 this afternoon and until 2 o'clock tomorrow morning without doing anything beyond discussing the general situation. There is little likelihood of an agreement and the general impression of those who were in the committee room is that the report when made will be a disagreement on the essential points in the bill.

The Franchise Bill to be Dropped Excepting One Portion.

Gen. Herbert's Administration of Military Matters Scathingly Criticised—Want of Confidence Motion Defeated, 87 to 42.

(Special to the ADVERTISER.)

OTTAWA, July 17.—A strange spectacle was presented in the public accounts committee this morning as a member of the Cabinet beginning inquiry into improper expenditure in one of the departments. Mr. Haggart charged that the Deputy Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs had paid money out of the capital of the Indian trust funds, and that the Auditor-General should not have enabled him to do so by issuing letters of credit to the department. Vankoughnet, who was until recently Deputy Superintendent-General, was dismissed, and is now an opponent of the Government. The Auditor-General was appointed by Mr. Mackenzie in 1878, and is a life-long Liberal, and is regarded as a good mark for attack by members of the Cabinet that he is constantly holding in check.

Mr. Haggart asked the Auditor-General to explain how he allowed the Indian land management funds to be overdrawn by $78,000.

The Auditor-General replied that it was not overdrawn at all but had $77,000 to the good.

Mr. Haggart did not press the matter, as he said he required further papers, and the Auditor-General is to appear tomorrow with them.

Mr. Haggart's main point was to ask the Auditor-General to produce his authority for issuing the letters of credit to the department in excess of the amount of this. The Auditor-General said he never had done so, as the department gets a general letter of credit and they draw on it as they please. His audit was an audit after payment, and he could not get back any money paid out, but he could object if he saw anything wrong, and in this case he had a long correspondence on the subject with the department.

There was no order in council preventing the department from drawing on the capital of the land management funds until it was exhausted. What the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs had done was to draw against the interest when there was no interest, and to charge it against interest; but the Auditor-General took a different view and believed that as there was no interest on hand it should be charged to capital.

Mr. Mulock expressed the opinion that had management and extravagance of the Department of Indian Affairs were responsible for trenching on the capital funds, which were held in trust by the department for the Indians.

Mr. Haggart asked what was the value of an audit if a thing like this could occur? The Auditor-General replied that he was ordered by the statute to issue general letters of credit to all departments, and he knew of no way he could prevent the Department of Indian Affairs from drawing against one fund or another. The matter will be gone into with more preciseness tomorrow, as Mr. Haggart was not prepared to go on.

Sir John Thompson announced to the House today that the Franchise Bill would be dropped except that portion making the revision of the voters' list this year applicable to the constituencies as arranged under the Redistribution Act of 1892.

On the motion to go into committee of supply, Lieut.-Col. Tisdale drew attention to the recent suspension of Adjutant-General Powell by General Herbert.

He noted the difference between regular soldiers and volunteers, and between the volunteer force of Canada and volunteer force of England. He came to the conclusion that General Herbert had no authority to suspend the Adjutant-General of Canada. The latter need not have submitted to the humiliation of suspension, but in that he did show the soldier. Even if the general had authority, his action was unjustifiable and unprecedented. The miserable quibble upon which the general based his action—the lack of initials to a routine general order—was narrated and then Col. Tisdale dilated on the services rendered to Canada at the time of the Red River expedition, the Fenian raid, the Northwest rebellion and other occasions by Col. Powell. He characterized the suspension as an outrage. Turning to the administration of Gen. Herbert he corrected the popular impression that the general was an impartial officer, and concluded by saying that the first duty of an officer was to control himself and feeling that it would be better to the efficiency of the force if he should resign.

Major Hughes described General Herbert as a total failure in the management of men. He gave a dozen instances, said he, I would not be surprised if Gen. Herbert next placed the Minister of Militia under arrest. As a volunteer of 27 years standing Major Hughes declared that he would stand Herbert's harsh, unjust and arbitrary treatment of volunteer officers.

Col. Denison put in a good word for Gen. Herbert as a soldier.

Mr. Mulock dwelt on the case of Lieut.-Col. Lazier, in command of the Fifteenth Battalion, Belleville, who was dismissed about three months ago. He recited the facts that owing to some friction between the department and the D. A. G. of the district Lieut.-Col. Lazier sent in his resignation. "Instead," Col. Lazier wrote in a letter to the Minister (read by Mr. Mulock), "of the department accepting my resignation and thanking me for my 30 years of volunteer services, I was kicked out without being told the reason. I was dismissed without trial. I have worn her Majesty's uniform too long to submit tamely to such an outrage."

Mr. Patterson, Minister of Militia, made a long statement in reply. He had not yet received the Adjutant-General's reply to Gen. Herbert's charges. He would not answer the question raised whether Gen. Herbert had the authority to suspend Adjutant-General Powell. He was responsible for all the official actions of Gen. Herbert. He had to learn the characteristics of Canadian people, but he had a high sense of duty. The Minister said he had approved of Col. Lazier's dismissal, as he had been charged with insubordination and peculation. He admitted that the charges had not been sent to Col. Lazier and no inquiry had been made as to their truth.

Messrs. Seriver and O'Brien denounced the suspension of Adjutant-General Powell as unjustifiable. The matter dropped.

After recess Mr. Charlton moved the following amendment: "That the amount of taxation by customs duties in Canada was $12,782,824 in 1878, and was $20,954,003 in 1893, an increase of $8,171,179; that the expenditure of Canada on account of the consolidated fund was $23,503,138 in 1898, and was $36,514,052 in 1893, an increase of $13,310,854; that the expenditures on account of administration of justice, arts, agriculture and statistics, fisheries, quarantine, judiciary legislation, militia and defense, public works, excise, superannuation, Northwest Territories government, mail subsidies and steamship subsidies, civil government, adulteration of food, miscellaneous and Northwest Mounted Police amounted to $5,266,424 in 1878, and to $10,384,272 in 1893, an increase of $5,127,848, or 97 per cent; that while the increase of the population of Canada from July 1, 1878, to July 1, 1893, did not exceed 20 per cent, the increase of customs taxation for the same period was 63 per cent, and the increase of expenditure for the same period was 56 per cent; that this House expresses regret that the increase of customs taxation and of expenditure should have been permitted to reach a ratio three times greater than the increase of population since 1878; that the controllable expenditure should have been permitted to reach a still higher rate of increase, and that a considerable portion of the annual expenditure has been absorbed by grants made for party or political purposes and not in the public interest, and that this House expresses the opinion that the enormous annual expenditure places a burden upon Canada so serious in amount that strict honesty and rigid economy in the future management of the finances of the Dominion should be practiced with a view to lessening the public burdens."

After speeches by Foster and Cartwright the amendment was rejected by 42 to 87. Mr. Girouard asked what was going to be done by Mr. Tarte's charges against the judges.

Sir John Thompson read letters from Judges Davidson, Oulmet, Teller, and a telegram from Judge Eosse denying the charges and asking that an inquiry be had.

Sir John Thompson held that the charges as made did not warrant an investigation. Mr. Tarte reaffirmed his position and declared he could prove his charges.

Messrs. Davin and McCarthy protested against such scenes being enacted in the House, and declared that Mr. Tarte was not taking a proper mode of securing investigation.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier said Mr. Tarte had the right to make charges from his place in the House against any person in the land.

Sir John Thompson promised an inquiry into the place of residence of Judge Oulmet, and the incident terminated. The House spent the balance of the sitting in supply.
