MAGISTRATE REFUSED TO TAKE INFORMATION

Neither Would He Let Mr. Bartram Argue-He. However. Noted the Latter's Protest.

Barrister W. H. Bartram appeared in police court this morning to learn Police Magistrate Love's decision in the matter of receiving an information against Mayor Rumball on the charge of unduly influencing Treasurer Pope in the granting of a license fee to Ringling Bros.' circus at a less rate than that fixed by bylaw. Mr. Bartram may have expected that the police magistrate's decision would be in his favor, but it is probable that he was quite alone in his expecthat he was quite gaine in his expectation.

"Mr. Bartram," said his worship, "I have come to the conclusion that I will not receive your information."

"But, your worship," answered the lawyer, "the law provides that anyone may lay an information upon oath. The late P. M. Parke took the same may lay an information upon oath. The late P. M. Parke took the same grounds as you have, until, after a year's litigation, Chief Justice Armour, in the court of Queen's bench, at Toronto, ruled that a magistrate must take an information from any complainant, and decide upon that information whether to issue a warrant or a summons."

"I do not want to hear any argument, Mr. Bartram," said his worship. "I only say that I refuse to receive the information in its present form."

Mr. Bartram's obliging and conciliatory disposition manifested itself in a remark to the effect that if the police magistrate would say exactly what form he would receive it in, he (Mr. Bartram) would be pleased to alter it.

"I have decided not to take it in its present form." said his worship, "because it is not definite or specific enough."

"Not specific enough"—began Mr. Bartram, but the police magistrate interrupted.

"I will not hear any argument," he said.
"I have other and more important matters to go on with."

"Will your worship note that I protest strongly against your refusal to take the information" asked the undaunted lawyer. His worship replied that he would with great pleasure note Mr. Bartram's strong protest, and with that the incident GAVE A WELCOME

Mud as a Health-Preserver

[From the Boston Transcript.] In London it was noticed that when the streets were muddy there was a marked diminution of diseases that were prevalent when dust is blowing. Bowel troubles are plentiful when people are compelled to inhale dust. Consumption, too, often gets its start from dust. Other illnesses almost equally grave follow from the breathing of flying particles of filth. Add sufficient water to transform the dust into mud, and the power for harm is gone, as the mud is not inhaled. The germs that infest dry dust become inert in mul, because these germs, vicious as they are, are too lazy to go anywhere un-less they are carried. Moreover, mud is very likely to get ultimately into the drain pipe, and the germs are carried off where they can do no harm. Even when mud dries on the clothing and is brushed off, the dust that arises therefrom does not appear to be as dangerous as that which has not been ecently wet.

It will thus be apparent that there is recently wet.

It will thus be apparent that there is a bright side to mud, and henceforth all but the fastidious will revel in all but the fastidious will revel in go abroad in search of exercise only when the roads are muddy. You Are Not Sick But Feel Miserable

Nearly everybody seems to complain more or less at this season of the year. You feel the need of some tonic to put new strength and energy into the system. You don't sleep well, and suffer more or less from headache and dyspepsia. It may be you are depressed and discouraged, and feel the affairs of everyday life a burden. Little things worry and irritate you. You are not sick, but lack the vitality that is necessary for health and happiness.

There is one preparation which is doing wonders these days as a restorative and nerve invigorator, and that is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It is different from any medicine you ever used, for instead of tearing down the tissues of the body it builds them up, and so thoroughly fills the system with new life and vigor as to overcome pains and aches, weaknesses and irregularities. It is surprising what a host of people are using this great food cure. A few weeks' trial will convince you of its singular merit.
