HAY WAS PLENTIFUL AND DEMAND BRISK

Twenty-Five Loads Offered 'at From $15 to $16 a Ton.

There was another small market this morning, with sales comparatively slow. About the only thing that was offered in any quantity was hay, and the demand for this was very brisk. There were some 25 loads in all, the majority of which sold at from $15 to $15 50. One sale was reported at $16, and there were a number of poorer loads that went for $14 50.

Oats remained at about the same figure, going from $1 20 to $1 25, the majority of the loads selling at about day.

figure, going from $1 20 to $1 25, the majority of the loads selling at about $1 23. Other grains were very scarce despite the strong demand for them.

It is expected that if the snow continues there will be a record market on Saturday, as all the farmers report that there is a splendia bottom on the roads to make sleighing. The last couple of weeks have been rather unfavorable for marketing, and as a result the markets have been small; but with the improved weather and the there can be little doubt that the mar-kets will be very much larger for the next week or more.

demand abates none of the activity which has characterized this market of late. With the exception of some of the poorer qualities of rough cattle, for which there is poor demand, the market is firm and active for everything offering in the way of good to choice butcher cattle. Of active for everything offering in the way of good to choice butcher cattle. Of the extra choice fancy Christmas cattle, not so many are offering as in some former years, but there are a few which sold at from $6.25 to $7. Choice loads of butcher cattle sold strong at $5 to $5.75, medium to common butchers steady to firm at $3.50 to $4.50. Lambs are quoted about 50c higher than last week and about 50c higher than last week, and sheep 10c higher. Hogs unchanged.
