THE DOCTOR'S GIFT Food Worth Its Weight in Gold.

We usually expect the doctor to put us on some kind of pennance and give us bitter medicines. An eastern doctor brought a patient something entirely different, and the results are truly interesting.

"Two years ago," writes this patient, "I was a frequent victim of acute indigestion and biliousness, being allowed to eat very few things. One day our family doctor brought me a small package, saying he had found something for me to eat. "He said it was a food called Grape-Nuts, and even as its golden color might suggest it was worth its weight in gold. I was sick and tired, trying one thing after another to no avail, but since then I have blessed the good one year, $100 funeral benefit, and $50 strate the invaluable features of the doctor and the inventor of Grape-Nuts. NEW PROCESS FOR LONDON PRESSED BRICKS.

Pressed bricks, "made in London and that can be subjected to 4,000 ounds pressure to the square inch, are on exhibit in the Machinery Hall by the London Pressed Brick Company, Limited. They are manufactured by an nteresting new process, known as the 'ante-fired process." It is a method of treating clay known to the ancient Romans and used by them in building coads which are still in existence in England and other countries. The clay s burned in heaps, pressed into bricks, steam cured for eight hours, and is hen ready for building purposes. Schools of science have subjected the new bricks to the most exhaustive tests. They will withstand the sever est extremes of heat and cold and all climatic conditions.

Mr John Cawrse, a practical and long-experienced brickmaker, is president of the London Pressed Brick Company. There is a marked shortage in the supply of building materials at present, and in view of the durability of the new London bricks, and the rapidity and cheapness with which they can be produced, the company should meet with the greatest success.
