A. T. LEBLANC, M.P.P. HEARD IN HOUSE

Delivers Address in Budget Address in Local Legislature Recently—Good Roads in Restigouche.

MR. LEBLANC said that it was not without a slight feeling of embarrassment that he arose to say a word in defence of the administration in view of the severe attack which had been made by the hon. leader of the opposition. He would say that they were not greatly worried because of the deficit incurred by the government in 1919, as they knew that it had been honestly incurred in the interests of the people. The deficit could be easily explained and could be satisfactorily explained and could be satisfactorily explained before an impartial tribunal. He would congratulate the hon. leader of the opposition on his having been confirmed or reinstated in his position. An hon. member for St. John had painted a picture of a would-be leader, and in that picture they could almost see the person of the Chief Whip. There had been several aspirants for that position, but the one chosen was not of the stamp which the Chief Whip had been. Another aspirant for the leadership was his hon. friend Mr. Tilley. That hon. member had been making ready for the change and had been almost ready to say "Veni Vidi, Vici" to his friends. But the hon. ex-attorney general in his stentorian tones had informed the hon. member that he had been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

MR. A. T. LEBLANC, M.P.P.

The hon. member (Tilley) had been put forward as the financial critic of the opposition and as such deserved to be congratulated. In his speech he had explained that the hon. premier had not given him and his two colleagues credit for their independent stand. He (LeBlanc) had been ready to applaud their action but regretted to say they had not followed it up.

After trying to unhorse their leader they presented the illogical spectacle of allowing themselves to be whipped back into line. He could not help thinking them to the Three Musketeers.

It had been charged that the hon. minister of public works was spending all the money on the great roads to the neglect of the bye-roads. He (LeBlanc) wished to say that such was not the case in the county of Restigouche.

There had been criticism with reference to the administration of the hon. minister of public works. The hon. member for Carleton had complained of the cost of administering the Act. He (LeBlanc) would point out in the first place that the government was not responsible for the Act which it was good or bad. In the second place its administration had been almost taken out of the hands of the government. The Chief Inspector said what might be termed carte blanche in making his appointments. If hon. members opposite had criticism to offer they should endeavor to show that there had been misappropriation of public money on the part of the Chief Inspector. If there was a balance shown on the right side of the ledger the Chief Inspector was to be congratulated. The Act had been enforced by money derived from it and if the two sides balanced the Opposition should have no cause for criticism.

Reminder of Dargett.

The hon. leader of the opposition had spoken of the marvelous work of the agricultural department under the old administration. He (LeBlanc) wondered what his understanding was of Deputy Minister, who instead of attending to his duties in exchange for his salary, had spent his time in electioneering. He had been sent over to Restigouche to campaign against the candidates of the present administration. The same gentleman had figured in the revelations made under oath before a Royal Commissioner and had sworn by all the gods that he would have nothing further to do with politics. Was it good business to have him drawing a salary from the province while engaged in stump speaking on the North Shore? He would repudiate the statement that the hon. minister of public works was building up the "trunk roads" at the expense of the back roads. There had been $19,622.83 expended on the ordinary roads in Restigouche, and with the exception of $5,569.21 every cent had been expended on the back roads.

His hon. friends opposite were trying to camouflage the good farmers of the country by saying that all the money was being spent on the trunk roads. So far as Restigouche was concerned he could say that such charge was without foundation. The phrase "permanent" roads had originated with the hon. member for Carleton, but the present government felt they had a right to use it. Whether the roads were permanent or not they were better today than ever before.

Prior to the last election the then minister of public works had embarked on a permanent road campaign in Restigouche. The roads had been neglected and with an election in sight he had felt that the time was ripe for action. One could have thought they would have gone to a "boggy" place to bring about an improvement, but they had chosen the driest hill in the whole country. He was bound to say that a good piece of road was the result. It was a permanent road, located on a hill at its end. God Almighty who had made it permanent. They had paid men at the rate of $1.50 per day and double teams had been engaged for $3.50 and $4. They built about 10 miles of road at a cost in the vicinity of $5,000 or $9,000.

MR. SMITH (Carleton) Would you like to say those figures were accurate?

Restigouche's Boulevard

MR. LEBLANC said that they might not be strictly accurate—there had been some blasting done, but the road was only three quarters of a mile long and he understood that the total cost was between eight and nine thousand. Taking into consideration the difference in the cost of labor he would say that the work done since 1916 compared most favorably with that performed by the old administration. The road they had started had since been finished and he would say that it was a credit to New Brunswick.

Last year they had expended in Restigouche $10,000 on permanent roads, some of which almost deserved the name of boulevard. They had built 5 1/2 miles at a cost of $10,000, and he thought even the Ex-Attorney General would bear him out in the statement that a good job had been done. If hon. members came to visit the county of Restigouche he would show them a piece of road and if it did not bear out his statements, he would promise them never to speak on the subject again in the House.

COULDN'T WORK FOR WHOLE YEAR

Veteran Was All Run Down,
But Gains Fifteen Pounds Ago
Is in Best of Health Now.

"For one year before I began taking Tanlac I was so weak I could not do a lick of work, but now I have gained fifteen pounds in weight, and am in the very best of health," said Arthur F. Ingram, of 4 George St., Halifax, N.S., a few days ago. Mr. Ingram saw four years service in France with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, being attached to the Fifth Artillery. He was engaged in some of the heaviest fighting of the whole war, including the battles of the Somme and Cambrai.

"I have been in miserable health ever since I got out of the Army last spring. In fact, my troubles started when I was gassed in France, just before the Armistice was signed," continued Mr. Ingram. "In six months I lost forty pounds and some days I was so weak that I came near collapsing. My appetite was so poor that I had to force myself to eat enough to keep alive and sometimes just the smell of food would nauseate me so that I would have to get out of the house. You can imagine how weak I was when I tell you I went for days at a time without eating a bite. I could hardly retain a thing on my stomach. Why, sometimes I would become so nauseated while seated at the table that I would have to get up and leave. The cramps and pains in my stomach would nearly draw me down and at times the agony was almost more than I could bear. I was so nervous and restless that I got but little sleep and some nights I lay awake the whole night through."

"My brother-in-law had been taking Tanlac and it had done him so much good that he advised me to try it, too. I had taken so many medicines that I had about lost faith in them, but I made up my mind to give it a trial. Well, sir, I was so surprised when I began to improve I could hardly believe it. That gave me encouragement and I kept right on taking it without missing a dose until now I have finished my fourth bottle. And today it seems almost too good to be true that I am in perfect health and am feeling as fine as a man could want. I have a splendid appetite and can eat anything I please, my stomach was never in better condition and I digest everything I eat without the least trouble of any kind. The cramping pains have all disappeared and it is no trouble for me to retain what I eat. I sleep like a log every night and when I get up in the morning I am ready for as big a day's work as any man. My strength and energy have come back and already I have gained fifteen pounds and am just gaining right along. In my opinion Tanlac has no equal as a medicine and I recommend it in the very highest terms."

TANLAC is sold in Campbellton in Jacques' by S. McALISTER, and in Archibald Settlement by M. SMEARER.

object to reasonable expenditure but wanted value for it. He wanted to point out that Restigouche contributed one-fourth of the territorial revenue and one-third of the stumpage collected. It was therefore with a degree of assurance that they asked that some of that money be expended in their county. When the time came and they asked that $100,000 be expended on a bridge and $50,000 on a permanent road, he hoped his hon. friend from St. John would not be astounded.

In addition he said that it was gratifying in these strenuous times when times were tottering, to note that the greatest Empire that ever existed was as solid and firm as ever. It was because of the Empire, they enjoyed freedom of speech for the humblest as well as the mighty. It had been said that too much time was spent by hon. members in speech-making. He hoped they would always retain the right to speak. He also hoped that time-honored customs of speaking on the address and the budget would never be done away with.

Commented Mr. Pester over the top of his evening paper: "The Government appear to be as bellicose as they were. 'I'm not surprised,' said his wife, thinking of the Teutonic waist line. 'Where starvation diet must have reduced them a lot.'"

Dear Sir,—

Allow me a space in your valuable paper for a few words I wish to mention concerning log hauling. On Friday March 5th, Richard Goodin, hauled 160 logs nothing under 8 inches at the top on a three turn road and about one mile of a gravel hill loaded by Arthur Mally and counted by Billy Malcom and unloaded by Nelson Landry and Fred McIntyre at F. A. Ferguson's Camp at Osbour Gulch, Charlottetown.

FORD AND THE HORNET.

A big business man was telling Henry Ford this story about a coach driver of super-experience with his whip. The driver was telling a passenger how he could flick a fly off his horse's nose with his whip—and, a fly alighting just then, he promptly did so. Next he spied a grasshopper beside the road, and he flicked it off with equal dexterity. The passenger was becoming intensely interested. A little further along the road he noticed an insect on a bush, and nudged the driver to get him.

"Not on your life," replied the master of the whip. "That fly I nailed had no friends and the grasshopper didn't have any either, but that insect is a hornet and he is sitting on his nest with an organization behind him. I leave him alone."
