TELEGRAPHIC MESSAGE—FAILURE TO DELIVER.—Where, by reason of the failure on the part of a telegraph company to deliver a message directed to a ship broker, he lost a contract, by which he would have made certain commissions had the message been promptly delivered, the Supreme Court of Georgia held that a recovery of the amount of such commissions was not too remote or speculative a measure of damages. Western Union Telegraph Company vs. Farman, decided on the 6th inst.

PARTNERSHIP DISSOLUTION.—Where a partner has retained the right to dissolve a partnership at his pleasure, and on a given day orders the books to be balanced for the purpose of ascertaining the interest of the retiring partner, but on the completion of that work fails and neglects to pay the sum thus found to be due, and the retiring partner remains in daily attendance, and does in the business of the firm precisely what he had always done without remonstrance or complaint of the dissolving partner, the partnership will be held to have continued until the latter has abandoned his position, or has been driven from it, or the former has done some overt act signifying that the dissolution has already taken place. So held by the Supreme Court of Louisiana in the case of Oteri vs. Oteri, decided recently.
