

for the opportunities of war; every year the range of her possibilities narrowed by the sweeping circles of two great friends, the spirit of science and the spirit of Christianity.

THE END