

directions; Catherine wheels, Roman candles, and other fireworks whizzed through the air, and kept the sky ablaze for two long hours. Indeed, the very heavens seemed to join in the celebration; stars shot to and fro in all directions, rivalling the display of the denizens of earth. Upon the steps leading to the main entrance of the Palace were grouped the Bishop of Charlottetown and his distinguished guests. When the procession halted, and lowered their torches in front of the distinguished assemblage, the Bishop of Charlottetown thanked them, in his own pleasing way, for the demonstration they had gotten up in his honor. He was followed by their Lordships of Ottawa, Montreal and St. John, who all spoke flatteringly of the manner in which the celebration of their venerable host's Silver Jubilee had been conducted. His Grace the Archbishop of Halifax, on being called for, arose and addressed the assemblage, referring in most laudatory terms to the highly creditable way in which the day's celebration had been carried out. Loud applause followed the remarks of each prelate. As the hands of the clocks of the city approached the hour of ten, three cheers, proposed by Mr. W. C. DesBrisay, President, of the Irish Society, went up from the immense assemblage for Bishop McIntyre, which were immediately repeated for Bishop Rogers, for Archbishop O'Brien, and for the other visiting prelates and clergy. Then Hon. Mr. Sullivan, Premier, stepped forward and proposed three cheers for Her Majesty the Queen, which were heartily responded to.

Along the route houses of Catholic citizens and of non-Catholics, who wished to show their respect to the Bishop, were brightly illuminated, some in a very artistic manner. Conspicuous, however, were the Cathedral, the two Convents of Notre Dame and St. Joseph, St. Patrick's School and the Charlottetown Hospital.

St. Dunstan's was brilliant with white lights; in the large window of the tower fronting on Dorchester Street was a transparency showing the Papal arms. The lancet windows fronting on Great George Street bore transparencies, some displaying the monograms, others the armorial bearings of the Bishops of Charlottetown and Chatham.

The Convent of Notre Dame was a blaze of rich color, its
