

the apparent discrepancies between nature and revelation, which science sometimes evolves, be not allowed, but that patience be exercised until further light be obtained, strong in the belief that he who cannot lie hath not caused to be written one word which needs to be recalled, because of its actual disagreement with scientific conclusions. There is not a sadder spectacle than that of a man of lofty intellect, and commanding talents, and most plausible pretensions to learning, engaged in the baneful work of adducing the oppositions of science "falsely so called," to shake the faith of humbler, less daring minds, in the teachings of the Holy Scriptures

Despise not, then, the wisdom and security of Solomon's arrangement, for if you miss the beginning of knowledge your whole course will be wrong and perilous. When the fear of the Lord is not established in the heart, intellectual vanity and self-sufficient pride take possession of that citadel, and in such a case the more one knows the more unsafe and dangerous he becomes.
