High Constable Sills Started the Testimony and Miss French Told a Very Straight Story Which Hit the Prisoner Mackie Pretty Hard-Mr. Baines, Detectives Wilkes and Others Gave Interesting Evidence.

Napanee, Aug. 11.—(Special.)—To-day was the Crown's day all along. The identification of Holden, Pare and Mackie as tramps that loafed around Hawley's Point and Wiggins' barn dast summer was a strong proof of part of Pare's confession. The statement by witness Mix that he had seen a strange man in light clothes talking to one of the tramps at the meeting place, while a bicycle stood against the fence, made "Bill's" friends take a choking breath, but W. B. Northrup, Q.C., cleverly turned this little item, and Napanee breathed more easily. Miss French's story was considered "a corker" by the Crown, but there was nothing in it to implicate Ponton.

the magistrate to commit the prisorers on the evidence produced, and the defence will object to a committal. If the magistrate decides to try the case, then the Crown will declare its case not closed. If the magistrate decides not to try the case then a thorough criminal investigation must go on before him. In that case an adjournment must be had till the defence can gather its witnesses together. It is understood that Magistrate Daly will try the case, if the evidence is strong on either He will give his ultimatum to-morrow afternoon.

The arrest of John Roach is daily expected. The country is being scoured for him. The description of this crook runs in this wise. John T. Roach, 21 years old. He stands 5ft 8 1-2 inches, his hair is light brown, his eyes blue and complexion fair. His teeth are good. His home is in Kingston, Ont. His occupation is that of a clerk. His photo was taken by the Toronto Police, May 9, 1898, when he was under arrest in Toronto. At the time of writing it is reported that Roach will be
