

THE VARSITY SPORTS

Some Great Contests Assured on the Campus on Friday.

The athletic association of the Western University is now busily engaged in making the final arrangements for the field day sports which are to be held on the university campus Friday next. Ever since the inauguration of these sports, they have been successful, and in view of this fact the association intends making this year's sports of exceptional merit. Some changes will appear on the programme, and additions will be noticed.

The events of least interest to the spectators have been arranged to be held in the morning thus leaving the afternoon for new sports, which will be of especial interest to all present. The idea of the executive is to arrange the games of the afternoon so as to be interesting to everyone.

Most of the athletes of former years will be on the campus again, and the freshmen classes of the several faculties have many promising young athletes, who will make their debut in university sports. The material for keen contests will not be lacking.

In place of the medal previously donated by Dr. John D. Wilson for the second highest winner of points in the annual games, he has very kindly offered a cup to be competed for between the undergraduates of the arts and medical departments, the same to be won two years in succession before passing to either college. Dr. Wilson has always taken a great interest in athletics, and particularly those of the Western University.

Dr. Arnott, the president of the association this year, is also doing much to make this year's field sports a great success. The system of pointing will be along the lines utilized by the larger universities.

The games will start in the morning and continue all day, and the management have prepared seats for approximately a thousand people. Everybody is welcome to attend.

POLLOCK—DOUGLASS

Pretty Wedding at Bride's Home on Central Avenue.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Douglass, Central Avenue, when their eldest daughter, Cora, was united in marriage to Mr. John H. Pollock, of this city, formerly of Toronto.

The bride was very becomingly dressed in cream lace over tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil was caught up daintily by orange blossoms. She looked pretty when ushered into the room leaning on the arm of her father, while Lohengrin's wedding march was rendered by Miss Lotta Francis, cousin of the bride.

Miss Ada Douglass was bridesmaid, and looked very charming in a point de espee dress over white tulle, with a white plumed hat, and carrying a bouquet of white roses. Dr. Leonard Douglass assisted the groom.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of the new St. James' Presbyterian Church, the bride and groom, with the guests, sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, after which the customary congratulations were extended to the bride and groom.

The many gifts received shows the esteem in which the contracting parties are held. The groom's gift to the bride was a pair of diamond earrings, which were the only ornaments she wore during the ceremony. The bridesmaid was the recipient of a brooch of pearls, while the groomsmen received a pair of solid gold cuff links, and Miss Francis a pearl brooch.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollock left for Toronto, Midland and Williams, the bride wearing a suit of plum-colored broadcloth and a white hat, with white wings. On their return they will reside at 567 Waterloo street.

The only guests present were relatives of the contracting parties. Among those receiving invitations out of the city were: Mr. and Mrs. John Clutton, Minneapolis, Minn.; Dr. Gordon Francis, and Dr. Stanley Francis, Chicago, Ill.; Mr. John Muir, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Pollock, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sproule, Cannington; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burgess, Cannington; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mariat, Rondeau; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacLarty, Mapleton; Dr. Ervin, St. Thomas; Mrs. S. Ervin, St. Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. John MacLarty, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Douglass, Yarmouth Center; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tisdall, Orwell; Mr. and Mrs. John Douglass, Avon; Dr. Alex. Douglass, Avon; Miss Clara Douglass, Avon; Mr. and Mrs. H. Phillips, Williams; Mr. and Mrs. N. Beattie, Milwaukee, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Gingsel, Wheeling, Wis.

CHALMERS' CHURCH CHOIR

Make Presentations to Two of Their Newly Married Members.

Last night the members of Chalmers Presbyterian Church took the liberty of calling at the home of Mrs. George Cuestance, John Street (a former member of the choir), and at the same time meeting Mrs. Wakening, who acted in the capacity of contralto soloist in Chalmers Church for a number of years. Both ladies have just recently

Catarrh

Whether it is of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, or more delicate organs, catarrh is always debilitating and should never fail of attention.

It is a discharge from the mucous membrane when kept in a state of inflammation by an impure, commonly scrofulous, condition of the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures all forms of catarrh, radically and permanently—it removes the cause and overcomes all the effects. Get Hood's.

married, and the choir members took this opportunity of expressing the high esteem in which Mrs. Cuestance and Mrs. Wakening are held, and wishing them joy and prosperity in their married life. After spending a social hour or two, Mr. Stein was called upon to read an address, and Miss Fordyce presented Mrs. Cuestance with a handsome cake dish, and Mrs. Wakening with a biscuit jar. Mr. Cuestance and Mr. Wakening suitably replied.

CONDENSED LOCAL NEWS

—Mr. Joseph Paladino, treasurer at Bennett's, is undergoing an operation at St. Joseph's Hospital. He has been suffering from an injury to his foot for some time.

Mr. Oliver Bainbridge, the traveler, will speak at the prayer meetings in three churches this evening on "Impressions of the Missionary in the Cannibalistic Islands." The churches where Mr. Bainbridge will talk are the First Methodist, First Presbyterian, and Dundas Street Methodist. His address in each place will be very brief.

—Toronto Globe: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. E. McCullough have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Norma Stevens, to Mr. S. Leigh Hammond, son of Mr. Fred J. Hammond, London, Ont., on Saturday, Nov. 10, at the Church of the Redeemer, and afterwards at No. 134 Roxborough street west.

BICYCLE THIEF CONVICTED. Henry George, an Indian, was this morning convicted of stealing a bicycle from John Ireland. George appeared before Judge Elliott, in the county judge's criminal court, and after being found guilty was remanded until Friday, when he will come up for sentence.

REV. MR. FERGUSON IMPROVING. It is reported that Rev. Mr. Ferguson, of Hamilton, who is critically ill from typhoid fever at Caledonia, is somewhat better, and his doctor has some hope of his recovery. He contracted the fever at the Foster wedding celebration, which resulted so fatally. It was feared on Monday that Mr. Ferguson would live but a few hours.

A FALSE ALARM. The firemen were called to the corner of Colborne and St. James streets at 1 o'clock this afternoon, but when they reached the box they found they had only answered a false alarm. Some mischievous boys had pulled the box to the police and should the names of the parties be obtained they will be placed under arrest.

AGITATING FOR A LIGHT. The residents of Grey street are agitating for an electric light at the extreme west end of the thoroughfare, overlooking the river. There is no fence at the point named, and the darkness is so dense that persons not acquainted with the locality are liable to walk into the gully and sustain injuries. The other evening a runaway horse was heading for the ravine at the breakneck speed, but fortunately it turned sharply and avoided a fall of fifty feet or more down the embankment.

MITCHELLTREE—McLOD. Miss Evelyn McLeod, second eldest daughter of Mr. William McLeod, of St. George street, was united in marriage this morning at 9:30 to Mr. Chas. Mitchelltree, of this city. The ceremony took place at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, only relatives and immediate friends being present. Rev. W. T. Hill was the officiating clergyman. After the ceremony a choice wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, No. 232 St. George street. The young couple left at noon for a wedding tour to Detroit and other points.

ARRESTED FOR FAST DRIVING. Some time ago Fred Lyons, more familiarly known as "Moses," got a little too much freewheel into his system and took a fast drive about the city streets, during which he greatly exceeded the speed limit set by law. Not only did he go fast, but he had a few collisions which did a certain amount of damage to the carriage. Moses was summoned to appear at the police court, but when court time came Moses did not show up, and a warrant for his arrest was issued. As a result, Moses was gathered in, and when he appeared this morning he was remanded until tomorrow.

MRS. WARD REMEMBERED. Mrs. Ward, of 341 Maitland street, who will attain her 81st birthday on Oct. 29, was treated to a pleasant surprise at the Ladies' Aid meeting of the cordial evening of every member of the church, as well as of the Ladies' Aid. Mrs. Ward replied in appreciative terms, thanking the ladies for their gift. Mrs. Nightingale was thanked for the pleasant entertainment, and in reply, expressed her pleasure in having the ladies as guests, and especially to honor to Mrs. Ward, who was a life-long friend of her mother and herself.

THE MAN SOCRATES WANTED.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The most honest man in the world has been discovered. Yesterday the Toronto customs authorities received a letter containing a one-dollar bill. The writer said: "Gentlemen, while in New York a few days ago my daughter purchased a silk tie, and neglected to call at the customs. The price of the tie was $3.50, and I herewith inclose $1."

People don't feel the heavings of the uplift until they get into the society of those who are anxious to pay for the yo-heave-ho work.

asked him for money. "Why did you interfere in the case?"

Callie Collins Unreliable. "I didn't interfere Mrs. Collins came into my store and made a very poor mouth. She told me of Jerry's troubles, and wanted shoes for the children. I gave her the shoes and I have not got the money yet. I went later to Mr. Reid's to buy goods, and I asked him if there was anything in the story Collins had told. Reid said that it was all bosh, that there was nothing in it as far as he knew. I knew that Collins was not a reliable man."

"Did you ever say that Collins had got $100, which was as much as anybody else had received?"

"No. Mr. Reid stated that for all Collins had done he had been paid by the party the same as anyone else. This is what Mr. Reid gave me to understand."

"Did Collins tell you his story?"

"Yes."

"And you now know it is absolutely true?"

"No. I do not know that it is true."

"Did you see Mr. Reid about it again?"

"No."

"Did you tell Collins you saw Reid?"

"No. I never spoke to him afterwards."

"Did you see any other person?"

"I saw young Mr. Gibbons, who said Collins was a sorehead, and there was nothing in his statement."

"Anybody else?"

"By brother, James H. Brown."

"Why did you not report back to Collins?"

Collins' Threats. "Because Collins told me that if the Liberals did not settle with him, he could get $2,000 from the Conservative party for telling all he knew. Collins added that he could get $2,500 for what he knew."

"Did you tell Reid this?"

"No. I could scarcely credit it."

"What did you tell Collins?"

"I told him if I were in his place I would take the money."

"You knew Jerry would make trouble?"

"I told Mr. Reid that Collins was threatening to go to the Conservative lawyers, Meredith & Judd, to get money and turn over the papers he had."

"What did Reid say?"

"He said I did not know Collins as well as he did, and that it was all bosh."

Mr. DuVernet began to bully the witness, and Mr. Brown declared that he would not be brow-beaten.

Mr. Wilkie protested against the crown's treatment of the witness, but as usual the magistrate decided for Mr. DuVernet.

"Did you tell Mr. Reid that Collins was likely to give over papers to Meredith & Judd and get $2,500 for them?"

"No."

"What did you tell Mr. Reid?"

"I told him that if the party owed Collins anything, it was advisable to settle with him."

"Collins told you he had the actual receipts of those who were bribed?"

"No."

"Did Collins explain his system to you?"

"No."

"He told you a lot of crooked work had been going on?"

"No. He told me he had done a lot of work for the party, but he did not look upon it as crooked."

"Did you ever see George C. Gibbons, sen., about the matter?"

"No."

There's Only One Best

In Baking Powder—It is Strong's. There are a number of good reasons why it is best, but the three principal reasons are:

First—Only the purest and finest materials are used. Second—It is all Baking Powder, no other ingredients added to make weight. Third—It is always fresh and of full strength. Another very good reason is that it costs one-half the price of other good powders. Have you tried Strong's Baking Powder?

Strong's Drug Store

"Did you see Mr. Reid about the subdivision?"

"Yes. I asked him for a man to canvass there."

"Whom did he send?"

"Mr. Alf Talbot."

"Did you get any money from Reid?"

"No."

"You have a recollection of handing out one envelope?"

"Yes."

"Any more?"

"No. I can't recollect."

"Are there any more?" asked the magistrate.

"Many more," said Mr. DuVernet. "We have many witnesses to call."

"Like your witnesses concerning the Tecumseh House interviews?" Mr. Wilkie interjected. "You were going to produce these witnesses, but we haven't seen them as yet."

"You have lots of time," said Mr. DuVernet.

"We have evidence to show that the money came from Reid and O'Gorman," Mr. DuVernet continued.

"You have no such thing," Mr. Wilkie corrected. "You have a lot of hearsay, and that's all. It's all right for political literature, but as for evidence it is no good. You are making wild statements."

Mr. DuVernet began to search Collins' story for evidence to show that the money came from Reid and O'Gorman, but he could not find what he wanted.

"Better adjourn to give the crown counsel time to refresh his memory," said Mr. Wilkie, and the court laughed.

Finally Mr. DuVernet hit upon a paragraph which he thought covered the case, but it was the shallowest hearsay, and what Collins had thought.

"My learned friend has been trying to show the money came from Reid. He's trying to fake now and draw a herring across the trail," said Mr. Wilkie.

"My learned friend is making rash statements," Mr. DuVernet said, hotly. "No," Mr. Wilkie retorted.

"There's no evidence against Mr. Reid," said the magistrate.

"And the crown counsel is not man enough to admit it," Mr. Wilkie declared.

Court adjourned at 1:30 until 3 p.m. McKay goes in the box again this afternoon.

There was a rumor at the city hall today that ex-Ald. Stevely would be a candidate for mayor for 1937.

Asked if there was any possibility of his again seeking the office of chief magistrate, Mr. Stevely said that he had not yet given the matter the slightest consideration, as he was too busily engaged with his private affairs.

"But it was even stated that you have been canvassing," Mr. Stevely was informed.

"There is no truth whatever in that report," said the ex-alderman. "I have not spoken to a single ratepayer in regard to his vote."

S. S. WORKERS CONVENT

Annual Gathering of the Ontario Association Opens at Kingston.

Kingston, Oct. 23.—The 41st annual gathering of the Ontario Sunday School Association opened this afternoon in Sydenham Street Methodist Church, Rev. William Frizzell, Ph.D., Toronto, filling the chair.

It is 50 years since the organization was formed here. For a time sessions were not held, so that this is but the 41st convention.

The weather was not very propitious, but the ardor of the numerous delegates was at a high pitch.

A fine programme has been arranged, many leading American and Canadian Sunday school workers being present in the service.

T. F. Harrison, superintendent of Sydenham Street Methodist Sunday School, welcomed the Ontario Sunday School Association to the city at the gathering of the body tonight.

William Frizzell, Toronto, president, very effectively replied.

The convention is now in full swing and able addresses on Sunday school themes have been made by President Frizzell, H. W. Brown, teacher training secretary; Rev. W. C. Merritt, Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, Peoria, Ill.; Rev. A. F. Schaeffer, D.D., New York.

The reports from cities, countries and districts were very encouraging.
