That her hair had turned gray as 3 result of the accident was one of the complaints of Miss Lillian Adair, whose suit for $10,000 damages from the Toronto Street Railway following her recovery from injuries sustained when she was struck by a street car and run over by a delivery wagon, was heard by Justice Latchford in the assize court yesterday.

Miss Adair removed her hat in the courtroom to show the jury the pres-ent color of her hair, contending that before the accident she had no signs of gray in her hair. The accident oc-curred about noon on March 8, when the plaintiff after alighting from a car at Yonge and Gerrard streets, was struck by a northbound Avenue road car.

She was struck again while prone on the ground and then run over by a wagon. She sustained concussion of wagon. She sustained concussion of the brain and other wounds besides having part of her foot amputated.

STANDING GRANTED.

By special arrangement of the Ontario Matriculation Board, high school students physically fit last year, may now enter the Royal College of Dental Surgeons. A demand for dental sergeants has arisen in England. The freshman class who volunteered in a body a few weeks ago, are likely to leave early in February to take up their duties.

The Story Of 1916

THE business of the London Life Insurance Company showed continued remarkable progress in 1916. The new business written, entirely in Canada, was $2,000,000 greater than in the previous year-a gain of 18 per cent. The increase in business in force was $3,000,000 greater than in the previous year--making the total in force at 31st December 1916, 20 per cent greater than at the end of the previous

The following comparative statement shows the progress

	1906	1911	1916
Insurance in Force	$10,376,413	$20,237,984	$41,715,31
Insurance Issued	3,387,774	7,369,183	13,036,44

The Company's action in waiving all restrictions as to Active Service under policies issued prior to the declaration of war has meant a very considerable additional strain, which however, has been fully met out of the earnings of the Company, in addition to the amount required to maintain the present liberal profit scale. Quinquennial distributions of profits in 1917 will be larger than ever.
