ARTIST OF OLD SCHOOL

Program Which Was Greatly Applauded, Brought Many Floral Tributes.

Miss Mona Bates' piano recital at the Conservatory of Music last night, in aid of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, drew a most fashionable and appreciative audience, which filled the hall. The attraction was of unusual merit. Miss Bates proved herself to be an artist of the school, if not of the rank, of Percy Grainger, and with regard to rank, she must be classed near the top. Brilliant as a technician

The marriage has been arranged to take place on Tuesday at 2.30 o'clock in the Church of St. Simon, very quiet-ly, only the relations being present, of Miss Evelyn Cox, daughter of the late Mr. E. Strachan Cox and Mrs. Cox, to Lieut.-Col. Boyd Magee. assisted at the second piano by Mr. Viggo Kihl, her teacher. This was played in splendid style, but Miss Bates' own peculiar qualities are perhaps better grasped in her solo work. The first suite was delightfully varied, and the grace of Scarlatti, the master-ly gaiety of Beethoven, the enchantments of Grieg and the magic of We-ber were all interpreted in exquisite tones. Tone is a peculiar gift with Miss Bates, and in the Chopin Prelude, D flat major, in the third suite, she showed this to perfection. The singing quality was notable, and her great control in touch gives her the traditional delicacy, the sensitiveness, the accuracy and the power of a steam-hammer, which can touch an egshell without injuring it, or mould ter, Mrs. Kingsmill, at Rockliffe, Ottawa-versatility of touch she possesses the feeling for the poetry in Chopin and the searching instinct for the occult beauties of his subtle harmonies. She has in fact the power and the wonder of a great musical imagination. The elfin daintiness of the Chopin Valse, op. 18, was delightful, tho the music sounded commonplace after the pre-lude. To create the atmosphere of the Thames embankment in a Toronto contopacco, cigarets, etc. At the close of the program coffee was served and an all too pleasant evening came to an end with a very satisfactory result to the 7th Battalion of the Royal Leinsters. vey of prices of a wide range of com-modifies, now, stands at 173.7, as compared with 142.5 a year ago and 136.6 for February, 1914. The increases last month have had the effect of increasing the weekly budget of an average family from $8.28 to 8.40. Flour and bread were higher in many places, altho they declined in others owing to hower wheat prices.
