NEED BETTER GRADING

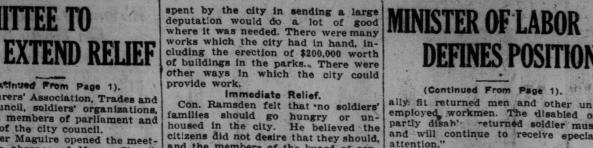

A bellef that the Ontario Agricultural College should be made the fountainhead and source of information to dairyhead and source of information to duiry-men, was voiced by Hon. Manning Do-herty, minister of agriculture, at the ban-quet held in the Carls-Rite least night by the Canadian Creamery Association of Ontario, who are in convention. The dairy building at Guelph, said Mr. Doherty, would be as modern as possible, and the dairy department would be well in the lead of any dairy institution in North America. Until science was linked in the lead of any deary institution in North America. Until science was linked up with the methods in use by the pro-fucer and creamery man, we could not hope to reach the top notch in dairying. Ontario would become more and more of a dairying province, and most of our na-tional indebtedness would be paid out of the soil.

Dairy production in Ontario reached a Dairy production in Ontario reached a total of almost $100,000,000, and there was no reason, said Mr. Doherty, why it should not increase 50 per cent. In-greased production was a problem, and quality would be a more important factor in the making of butter than in the past. Practically all creamery butter would be graded next year, and he gave statistics showing the advantages of grading but-ter, and of the importance of pasteuriza-tion.

 While at the London Dairy Show, in English, Mr. Doherty was surprised to find 17,000 people attended, who did not have to be anused by any sideshows, etc. that characterized our fairs. He felt that, from the viewpoint of the creamery men, butter prices in English were good, and the situation would be even butter when exchange became more stabilized, Britain was going ahead, and there var-turning to Canada, Mr. Doherty beived that Canadians did not know what taxa-tion meant, considering the burdens car-ried elsewhere, and no country, he country, he country, he country, he country, and would soon have a stable market for unreads, had fait in ourselves, and toteration for the other fellow, we would enter into an era of costinued prosperity, and would soon have a stable market for they and his department might co-oper-ate for the good of the producers and they and his department might co-oper-ate for the good of the producers.

Controller Maguire opened the meet-ing in the absence of Mayor Church who was attending a meeting of the harbor board, but who arrived in time to conduct the main proceedings. His worship said his idea was that the various bodies of the city should organize a drive for the creation of jobs for those in need, and he believed the employers of labor were willing to co-operate. The necessity of providing immediate relief, however, was em-phasized by representatives of the la-bor and soldiers' organizations, and the dispussion turned to the prospects of Controller Cameron also said the city would take care of the immediate requirements, but suggestions were re-quired to meet the labor situation. H. C. Hocken, M.P., said he knew the government was prepared to act in a generous manner. If He Died-The Business Would Die

How often have you heard some such statement made about a particular business?

It means - that one man, either through technical knowledge, or through his ability as an executive, controls for the time being, the destiny of the firm. If he died creditors might become anxious, inquisitive, or even troublesome, or any one of many contingencies might arise to threaten the stability of the business,-

Unless-his life was insured in favor of the firm.

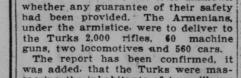

It is possible to so insure "his" life that the storm can be easily weathered and the business successfully carried on without him.

> The matter is very clearly dealt with in a book we have published, entitled "Personality in Business." It would be well worth your while to send for s copy and read it. You may have one for the asking.
