

CARLETON FIRE
MEETING TOPIC

Commissioner Harding is to Make Report to Common Council

Some Questions are Asked—Fire Marshal Gives Finding as to Cause of Blaze

What would be done with the ruins of the Carleton City Hall was the main topic of the meeting of the City Council this morning, when they met in committee of the whole. Commissioner Harding is to bring in a report on the fire and they possibly make some recommendation.

Commissioner Bullock asked Commissioner Harding if he knew whether the electric wiring done at the Carleton City Hall was done in connection with the installation of the moving picture chamber had been inspected and whether there had been any overloading of these wires by the putting in of a second machine.

Commissioner Harding wanted to know why such a question was being asked and Commissioner Bullock said it was to find out if overloading of the wires had anything to do with the fire.

Commissioner Harding said so far as he knew the wiring in the building was in good order and the matter of determining the cause of the fire was in the hands of the fire marshal.

REPORTS TO BOARD

H. H. McLellan, provincial fire marshal, said this morning that as far as he was concerned the matter of investigation into the West Saint John City Hall blaze was finished and that his report on the matter now would go before the New Brunswick Fire Prevention Board for consideration.

THIS IS FINDING

That the fire in the old Carleton City Hall last week was caused by the ignition of the film of a new motion picture machine in the Empress Theatre part of the building and that flames shot into an unprotected projection hole from the operating booth and thus set the film in the wall on fire was the finding of the fire marshal. H. H. McLellan, announced last night following the investigation, which concluded on Saturday.

BOYS HERE WITH DISTRESS

Four Scotch Lads Come to
City From Cossar
Farm

Came From Montreal and Say
They Were Not Received at Gagetown Place.

Telling a story that smacked very much of a chapter from Dickens, four broadly-accented Glasgow boys, Fred Clark, Donald Donaldson, Andrew Dingley and James Eadie, entered the Union Depot this forenoon trying to find somebody who would assist them in getting back to the boys' hostel in Montreal, from which institution they were sent to New Brunswick last week.

WALK FROM GAGETOWN.

The boys were footsore and hungry and their shoes gave evidence of the fifty-mile or so tramp they had endured to reach the city, after leaving the Cossar farm and a man representing the Orange order up there.

The boys landed in Saint John last Wednesday by train. Some people in the depot gave them the first meal they had eaten since leaving Montreal. In the afternoon they proceeded to the Cossar farm on the final strip of their tickets.

The young fellows told a Times-Star reporter that when they reached the farm the superintendent did not greet them but sent some of the boys living there to tell them he had received no word of their coming and knew nothing about them. Eventually, the lads said, they were given a meal and put to sleep on roughly-made beds of hay on boards. They did little work rolling barrels of apples.

The next day, receiving no word from the superintendent, who they assert, did not talk to them at all, the four Scotch lads struck out for Saint John in the hopes of getting back to Montreal and their parents. They are now in Saint John, but their parents are in Glasgow, but their people are in poor circumstances and cannot help them, they say.

THEIR BILL OF FAIR

On the way back to Saint John the wanderers were fed by people. At Caledonia, where they were in a latter place by a Scotch lady, they said. Their bill of fare otherwise was chiefly apples gathered along the way.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN.

IMPERIAL ORGAN
OPENING ON WED.

Because of delay in the arrival of several essential parts of its new Wurlitzer unit organ Imperial Theatre will be unable to hold the inaugural recitals as advertised today and tonight. The new date for the opening is Wednesday. Organ mechanics, electricians and tinsmiths have been connecting the big instrument with its electrical and wind-piping circuits day and night for nearly a week, and most everything is in readiness except the parts mentioned. It is a matter of great disappointment the well-laid plans should not carry today, but now that the gala occasion is deferred until Wednesday the opening programme will be all the better, it is expected.

The inaugural began its two matinees at 2 o'clock and 3.45, which with the new organ will be a great accommodation to everybody, particularly school children. The film show for Monday and Tuesday, chosen for the organ opening, is an especially delightful one, featuring Alton Terry and Lewis Stone in the big Metro-Goldwyn production "Confessions of a Queen."

Pool Room Case
In Police Court

A dispute in the Ideal Pool room on Saturday resulted in John Abernethy appearing in the police court this morning on a charge of using abusive and insulting language to George Thomas. He pleaded not guilty. The complainant said he entered the pool room about 12.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and the defendant denied him the right to play there. He said the defendant called him names.

The defendant denied this except that he had called him a "cheap stiff." He declared that he had denied him the right to play pool there because the man had not paid him for two weeks he had broken and promised to pay for.

Fred Oram testified.

The sitting magistrate said that he was compelled to adjudge the defendant guilty on his own admission of the words used. He fined him $8 or two months in jail. The fine was paid.
