HAD SAVED MANY LIVES IN WATER

Cousin of J. J. McGaffigan Passes Away in Brooklyn.

The Brooklyn Eagle of Sept. 28 records the death of a famous life-saver who was a cousin of J. J. McGaffigan of this city, and a nephew of the late Charles Kearney of Florenceville, N. B. The article is as follows:—

"Hugh Francis Doherty, 60, of 295 Hoyt street, a former noted life saver, who received two Congressional medals for heroism, and who was also active in Republican politics in this borough for many years, died Wednesday of heart trouble at his home, 295 Hoyt street."

"He was a well known figure for many years in the Gravesend Bay, Coney Island and Fort Hamilton sections, and was at one time commander of the U. S. Volunteer Life-Saving Corps. He had a record saving more than a dozen lives, and in 1906 was made a member of the American Cross of Honor. In 1912 he was awarded a medal by State Controller William Schaner in recognition of having saved four lives during the year. In 1898 he rescued a youth who was knocked off a yacht in Gravesend Bay in a thunder storm and a year later performed another rescue of a man drowning a mile off shore. Mr. Doherty also received six testimonials from the life saving corps for acts of bravery and also received a medal from the N. Y. Benevolent Life Saving Association. He was presented with one of the Congressional Medals by former Congressman Fitzgerald."

He was a member of the 8th A. D. Republican Club for many years, and was captain of the 4th E. D. of his district. He was also a delegate to the Kings County General Committee and was a furman in the sewer department for many years.

He is survived by his wife, Ellen T. Doherty; two sons, Cornelius and Francis H.; three daughters, Irene, Marie and Mrs. John Murray, and three brothers, Charles, Cornelius and Dennis Doherty."

HAMPTON AGROUND ON THE BELLEISLE

For Some Hours Fast Near Earle's Landing, But Freed Again.

The river steamer Hampton ran aground near Earle's wharf in the Belleisle yesterday morning while en route to Indiantown. She left Hatfield's Point on her down trip, but was forced to proceed slowly owing to a dense fog. While endeavoring to make a landing at Earle's, she ran hard fast aground and all efforts to refloat her at that time proved unavailing. At 6 o'clock in the afternoon the water in the river had raised considerably and the engines were ordered hard astern and it was not long before the steamer slipped free of the bank. An examination showed that no damage had been sustained and the resumed voyage to St. John, arriving at Indiantown last evening at 7 o'clock.

One of the owners of the steamer, in conversation with a representative of the Times, said that the hull of the steamer had not been damaged. Questioned about the freight on the steamer this fall, he said they were fairly heavy on the up-river trips of the steamer, but comparatively light coming down. This he attributed to a scarcity of farm produce, said to have resulted from a backward spring and a dry summer. Potatoes would be quite plentiful, but it was a little early yet for any large shipments down river.

A., and brought before her hearers most vividly the devastated areas in Japan, a country which just now is doubly interesting to W. A. workers in view of the recent disaster. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "Hanner made me bring her in yesterday to visit that Health Centre. She read about it in the Times and 'nother folks—' an' other folks—' an' we seen 'em fer ourselves. Hanner is givin' to take an hour to tell it to the Women's Institute out to the Settlement—' an' then start 'tag day. She says the Lord put it into the hearts of the people that set it goin'—' an' anybody that don't want to keep it goin' 'till he's visited with seven plagues so's they wouldn't never harden their hearts agin when they heard the cry of the children. When Hanner sets her mind to a thing it ain't no use to argue. I found that out a long time ago. But I'm hopin' they won't be any need of any plagues—fer it's the Lord's work—yes, sir."

SCOUTS WILL HELP AT DOCK OPENING

Plans for Guard of Honor Discussed at Meeting of Scoutmasters.

The scoutmasters of all the Boy Scout troops in the City, at a dinner held last evening in the La Tour dining rooms, decided to offer the services of their scouts to assist in the ceremonies in connection with the opening of the big dry dock at East St. John on October 29. It was decided that the dinner should be made a monthly affair and a committee of scoutmasters was appointed to make the necessary arrangements each month.

The district commissioner, Guy L. Short, was in the chair and the present members of the committee were: V. C. Timberley, district secretary, and the scoutmasters from seventeen troops.

On account of the fact that Baron Byng, Canada's Governor-General and Chief Scout in Canada, would be present at the opening of the St. John Dry Dock, it was decided that all the scouts should turn out and attend the opening ceremonies. The present plans are to have all the troops meet at Haymarket Square at a time to be announced later and hike to East St. John. Here the uniformed scouts will form a guard of honor to greet Lord Byng on his arrival and, if necessary, attend him during his stay at the dock. According to present advice the Governor-General will arrive in the city on the morning of October 29 and leave the same evening.

It was unanimously decided to make the dinner a monthly affair of both scoutmasters and cubmasters during which live matters in connection with the movement and details of troop training will be discussed. Assistant scoutmasters and cubmasters will be eligible to attend as proxies in the absence of their seniors. The meetings will take place on the second Wednesday of each month.

Other Plans.
It was announced that plans were being made by the Rotary Club to promote a high school concert in aid of the troops was asked to help along with its success. Today, Oct. 26, was accepted as a suitable date for this event which will take place in the Pythian Castle.

Tentative plans for a hobbies and handicraft exhibition of scout work were considered and will receive further attention at the next meeting. Another matter which was discussed, but to which further discussion will be given, was that of fraternal visits between troops.
