State of Trade

War Industries Lead — Men and Materials Taken Freely — Outside Industries Feeling Scarcity of Materials and Fuel

(Bradstreet's.)

The country's preoccupation in the war becomes more marked as the year advances, and the phrase "business as usual" seems to have less application than ever before to American trade and industry.

Commanding of men and materials goes on apace, and great changes from ordinary times are seen. Further improvement in crop prospects and some betterment in retail trade are apparent.
