

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated
Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, soft bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

HAIG WARNS TROOPS AGAINST FALSE RUMORS OF PEACE AT HAND

London, Oct. 12.—(Canadian Press despatch from Reuters' Limited)—Field Marshal Haig on Oct. 7 issued an army order calling the attention of officers and men to the circulation of false rumors to the effect that peace was at hand with the evident object of discouraging the troops and diverting them from the great task of overthrowing their enemies. Field Marshal Haig urged the troops to realize now more than ever that it was necessary to concentrate their energies on the great goal all hope for, namely, the attainment in the near future of a decisive and happy result.

FEAR FOR 500 ON TRANSPORT OFF THE IRISH COAST

The Otranto, With American Troops, Is Rammed

WAVES 75 FEET HIGH

Stirring Story of Collision And Events Following—Plucky Work of Rescue by a British Destroyer

An Irish Port, Oct. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Two hundred and ninety-five American soldiers from the transport Otranto and 288 of the crew have been accounted for, but the fate of nearly 500 more of the ship's company who were aboard the stricken transport when she drifted ashore is still unexplained. In the hope of securing those who succeeded in fighting their way ashore through the raging surf, a party of eight, including physicians, left here for a point farther north, whence they embarked for Islay Island carrying clothing, medical and other supplies furnished by the American Red Cross.

Further details of the work done by a British destroyer in taking off the Otranto and landing safely hundreds of soldiers and sailors brought to this port accentuate the remarkable daring and skill of the rescuing craft. Even after the survivors had reached the position of the destroyer their position continued desperate, for mountainous waves repeatedly broke over the little vessel and, according to reports, swept about thirty persons overboard. Others were saved from a similar fate by lashing themselves to the torpedo tubes and the destroyer's superstructure.

For nearly twelve hours the survivors, all wet through and many badly injured, were exposed to the fury of the wind and the waves until the destroyer made port.

Fifty-five were hurried into waiting ambulances and rushed to hospitals. Others were taken to a British barracks, where the American Red Cross quickly fitted them out with a complete change of clothes and all were given hot food and stimulants. Many of them were weak from the exposure and strain. Private Raymond Simpson died on the destroyer from injuries.

A Collision.
The Otranto was the flagship of a large convoy, including the Kashmir, which, as the result of a heavy gale, became unmanageable. A thick rain cloud in on the convoy on Sunday morning off the north coast of Ireland, and about 9 o'clock the Kashmir rammed the Otranto amidships.

Although the Otranto's commander realized that the ship probably was fatally damaged, he ordered the other vessels to proceed, including the Kashmir, which was able to continue under her own steam and eventually reached port. The Otranto's case seemed hopeless. The gale was then at its worst and the sea running seventy-five feet high. There was no chance of launching the boats, and as the engines had stopped the vessel was left at the mercy of the waves and drifted rapidly before the storm. Soon the ship began to list and the soldiers and crew, under perfect discipline, moved in a body to the other side, thus preventing the vessel from capsizing. Suddenly through the mist loomed a small destroyer which had picked up the Otranto's distress signal. The destroyer herself was partly disabled by engine trouble. Seven of the Otranto's boats were lowered to the water to act as a buffer for the destroyer, which with wonderful seamanship manoeuvred close to the Otranto's side. The order to abandon ship was given and the officers commanding the troops instructed the men to remove their overcoats and shoes. Scarpes then began to leap from the rails, fifty feet above, to the destroyer's deck.

A British Port, Thursday, Oct. 10.—The Otranto drifted to and struck the rocks on Sunday night south of Salgo Bay, Islay Island, an uninhabited section where the coast line in many places rises straight out of the water to the rocky peaks many feet above.

175 Bodies Recovered.
A British Port, Oct. 12.—Up to 6 o'clock Wednesday evening 175 bodies had been recovered from the lost transport Otranto, which was sunk in a collision with the steamer Kashmir. Virtually all of the bodies recovered have been identified.

Admiralty Report.
London, Oct. 12.—A British admiralty statement says that the transport Otranto collided on Sunday with the transport Kashmir. The statement follows: "At 11 o'clock on Sunday the armed mercantile cruiser Otranto, acting Captain Ernest Davidson in command, was in collision with the steamship Kashmir. Both vessels were carrying United States troops. The weather was very bad and the ships drifted apart and soon lost sight of each other.

The torpedo boat destroyer Noon was called by wireless and by skillful handling succeeded in taking off 27 officers and 288 men of the crew and 300 United States soldiers and thirty

Why Canada must borrow money to carry on

Because Canada has put her hand to the plow and will not turn back—

—our country is in the war on the side of liberty and justice and will stay in it till complete victory is won and the unspeakable Hun is smashed and beaten to the ground;

—a nation at war must make tremendous expenditures in cash to keep up her armies and supply them with munitions, food and clothing;

—Canada must finance many millions of dollars of export trade in food, munitions and supplies which Britain and our allies must have on credit;

—for these purposes Canada must borrow hundreds of millions of dollars—

And, this money must be borrowed from the people of Canada—

Therefore, Canada will presently come to her people for a new Victory Loan to carry on.

Canadians will loan the money by again buying Victory Bonds.

The national safety, the national honor and the national well-being require that each and every Canadian shall do his duty by lending to the nation every cent he can spare for this purpose.

Be ready when the call comes to see your country through in its great war work.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

340 U. S. Soldiers Lost.
London, Oct. 12.—More than 340 American soldiers were lost on the transport Otranto, sunk in collision with the steamer Kashmir off the south Scottish coast. This developed from checking the Otranto's list at American headquarters, where it was found the death roll of soldiers stood at 344 or 345. More than 300 bodies had been recovered up to this morning. Many of these were given burial by a party sent from Liverpool.
