FEARFUL REVENGE OF WIFE

Sault Ste Marie Woman Kills Husband With Axe

SLAIN AS HE SLEPT

He Had Attacked Her With Knife Last Fall—Five Days Fire, Murder and Suicide on British Steamer

(Canadian Press) Sault Ste Marie, Ont., April 17.—Peter Napolitano, an Italian living near James street, Little Italy, known here as Peter Napolitano, was killed last evening by his wife, Margery. The woman admits the murder and is in jail.

Napolitano was employed on the night shift at the steel plant. He was asleep in bed when his wife attacked him with an axe. The first blow struck him on the forehead and nearly severed the crown of his head. Four blows followed, the last one all but severing the head from the body. The woman then went out in the street and told passersby what she had done.

The murder is the echo of a case last fall, when Napolitano returned home unexpectedly and stabbed his wife several times. She was for some months in the hospital. She evidently awaited the opportunity to get even.

New York, April 17.—A murder, a suicide and a fire which raged for five days, were recorded in the log of the British freight steamer Headley, which reached New York on Saturday from Montevideo. The ship's crew of thirty-seven Chinese, offered by British sailors, fought the blaze in the bunkers and with the aid of some strength extinguished it.

The murder occurred twelve days later, when a Chinese sailor slew the hostess, a fellow countryman, with a hatchet. The sailor then jumped overboard to his death, still grasping his weapon.

ANARCHY REIGNS AT DELAGOA BAY; BRITAIN SENDS CRUISER THERE

London, April 17.—(Canadian Press)—A Cape Town dispatch says that the British protected cruiser Forte has been ordered to Delagoa Bay, according to the Johannesburg Express anarchy reigns at Delagoa Bay, owing to the fact that many officials and residents in this Portuguese and South African territory remain loyal to the deposed monarchy.

The revolutionists demand the deposition of the Governor of Mozambique and the expulsion of these loyalists.

Have you observed that while commission is opposed very bitterly by certain nameless persons there is no one to stand out and defend the present system? It can't be defended. Sweep it away!

CANADIAN BOUTS WERE SNAPPY ONES

Close of the Boxing Championships in Toronto—Late News of Sport

(Canadian Press)

Toronto, April 17.—Saturday night closed one of the best amateur boxing tournaments ever held for the Canadian championships. While the decision of nearly all the previous champions to the professional ranks probably had the effect on the quality of boxing, the events were all closely contested and decisions in most cases were earned only after three rounds of the hardest kind of mulling.

Only one title went to an outside entry with Thrasher of the Soo winning in the 138 pound class. Williams, of Brantford, was hurt in the semifinals of the 125 pound class, and was unable to go into the final with Wolfe, robbing the programme of what would have been a spirited battle.

Considerable dissatisfaction was shown at the decisions in the semifinal of the middleweight class when Norgate was given the decision over Alexander of Glen Williams, although he had a terrific battle in the final with Thrasher, of the Soo, and had the referee insisted on clean breaks and stopped hitting on the ropes, would undoubtedly have won.

Detroit, Mich., April 17.—The Detroit Boxers' Club has released a featherweight, featherweight of Canada, to appear in Toronto on May 3, likely with Young O. To.

CAPE BRETON GIRL IN BOSTON ROMANCE

Has Been Wife of University Professor for Nearly Three Years; None Knew of It

Boston, April 17.—Miss Anna McDonald, a stenographer of 22 Spring street, Cambridge, formerly of Cape Breton, eloped with Christopher Carl Glyvert of Havrethill professor of Business Administration at Harvard '08, to Nashua, N. H., early in September, 1908, and none of their friends learned of their marriage until last week.

They met while Glyvert was a senior at Harvard, and immediately following his graduation with high honors, arranged to elope into love and they were married in Nashua, N. H.

The day the nuptial Glyvert left to become an instructor at the University of Idaho, and Mrs. Glyvert returned to her duties as a stenographer. The city clerk in Nashua never made the license public and her friends continued to call her Miss McDonald.

Glyvert had worked his way through college, and on leaving for Idaho was not plentifully supplied with funds. He agreed to take his wife there but she would not go. Twice since their marriage he has made flying trips to Boston. She said: "We are looking forward to the day when we will be so financially independent that we can live together in comfort and happiness. Both of us are working for that now."

MORE CHARGES OF THEFT AGAINST TONER

Stealing From Barber and From Two North End Households—Goods Recovered

Since the arrest of Charles W. Toner, aged 19, of North End, some time ago ago, F. W. Nicholson, articles valued at more than $100. Detective Killen and Deputy Chief Jenkins have been steadily working on other cases of theft, and as a result more charges have been entered against the young prisoner, increasing the value of his suspected stolen goods to a considerable sum.

Three more separate charges of theft have been entered against him. He is charged with stealing from Leo McIntyre, a barber, employed in a store in Dock street, a pair of shoes. He is also charged with stealing from the home of Mrs. Laura Logan, Main street, the following articles of silverware: Six forks, one meat fork, one ladle, sugar spoon, eleven teaspoons, pickle fork, fruit knife, five table knives, napkin ring, gold brooch, gold bracelet, gold necklace and chain, two linen tray cloths, two linen towels, linen tablecloth, opera glasses, ostrich feather, fan, two de'Villes, and a nickel bank.

From the same house, he is charged with stealing property of Eliza Payne—a gold-filled watch and chain, gold ring, gold earrings, pair of scissors, four handkerchiefs, four yellow cases, four muslin aprons, one night-gown, and other articles of woman's apparel.

It is said that Toner was contemplating matrimony with a young woman from North End in a short time, and that he had begun to furnish the house. A list of his goods have been recovered by the police.

NEW YORK'S EASTER PARADE WAS SPOILED BY COLD WEATHER

New Hats go Sailing in the Air—Many Canadians in Fifth Avenue March

New York, April 17.—(Canadian Press)—A flurry of snow about 4:30, during the time a bright afternoon sun, now and then, was obscured by great white puffs of cloud, and cold westerly winds, which were blowing hard, made the parade in New York yesterday. Altogether it was pleasant but far too cold and windy for the Easter festival.

Many Canadians were among the parade and the Toronto teachers, easily recognized by the Union Jacks worn on their coat labels, were in full force. The parade was so high however, that the Canadians who had come prepared for summer weather, soon abandoned the show. There were those who said they knew, who asserted that fewer of the parade had taken part in it than in years past. The shelter of the limousines or bundled in furs in the carriages which streamed up the avenue.

(Canadian Press)

Dresden, April 17.—A thrilling accident occurred yesterday at the competition of the Saxony Aeronautical Society. The balloon Nordhausen ascended prematurely, carrying Otto Korn, a Dresden manufacturer, clinging to the outside of the basket.

The pilot at once opened the valve, letting off the gas, but the balloon was driven with great force against the gasometer. Korn fell to the ground, breaking his leg. The balloon, freed of its weight ascended quickly and passed over the gasometer but the escaping gas ignited, causing an explosion. The four occupants of the balloon were thrown from the basket and crashed through a roof. The pilot, Capt. Von Erdmann, suffered a fractured skull and is not expected to recover. The other three were badly injured.

On the eve of his departure for Montreal Ronald H. Blennerhassett, who has been promoted from the supervision of the foreign freight departments of the C. P. (Special to Times) Boston, April 17.—A supposed victim of aphasia, Charles R. Earnest, a master carpenter, of Newton, is missing from home and all efforts to locate him have failed. He was last seen on Wednesday.

"I believe my husband has lost his memory, and is wandering about like a child, unable to tell his own name or his address. I have reason to believe it is a remarkable case of complete loss of identity, and I have my greatest hopes of return on the chance that the mental cloud may suddenly lift and reveal him to himself," said Mrs. Earnest today.

Yesterday a force of 100 men, headed by the police, searched the woods around the Chestnut Hill section, but without success. A larger force is beating the woods today. Today Mrs. Earnest sent a telegram to Lunenburg, N. S., her former home. She entertains the firm hope that some hidden intuition might have led him to go back there and she asked her relatives to be on the watch for him.

Burnaby went west, and is now a salesman in Chicago. Recently Miss Kempton came to Boston to devote her time to music and has been living in Somerville.

It did not take long for Burnaby to learn that his school days' sweetheart had left the province and was engaged to another man. The result was that a few weeks ago he made a flying trip to Somerville. Since then they have been making arrangements for yesterday's wedding. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles H. Day, of the First Baptist church of Watertown.
