London, Feb. 24. The inc mittee of the privy council gave judgment sue, enactments relating to assignments around the representatives of the Queen purely voluntary, do not infringe on the exclusive legislative power of the Domin-dia. ion government. The merits of the case heard on December 15th, when Hon. Edward Blake appeared for the province of Ontario and Sir Richard The Orthodox Medical Frateralty Met ebster presented the arguments on behalf of the Dominion. The question was whether the jurisdiction of the Dominion parliament on the subject of bankruptcy and insolvency was so exclusive at, though not exercised, the provincial legislature was powerless to give even partial relief. Canadian judges had differed on the subject. The Dominion government were not anxious to maintain the opposite view, though, as a matter of official duty, they had to contend, and through their counsel did contend, exclusive jurisdiction, despite the ontario insolvency act of 1887. This report is concurred in by the Republican members

(1.) They condemn the appointment of Commissioner Blount as unconstitutional. the orders of Mr. Blount or Mr. Willis were without authority of law.

(3.) That the order of Blount 15 Admiral Skerrett to lower the flag was un lawful and susceptible of being construed as unfriendly to the provisional government, and they regard the intercour of Mr. Blount and Mr. Willis with the deposed queen as violative of internation al law, and unwarranted. (4.) They consider the President had no

The recognition of the provisional government was lawful and authoritative. The complaint by Lilliuokalani in the protest that she sent to the President of the United States, under date the 18th of January, is not, in the opinion of the committee, well founded in fact or in justice."

The report goes on to say that from evidence adduced before the committee, she was the author and promoter of the revolution by her conduct with regard to the constitution. Touching on Blount's mission to Hawaii the report says Blount went to Hawaii under circumstances of extreme embarrassment, and executed his instructions with impartiality, arrived at the truth and presented a report to the President of the United States touching the facts, a knowledge of which he thus regard to the situation has, in the opinion of the committee, established the Many precedents are quoted to show
