HONEST OR ASTUTE.

About thirty hours after the Democratic convention had decided to expunge the gold plank from its platform and several hours after he had been notified of his nomination for the presidency, Judge Parker sent a telegram to the convention saying that personally he was in favor of a financial system based on a gold standard and could not accept the nomination unless, if elected, he should be free to act according to his views.

On no height of the hills I'll meet her, In a vale that is hidden deep In the heart of the drowsing wood, the sweeter For all its trance of sleep.

There will she dawn on her old adorer With her morning mien that is more than fair, The shimmer of sunlight glinting over her And a wild rose in her hair.

Somewhere she comes, and the thought elates me, To a mood akin to a dream of bliss, For I know what happiness awaits me In the glamour of her kiss.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, July 14.—The railway commission met this morning for the first time in their new offices on Queen street.

Flanagan's railway bill was under discussion for the greater portion of the day, and McLean moved an amendment to the effect that the railway commission as to control of rates.

After recess McLean's amendment to the railway act to adopt American railway passenger rates of 10 cents per mile was adopted.

At one o'clock the conservative members assembled in room 210 of the Parliament building, and presented George Taylor, the veteran chief whip of the party with a letter of resignation.

During the debate on Mr. McLean's motion, Mr. Emerson referred to petitions he had received from several places in the Maritime Provinces to have a branch of the Canadian Express Co. over the I. C. R.

NEWCASTLE, N. B., July 14.—Wm. Irvine, employed as brakeman on the I. C. R. for about three weeks, met with an accident here this morning, which will likely prove fatal.

WOODSTOCK RACES. WOODSTOCK, July 14.—The track was in fine condition for the races at the park today and as a result the results were heavy in the free-for-all.

PAUL KRUGER. Paul Kruger, who died yesterday, lost his hold on fame when he fled from the Transvaal. Had he stayed and shared in the burdens that pressed upon his people, posterity would probably have held him as worthy to rank with the noblest patriots and most devoted heroes of history.

But he gave up all claim to that when, at the first approach of personal discomfort and danger he gathered his millions of money together and fled ignominiously to another country, leaving braver and better men to bear the brunt of the war into which he had forced them.

A Dutch South Africa, with the British driven into the sea, and, according to his vision, he laid his plans well. His under estimation of his opponents was his only error.

Therefore, when Paul Kruger is viewed in the perspective of time, the cunning grasping, bigoted, self-seeking old schemer will show in poor contrast with such men as Joubert, DeLarey and DeWet, who, though they had nothing to do with the making of the war, when once the issue was joined between their people and a strange people, personally opposed to them, but even after they knew they were giving their blood in vain.

THE TRYST. I have prayed for a tryst with summer, I have yearned for it late and long; My soul goes out to the tardy comers, With all her bare of song.

As regards infant mortality the city is remarkably free from the following figures: Under one year of age... 42 deaths.

Between one and five years, 22 deaths; between five and ten years, 13 deaths; between ten and fifteen years, 9 deaths; between fifteen and twenty years, 7 deaths.

This was out of a total death list of 330. During last year there were 146 deaths of persons under one year of age, 82 between one and five, the total for the year was 771.

Last year there was a bad epidemic of whooping cough which does not usually terminate fatally, but 23 deaths were due to this disease during 1903.

Cholera infantum usually claims a large number of victims, and it generally starts about the present time, but so far no case has been reported.

TROUBLE AT HOSPITAL. Mrs. Hattie Whippley of Pond street, whose little eleven-year-old son, Sanford, died last Friday, after an operation performed in the General Public Hospital, has a complaint against that institution.

Mrs. Whippley says that her son had been seriously ill in the hospital for five weeks and that the operation was performed without her knowledge, she having received no intimation of any such action until the day after it had been done.

She was informed, she says, that the boy cried for her steadily all through the night on which the operation was performed, which was that of Wednesday, July 6th.

The little lad hurt his back when very young, and last January was unfortunate enough to fall on the ice, seriously injuring the right hip. Six weeks ago he was taken to the hospital and until last Friday, when he died, suffered untold agony.

Mrs. Whippley says that she would not have objected to the operation being performed, for she felt that such an action was necessary in order to save the boy's life, but she thinks that she should have been informed of the matter, especially when the child was so anxious to see his mother.

Dr. Grant, one of the hospital doctors, said last night that as he had only been there a few days, he was not in a position to know much about the operation, but he had been of the opinion that the mother was not informed.

The child was suffering from tuberculosis of the hip, and the only thing that could be done was to operate, which was done under the direction of Doctors Lanney and Pratt.

HEALTH MATTERS.

The City is Remarkably Free from Disease of Any Kind.

There does not appear to be any cause for fear that the infant mortality of St. John will reach the alarming proportions which it has done in a week have been dying. This refers to infants under one year of age from infectious diseases, as not one has been reported during July.

The mortality among young people during the first five months of the present year may be seen from the following figures: Under one year of age... 42 deaths.

Between one and five years, 22 deaths; between five and ten years, 13 deaths; between ten and fifteen years, 9 deaths; between fifteen and twenty years, 7 deaths.

WORK STOPPED.

Owing to Protest From Fairville—C. P. R. Wants Precautions Taken.

The Street Railway Company have been notified by the C. P. R. that the practice of allowing people to cross and re-cross at pleasure the C. P. R. track which runs through Seaside Park must be discontinued, on account of the element of danger involved in it. The C. P. R. suggest that the Street Railway Company build a foot bridge over the track. The C. P. R., however, have intimated that the continuance of the practice, provided reasonable precautions are observed, will not be interfered with during the present summer, but that next summer it must be stopped.

The work on the second track to Seaside Park has been discontinued for the present, owing to the protest of the Fairville people. A meeting between the county councilors, representing Fairville and the directors of the company will take place next Wednesday with a view to settling the difficulty.
