FROM THE FAR NORTH.

Letter Received From Head of Expedition
Was Five Months En Route.

OTTAWA, July 21.—An interesting letter has been received at the Geological Survey here from Mr. V. G. Stefansson, leader of the joint expedition sent to the North over a year ago by the American Museum of Natural History and the Geological Survey of Canada. The letter was posted on February 12, but only reached Ottawa a few days ago. It is dated from Port Barrow, about the most northerly inhabited point on the mainland in the region of the Arctic circle, and tells a graphic tale of the trials and hardships of the party, at the same time giving a description of the habits of the Eskimos of the farther north. The letter is written on ruled paper torn from a notebook and has travelled to Ottawa by the hands of Eskimos and white men, by dog trail, boat and railway. It is in part as follows:

"I have made a sled trip out here to send out mail; there are two outgoing mails, November 1 and February 15. We have been getting along fairly well. Our winter quarters are on the lower Colville at the mouth of the Ekimik river. Many of the people there have never seen white people before, though they are disappointedly disappointed by contact with civilized Eskimos.

"Dr. Anderson will stay another year and we hope to spend the winter here near the mouth of the Copper-mines or on Victoria Island.

"We are not spending the winter together. I thought it wiser to divide the party for hunting purposes, so no with his Eskimos went into the mountains south of Porter Island, hoping to live an sheep and fish, while I with four went to the Colville. Mr. Stefansson goes on to say that he has not seen Dr. Anderson since October but supposes he is doing well, as his party found themselves in danger of starving they were to rejoin that of Mr. Stefansson.

The next communication from the exploring party will probably not be received till next September.

FLAT POCKETS AT HIPS.

One of the Director's fashions that has not died is the long flat pocket at the hips. They are used as trimming although the prudent and sensible woman has them as flaps for real pockets, for she is not the kind to carry everything in a darning purse. These flaps are quaintly shaped, quite conspicuous in size and trimmed with soutache, wide braid and buttons. They are used on linen, pongee, summer cheviot and any of the new fabrics that go to make coat suits. One might be careful to get them at the right spot on the figure, so they will not increase the size of the hips. No woman wants to confess that she has hips these days, and therefore it is a grievous error to put a piece of trimming over the spot where the hips have vanished.

PLAITS.

Plaits are coming in attractively just now, especially on the princess frock, for over the shoulder will be seen as many as nine plaits, the lower portion being hidden with the panel and dress sides that round at the high waist line under the arms. This also gives breadth to the frock. Immediately below the plaits appear at the sides of the frock, possibly deeper right at the edge of the panel decreasing at the back. This makes the top on the skirt and a stylish arrangement, too.

THIRTEEN HANGED IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Men Executed Include One Time Commandant of Erzeroum Fortress and Several Other Officers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 21.—Thirteen men were hanged today. The persons executed included Joussef, formerly commandant of the fortress of Erzeroum; three colonels, four lieutenants, three soldiers and the editor of the newspaper Volkan.

In spite of the assurances of the press a response to the note regarding Crete from the Powers has not yet been sent. The cause of this is a divergence of opinion in the Cabinet. Changes in the Ministry will take place after the close of the anniversary of the constitution.

FAYETTE HAS HERO MEDAL CANDIDATE

Claim of Man Who Rescued Two From Stream Being Urged.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 21.—Friends of Howard Ringer, who rescued Patrick Gleason and his son John from the swift waters of the Big Sandy creek at Elliottville during the flood on Saturday, June 8, are taking steps to have his act brought to the attention of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. When no one else would venture into the stream, Ringer plunged in and rescued the two men, neither of whom could swim; but before he could do so all three men were compelled to cling to trees in the middle of the stream for two hours, Ringer being naked and suffering intensely from the chilly waters, and fearing at the time that cramps would seize him.

The two Gleasons had started to drive through the water that covered the road leading to Elliottville, and their buggy was carried into the Big Sandy and overturned. Neither of the men could swim, and Patrick Gleason, who is 65 years old, went under the water. Ringer, who is a native of Uniontown, Pa., was a young man at the time of the rescue.

The men called for help, and numerous persons gathered on the two shores. It was seen that Patrick Gleason needed immediate assistance, and Howard Ringer stripped himself and started up stream and swam the 100 yards to the tree through the swift current. He plunged in and made for shore, the current being so swift that it carried him 100 yards to the tree. He clung to the tree, and it was necessary for Ringer to fight the current again to carry the life line back to the shore. Ringer plunged in again and pulled the long life line to the tree, and Patrick Gleason was rescued and Ringer got back to shore again.

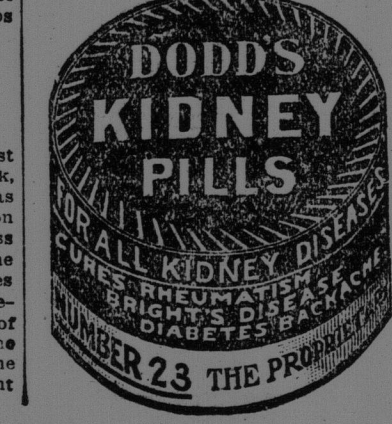

While all this was going on Nick Ringer had made an effort to rescue John Gleason from the other tree, but in the struggle with John, who could not swim, both men went under the water and had to get back to the tree again.

Ringer again appealed to, but in order to start operations he had to get on the opposite shore, and to do so he had to dress, run up through the village and over the bridge and then undress again to swim it. He carried the life line to the stream and rescued John Gleason. After the flood it was found the water had been about fifteen feet deep where the Gleasons had lodged. The dead horse and buggy were found three miles back still fastened together by the traces.

AMERICA WILL SHARE IN BIG CHINESE LOAN

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20.—American participation in the loan of $10,000,000, about to be negotiated by the Chinese government on the Hankow-Szechuen R. R. and other enterprises, will be arranged to the entire satisfaction of this government, thus securing the maintenance of the "open door" in China.

Assurance to this effect came to the state department today from Peking and gave great satisfaction to officials who have been patiently watching developments both in the financial and political spheres of the Chinese government that the United States was fully entitled to share with foreign governments in the allotment of the loan.

INSANE GIRL DROPS 60 FEET; UNHURT

Julia Mikes Climbs Pole and Dangles High in Air From Clothes Line, Scorning Police.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Suffering a return of dementia caused by fear that she was again to be taken to Manhattan State Hospital, from which she was discharged a year ago as cured, Julia Mikes, of No. 207 East Fourth street, climbed a clothesline in the rear of her home yesterday and swinging from a line sixty feet from the ground, after resisting rescue by the police, dropped to the ground, landing upon her feet, without suffering the slightest injury.

The girl sang as she trifled with death and laughed at the pleadings of policemen to come down. While one of them went in search of a net to spread beneath her another climbed the pole with a glass of wine in the hope that she might tempt the girl to come within his reach.

Divining that police, Miss Mikes permitted him to come close to her, then climbed the glass out of his hand with a blow in the face from the other. The young woman then released her hold and, falling through a network of clotheslines, landed upon her feet in the yard unscathed. She was hurried to Bellevue Hospital.

The mother of the girl is a cook, and two weeks ago was employed at a hotel at Leehford, N. J., the girl serving as waitress. The young woman plied for the fields and woods of her native Hungary until she lost her reason, and, divesting herself of her clothing, she wandered into the fields beyond Beechford, where she was found asleep in the grass. She fought members of the search party. She was brought home on Sunday.

Overhearing her mother and father discussing her condition yesterday, Miss Mikes went out and climbed the clothes pole.

MANY MAN-EATERS ADDED TO HORROR

Messina Harbor Was Crowded With Sharks.—Secured Many Victims.

LONDON, July 21.—How man-eating sharks added to the horrors of the sea catastrophe is told in a scientific report which has just been published by the Italian Zoological Society. The report, which has been submitted by Prof. Condorelli and Perrando, of Catania, says that a few creatures stomach a quantity of human remains. Prof. Perrando examined the remains of a man, about 50, a woman, and a child of about 6, judging by the size of the skeleton. The remains of the man were found in the stomach of a shark. The remains of the woman and child were found in the stomach of a shark. The remains of the man were found in the stomach of a shark. The remains of the woman and child were found in the stomach of a shark.

ASSASSINATION VS. MURDER

English Law Cannot Reach Instigator of Recent Tragedy.

LONDON, July 21.—Even the London Times admits that the law cannot reach Krishnavarma, editor of the Indian Sociologist, who has been urging Indian patriots to "remove" Anglo-Indian officials, although something may be done in regard to the printer of his periodicals. Horley Brothers, 646 Ramford Road, in London, has been brought to light by the murder of Sir Hutt Curzon Wylie, the other evening at a reception of the Indian association. It has long been known that Indian House, Highgate, a student hotel maintained by Krishnavarma, has been the centre of Indian agitation in London, and yet no steps have been taken by the police to suppress the meetings held there.

In a recent letter to the London Times Krishnavarma justified the murder of Englishwomen in India, on the ground that "those who habitually live and associate with wrongdoers and robbers (and Indian Nationalists regard all Englishmen in India as robbers) do so at their own peril."

In his own paper early in July he declared openly:

"At the risk of alienating the sympathies and good opinion of almost all our old friends and acquaintances, we repeat that political assassinations is not murder. All unprovoked men treat political assassinations, not as criminals in any way but often regard them as benefactors of their race."

KILLS RIGHT HEN AND GETS EGG SHE NEEDS

Littiz Woman Both Good Gesser and High Financier.

LITITZ, Pa., July 21.—It was a gem of a thought that came to Mrs. Jane Drew, of Warwick, the other day, and which enabled her to complete a business deal the general store.

She needed groceries, and, as is usual in the country, decided to "trade" for eggs. Unfortunately, she had only eleven eggs. Every nest was examined, but the twelfth egg, the one upon which hung the whole transaction for who ever heard of trading with eleven eggs—could not be produced.

Mrs. Drew knew where to find an egg. She sized up her flock. Her eyes rested upon the most faithful layer, hence, by turning backward to the Ontario of 1888, when the population of the Province was only about a million and a quarter. He believes that the resources of the Province will insure it first place in the Dominion for many years to come. This is the fourth of the important series of articles on the future of the Dominion. It is published in the July 14th issue of COLLEGE'S.

ONTARIO FIFTY YEARS HENCE.

Sir J. P. Whitney casts the commercial horoscope of Ontario fifty years hence, by turning backward to the Ontario of 1858, when the population of the Province was only about a million and a quarter. He believes that the resources of the Province will insure it first place in the Dominion for many years to come. This is the fourth of the important series of articles on the future of the Dominion. ## "WAR-SCARE-ITIS" IS IN ITALY NOW

Italians Afraid Austria Will Attack Them—Editor Helps Fan the Flames.

ROME, July 21.—The Franco-Italian expressions of mutual good-fellowship that were exchanged in celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the defeat of Austria at the battle of Solferino have hardly tended to diminish the anti-Austrian tension here. Following the disclosure article by a naval officer declaring that the Austrian-Italian conflict was inevitable for 1912, Signor Battista Pellegrini, in his review of the Italian press, has published an article which throws a somewhat sensational light on the military preparations that Austria is making against Italy.

According to Signor Pellegrini, Austria is methodically preparing for a war against Italy and during the recent Balkan crisis the Austrian generals gathered in Prague, taking seriously into account the possibility of an armed intervention by Italy, formulating a plan for the invasion of Italian territory.

Aside from Signor Pellegrini's revelations, it is a well known fact that for the last seven years Austria has been steadily increasing her garrison on the Italian frontier, and from the latest trustworthy publications, it appears, that recently many new fortifications have been erected, and the actual forces spread along the frontier have been increased by seventeen batteries, thirteen machine gun sections, and thirty-five detachments of train.

ARTILLERY TO GO SATURDAY

Officers Named for Petewawa SPECIAL TRAIN

Scheme of Sending Firing Parties of Batteries in a Body

The detachments from the 3rd Artillery which will go to Petewawa for practice of the artillery ranges are now pretty well in shape, although there are still a few vacancies. It is now pretty well known who the officers will be who will go to Petewawa with the men. The commanding officer, Major Armstrong, will be able to leave Saturday.

The other officers who will go are as follows:

No. 1 battery—Major W. H. Harrison, Capt. J. T. McGowan, Lieut. McKenrick.

No. 2 battery—Major S. B. Smith, Lieut. Ross, Lieut. Ryder, Lieut. McLeod.

No. 3 battery—Major L. W. Barker, Capt. Shaw, Lieut. Macne.

The artillerymen will leave St. John without any pomp or ceremony. They will be accompanied by the 3rd Artillery in a special train of six cars. The government will, in all probability, if the scheme of sending the firing parties of all the batteries of a regiment to Petewawa in a body turn out well, adopt the system for all the heavy artillery regiments. During the present week the fourth regiment, C. A., from Prince Edward Island, is putting in its range practice at Petewawa.

CONVENIENT BAGS.

Every day bags are made of Irish linen of a firm close weave; but they could be copied in pique, pongee or any other summer dress material the idea being, of course, to have the bag seem an intended part of the costume in material and decoration. Summer aims bags have come into fashion with the Moyenne, or medieval mode, borrowed from the early middle ages. Faust's Marguerite wore such a bag, and the summer girl has copied the pretty notion from her new Moyenne frocks of linen.

LONGBRANCH, N. J., July 21.—Fire swept across the southern part of Longbranch's business section late this afternoon and did $100,000 damage before the local firemen, reinforced by apparatus from neighboring shore resorts and aided by hundreds of cottagers and summer residents, succeeded in checking its advance to the exclusive residential section and the great shore hotels. Starting in a livery stable near Second Avenue, the flames destroyed a dozen frame buildings, including the Coulter House, a four story hotel of modern construction which had not been opened this season. It will be almost a total loss.

LAZINESS IS DUE TO BUG THEY SAY

Hook Worm Decided to be the Cause of Tired Feeling in the South.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The hook worm or "lazy bug," as it has been shown to exist in the southern states, according to investigations of the physical conditions of army recruits, will form an interesting chapter in the forthcoming report of the surgeon general of the widespread effort on the part of boards of health in the southern states to eradicate this disease, which a few years ago was brought prominently to the attention of the world in connection with the Porto Rico.

When the hook worm, referred to in the medical world as uncinaria, was declared to be prevalent in Porto Rico, resulting in a tendency to indolence, the part of the patients who otherwise appeared in usual health there was no suggestion that this peculiar parasite existed in the United States.

"Through the careful methods that have been adopted in the United States," this investigation has been progressing, and the results of the last six or seven months so that when Surgeon General Thorne makes up his annual report he will have data to prove the prevalence of the hook worm among soldiers enlisted from southern states. The results passing through the army depots at Fort Monmouth, N. Y., were examined to the number of 140, 109 of them being infected with the parasite, West Virginia, South Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, and Tennessee, all supplied recruits that were infected. In only two instances in this series of investigations was this anaemia sufficiently severe to cause their rejection. After being treated all of the infected soldiers gained in weight and improved in physical condition generally.

Following this investigation of recruits, it was discovered that anaemia was a common disease throughout the southern states. The surgeon general has through the possibility of instituting some campaign against the disease in the south, but under present conditions it is sad but little can be done except through the agency of state government.

LONDON, July 21.—The chief American delegates who are attending the International Congress of nurses in this city, were today entertained at luncheon by the U. S. Ambassador and Mrs. Reid. After the luncheon a reception was given in their honor which was largely attended by British and foreign nurses. Mr. Reid will leave London about August 7 to spend his summer vacation in the United States.
