OBSTINATE OPEN SORES ARE HEALED BY ZAM-BUK

For sores which defy all ordinary remedies, Zam-Buk should be tried. Old wounds, varicose ulcers, cold cracks, blood-poisoning and chronic skin diseases cannot resist the healing influence of this great herbal balm.

Miss Alma Bourque, of Notre Dame, Kent Co., N. B., gives the following account of what Zam-Buk did for her after various other ointments and salves had failed. She writes:—

"For months I suffered with a running sore on my leg. I tried several ointments and salves, but none of them could bring about a cure. The sore would just heal over, and then break out again. I read in a newspaper, one day, of the good Zam-Buk had done, and so I determined to try it and see what this balm would do for me. I also purchased some Zam-Buk Soap."

"I washed the sore night and morning with the soap, and then applied the balm. I continued with this treatment, and after using Zam-Buk for a few weeks the sore was completely healed. I have recommended Zam-Buk to one or two of my friends for sores, and in their cases it has been equally effective."

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box or may be had post free from Zam-Buk Co., for price. It is a sure cure for piles, inflamed places, cuts, burns, scalds, chapped hands, ulcers, eczema, scalp sores, and all similar diseases and injuries. Refuse harmful imitations.

GRINDSTONE ISLAND

LIGHT A LANTERN

Was Explosion of Lamp Only

Alleged?—Fannie and Fay Had Two Mishaps in Going Out.

Albert, Feb. 14.—The oldest inhabitant of these parts cannot remember when Grindstone Island light did not amount to more than a common lantern on a pole. By an alleged explosion of a lamp this important light has been so reduced. A report of the accident has been forwarded to the Marine Department, and immediate repairs are expected to be made. The Tern schooner Fannie and Fay, reported in trouble at Rockland, Me., was loaded here with laths by F. C. Prescott. She caught on the pier bank when going out. About December 27th last, she lost an anchor and chain at Grindstone Island. The cargo is insured, but what effect her seizure for debt at Rockland may have on the cargo in transit, is a matter of some speculation here.

Joseph Kelver, of Coverdale, while visiting at the home of his son William, in Harvey, became ill and was operated on yesterday by Doctors Murray of Albert, and Burnett of Sussex. Dr. Burnett was also called in consultation with Dr. Atkinson on the case of Albert Newcomb, of Hopeville, who is suffering from complications of heart disease and dropsy.

Miss Belle Power, of Riverside, is very sick with an attack of appendicitis. Her recovery is considered doubtful.

Geo. Coonan of Winnipeg, and his sister Mrs. Atkinson, of Shediac, came in on last evening's train to visit their father, Captain Geo. A. Coonan, of Harvey, whose serious condition does not improve.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 14.—An announcement was made last evening by A. B. The visit of these prospective settlers is being arranged by the provincial immigration department with the Colonizer, a London publication devoted to colonization matters. The editor of the Colonizer, Mr. F. R. Pringle, personally conducted tours to the various provinces of Canada of which prospective settlers take advantage and in the past these tours have proven highly successful.

NEVER FOUND IN THE WOODS

Mysterious Man Who Settled at Little Lake, in 1880, Lost Some Years Later on Lonely Tramp.

No. 11.

The sea bath its secrets an unfathomable as its darkest caves. All are familiar with tales of ships which never returned. Sails which sank below the horizon never again to glint across the dawn's light.

The following story is one of the prize riddles of the land. One day in the spring of the year 1880 a man of medium height and middle age appeared at Hard Wood Creek, on the Little Lake Road, Parish of Gladstone. He might have fallen from the moon for aught anybody knew, but manifestly he was a native of this planet. None of the settlers had seen him come. He called at none of the houses in the place. He asked no questions—spoke to no one. He was reticent, gloomy and peculiar. He did not come, he arrived. He squatted near the road and dug a cave. It was not long until the neighbors saw through the trees the outlines of a building. It aroused intense curiosity as to how one man alone could raise a goodly sized frame without outside help. Gradually the work seemed to go forward, till after several months the building without sound of axe or hammer, as did Solomon's temple, reached completion without any workmen except the mysterious stranger.

After several years he volunteered the information that his name was Oliver Smith, and that he belonged to Albert County. Beyond this no more was ever known of his history. After living a hermit life at the Creek for seven years without any manifest desire to see or associate with man or beast, he became invisible one day in October, 1887.

Gone On a Visit.

It was rumored he had told to some one that he was going to visit his people. On the 6th day of December a stranger stepped off the train at Hoyt Station in Blissville. He walked to the home of Stephen Crawford, near the mouth of Shin Creek—there he had dinner and in the afternoon expressed his intention of walking through the woods to his home at Hard Wood Creek, on the Little Lake Road.

In reply to Mr. Crawford as to his reasons for taking this course of twelve miles through pathless woods, he curtly said that he had often done so before.

The snow was falling lightly when he started, the sun was blotted out and the sky overcast. He carried in his hand a medium sized flat carpet bag of a pattern often used in those times, and on his back a shot gun. That was the last time he was ever seen alive or dead.

As the short winter day wore on the wind rose and the snow fell fast. That night about a foot of new snow fell—the first of the season.

Along in the month of January word reached Little Lake that a man answering the description of the mysterious Oliver Smith had started early in December to the north from the head waters of Shin Creek.

All were unanimous that he never arrived, and that he must have gone astray and perished that December night. There was no use to institute a search, as the snow was very deep in the woods.

Gradually before spring news filtered out and the St. John press got hold of the fact that a man of the name of Oliver Smith, belonging to Albert or Westmorland had gone lost and perished in the woods of Sunbury County.

In the month of June, two men claiming to be brothers of the missing man, arrived on the scene, accompanied by an individual of the name of Professor Hunter, of St. John.

This self-styled Professor Hunter was a character who claimed to possess clairvoyant sight. He was held in high repute for the discovery of articles lost, strayed or stolen. Notwithstanding the professor's second sight, as well as the strenuous efforts of researchers, no trace of the lost brother was ever found. What seems passing strange, that though the ground where the ill-fated man vanished has in the last quarter of a century been traversed thousands of times, no human rib or skull bone, no Rip Van Winkle's rusted gun has been found. If his life was a riddle, his fate was involved in a tragedy as deep and dark and insoluble as ever was woven from the warp and woof of mystery and of death.

THE COURTS.

Supreme Court.

On the opening of the supreme court at Fredericton yesterday morning the case of McKane vs. O'Brien was taken up. The case was a special one and had been referred by order of Mr. Justice Landry to the full bench. The point at issue was as to whether the plaintiff McKane or the defendant O'Brien, who is sheriff of Northumberland county, was entitled to certain interest money.

It appeared that the plaintiff in a certain action had deposited with the sheriff a large sum of money by way of bail. The sheriff placed the money in a bank at interest. The deposit money was returned to McKane. The other also claimed the bank interest on the amount but the sheriff did not think he was entitled to it. It was at this point the court was asked to decide.

H. A. Powell, K. C., argued on behalf of the plaintiff and R. A. Lawlor, K. C., for the defendant. The court quite strongly intimated that the money belonged to McKane and had drawn interest, they could not see why he should not be entitled to the interest. However, the chief justice announced that the court would reserve judgment.

Metropolitan Case.
The first case on the docket in the King's bench division, Hooper vs. Clark et al., was then taken up. This is the well known St. John case. Miss Hooper brought action against the chief of police et al for unlawful arrest from the Hotel Metropolitan. The case was tried before the St. John

Criminals Dealt With.

Judges Forbes had a special session of the criminal side of the county court yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in the chambers, and disposed of four prisoners, who elected to be tried under the speedy trials act.

Geo. Damgaard, the sailor, committed for wounding William McDonald, pleaded guilty and was remanded to the efforts of his friends to getting him out of the city.

John McGloan, Frank Sprague and Robert Elliott, young men committed on a charge of breaking and entering the wholesale liquor premises of Philip M. O'Neill on the North Wharf on Feb. 5 inst., pleaded not guilty.

The extent of the demonstration, it is added in the diplomatic note, will depend entirely upon the attitude assumed by China. The vital questions involved are free trade in Mongolia, the extra territorial rights of Russians in China, and the establishment of a Russian consulate at Kobo Mongolia.

A military demonstration by Russia against China must be viewed more as a threat of punishment than as a forerunner of actual war as the military resources of the Chinese government are decidedly limited and the army organization medieval. Extensive plans for a military reorganization are maturing slowly, but at present China must rely on about 100,000 provincial troops only part of which have been trained according to European methods.

Interest in the Russo-Chinese situation will have to do chiefly with the attitude of the other powers, while Russia's understanding with Japan and the other powers would appear to have paved the way for any coercive measures against China.

Fisher, Ltd., together elected to be tried by his honor without a jury, but as Stone is now out on bail and will be tried at the February session of the court, which opens on Tuesday, the 28th inst., his honor remanded Stanton to jail until that time.

E. S. Ritchie appeared for Stanton.

RUSSIA AND CHINA ON VERGE OF WAR

Chinese Encroachment on Boundary Provokes Threat of Russian Military Demonstration—China Unprepared

London, Feb. 16.—The relations of Russia and China are strained to the breaking point. Russia today notified the governments of Great Britain, France and Germany of her intention to make a military demonstration on the Russo-Chinese frontier owing to China's persistent violation of the St. Petersburg Treaty of 1881. Russian troops will be sent at once to the district of Hl.
