

GEORGIAN BAY SHIP CANAL SURVEY

ix

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 19a

PAGE.		PAGE.
	Detailed estimates of cost and summaries, with estimate plans—Continued.
.. 320	Coulange Lake reach, via Calumet channel and estimate plans Nos. 22 and 23
.. 321	(alternative).....	381
.. 322	Coulange Lake reach, via Hennessey Bay (alternative).....	383
.. 323	Pembroke reach, via Hennessey Bay (alternative).....	384
.. 323	Coulange Lake reach, via Culbute channel (alternative).....	385
.. 323	Pembroke reach, via Culbute channel (alternative).....	386
.. 324	Mackey reach, via McConnell Lake (alternative).....	387
.. 324	Summary, alternative routes.....	388
.. 325	Maintenance.....	389
.. 325	Engineering staff.....	389
.. 325	Operating staff at locks.....	389
.. 325	Attendance staff for channel lights, bridges, &c.....	390
.. 326	Repair staff.....	391
.. 326	Attendance staff for storage regulation, &c.....	391
.. 326	Materials required for up-keep.....	391
.. 326	Cost of maintaining existing Canadian canals.....	392
.. 326	Summary.....	393
.. 328	Barge canal vs. ship canal.....	394
.. 329	Present traffic on the Great Lakes.....	394
.. 331	Necessity for a deep, through waterway.....	394
.. 333	Improvement of harbours.....	395
.. 335	Advantages of the proposed canal over existing routes.....	396
.. 337	Conditions governing traffic on the Great Lakes.....	396
.. 339	Elimination of barge traffic on the United States canals.....	397
.. 341	Advisability of constructing the proposed canal.....	398
.. 343	Movement of freight by water and rail.....	398
.. 345	Diagram showing the tonnage passing the locks at Saint Ste. Marie, Ontario and
.. 347	Michigan.....	400
.. 349	Conclusions and acknowledgments.....	401

A. 1909

PAGE.
 .. 320
 .. 321
 .. 321
 .. 322
 .. 323
 .. 323
 .. 323
 .. 324
 .. 324
 .. 325
 .. 325
 .. 325
 .. 325
 .. 326
 .. 326
 .. 326
 .. 326
 .. 328
 .. 329
 .. 331
 .. 333
 .. 335
 .. 337
 .. 339
 .. 341
 .. 343
 .. 345
 .. 347
 .. 349
 .. 351
 .. 353
 .. 354
 .. 355
 .. 357
 .. 358
 .. 359
 .. 360
 .. 361
 .. 363
 .. 365
 .. 367
 .. 369
 .. 371
 .. 372
 .. 373
 .. 374
 .. 374
 .. 375
 .. 377
 .. 379
 .. 380