

INDEX OF MYTHOLOGY.

iii

ght One and Hee Sun-god, and r or god of the ver musto and
g, 23, 162; 114,

114, 38.
D, THE, 114, 74.
THREE GOLDEN,
), 114, 49.
y of Greece, the Pan, 114, 3.
Hill), 114, 91.
od of war, 18, 82.

er-nymph, 114,

Argos, a name
for all Greeks,

93; 114, 32.
s), the voyagers
3, 198; 114, 43,

city of Argolis

er of the Argo,
a with an hun-
(8) A famous

e maiden-god-
so of the Moon ning One); as us, sometimes 66; 114, 29, 38,

-King), the son

114, 46.
14, 38, 43, 46. erva), goddess ortin war, and usehold arts,
and weaving,
49, 74, 81, 91,

ttica, Greece,

named for Athena, 23, 14; 114, 50, 91.
Ávlás, a giant who became a mountain, 17, 45; 18, 124; 114, 8.
X'rô-pôs (Unchangeable), one of the Three Fates, 114, 42, 50.
X'vl-cá, a country in eastern Greece,
22, 14.
Aulis (ávlis), a seaport of Boeotia,
in Greece, 114, 80.
Aurora (á-rô'râ), goddess of dawn,
114, 26.
Báb-y-lôn-á, a country of Asia,
114, 53.
Bacchus (bák'ús) (Dionysus), god of the vine, 17, 57, 70; 114, 5.
Bauols (bá'ols), 18, 139.
Beauty, the Goddess of Love and (Venus, Aphrodite), 18, 114; 114,
47, 52, 56, 63, 67, 74, 82.
Bellerophon (bél-lér'ô-fôn), the slayer of the Chimaera, 18, 166.
Boeotian (bê-ô'shün) ram, the, with the golden fleece, 23, 199.
Box, Pán-dô'râ's, 17, 82, 94.
Brass, the man of (Tâ'lús), 22, 32, 45.
Bri-á-rê-ús, a giant with an hundred arms, 23, 185.
Cád'mús, the builder of Thebes, 22, 72; 114, 39, 59.
Cál'y-dôn, a city of Etolia, in Greece, 114, 42.
CALYDONIAN HUNT, THE, 114, 42.
Cá-lyp'sô, a nymph, daughter of Ocean, 114, 49, 103.
Carthage (kâr'thëj), a city on the northern coast of Africa, 114, 93.
Kás-sán'drá, a prophetess, 114, 76,
87, 89.
Cassiopeia (kás-si-ô-pé-á), 114,
29.
Cás'tôr, a brother of Pollux and Fair Helen, 23, 196.
Caucasus (kâ'kâ-süs), the, a range of mountains near the Black Sea, 114, 10.
Céleus (sê'lús), 23, 166.

Çén'taur, the, a people with the head and shoulders of a man joined to the body of a horse, 23, 180; 114, 11.
Cerberus (sêr'bê-rús), the threeheaded watch-dog of the Underworld, 23, 150.
Ceres (sê'rêz) (Demeter), goddess of the harvest, 23, 142; 114, 19, 69.
Cê-rus (sês'tús), the magical griddle of Venus, 18, 114; 114, 76.
Ceyx (sê'ix), 114, 52.
Charon (kâ'rôn), the ferryman of the river Styx, 114, 18.
Charybdis (ká-rib'dis), a whirlpool on the coast of Sicily, opposite the whirlpool of Scylla, on the coast of Italy, 114, 102.
CHIMAERA, THE (kî-mê'râ), a monster with the heads of a lion, a goat, and a dragon, 18, 166.
Chimborazo (chím-bô-râ'zô), a mountain in South America, 18, 136.
Chiron (kî'rôn), the wisest of the Centaur, 23, 180, 184; 114, 11.
Çî'ix, 22, 72.
CIRCE'S PALACE (sêr'sê), 23, 107.
Circe (sêr'sê), an enchantress, 23,
107; 114, 100.
City-King, the (Astyanax), the son of Hector, 114, 82.
Clashing Rocks, the (Sým-plôg'ádês), two perilous floating islands, 114, 102.
Clô'thó (I spin), one of the Three Fates, 114, 42, 59.
Clým'é-nê, 114, 24.
Clýt-ém-nês'trâ, sister of Fair Helen and wife of Agamemnon, 114, 88.
Clýt'lê, a maiden who became a sunflower, 114, 8.
Colchis (kól'kis), a country in Asia whither the Argonauts went to seek the Golden Fleece, 23, 199.
Colchians (kól'ki-ânz), the people of Colchis, 23, 199.
Cór'inth, a famous city of central
Greece, 114, 60.
Cranes, the, at war with the Pyp-mites, 22, 54.