

TONIC AND DIGESTIVE WINE.

I have recommended this medicine in several diseases throughout this treatise, because, from examining its principles, and taking it myself, I feel so far warranted ; nor is it because it is a patent medicine I think the less of it. I unequivocally assert, that it is the greatest benefit and use yet introduced into medicine. The inventor is an ingenious Frenchman, who has had great difficulties in forwarding his views ; but now is patronised by the regular practitioners of the Continent, and is usually sold by the patent medicine venders of this country.
