MR. EMMERSON ON THE WITNESS STAND IN HIS OWN DEFENSE

continue the case. Mr. Barry said that the prosecution would do their utmost to allow the witness to be examined in his own home as soon as possible.

Adjournment was then made at a quarter to four until tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

FRIDERICTON, May 25.—The proceedings of the Crocker libel suit began promptly this morning at 10 o'clock.

The books of St. Lawrence Hall were again brought into court, Mr. Barry inquiring in question as the defendant had intended to "slap them on the table."

There was a stir in the court when the name of Hon. H. R. Emmerson was mentioned by the prosecution. Not a sound could be heard in the court as the oath was administered.

Hon. A. S. White arose and began his examination of Mr. White, Mr. Emmerson said that he had been a minister of railways all the latter part of his life.

Mr. White—"Do you know of a hotel in Montreal, called St. Lawrence Hall?"

Mr. White—"Have you ever been a guest at that hotel?"

Mr. White—"Yes, a number of times."

Mr. White—"Did you, ever leave the hotel to accompany two ladies?"

Mr. White—"About what date?"

Mr. White—"About the 15th of June, 1904."

Mr. White—"Do you know the day of the week?"

Mr. White—"Sunday, I think."

Mr. White—"What was the occasion in which you left the hotel under such circumstances?"

Mr. White—"On that occasion, I came down from Ottawa, leaving about 8:30 with Hon. Mr. Lemieux, and arrived at Montreal about 7:30."

Mr. White—"Did you register?"

Mr. White—"Were you shown to a room?"

Mr. White—"Yes."

Mr. White—"Had you your evening meal?"

Mr. White—"No."

for Ottawa, Hon. Mr. Lemieux was again on board.

Mr. White—"I will not trouble you to go further along these lines. One of these ladies you say was a friend of the family."

Mr. Emmerson—"Yes, a friend of my family and my wife's family, especially my wife's family."

Mr. White—"Was this lady a lady of good repute?"

Mr. Emmerson—"As far as I know she was a lady of the best repute."

Mr. White—"Had you ever heard her character discussed in any way, until you read the libel article in the paper?"

Mr. Emmerson—"No."

Mr. White—"Does the lady move in good society?"

Mr. Emmerson—"What about the other lady?"

Mr. Emmerson—"I met the other lady at Moncton station the year before."

Mr. White—"You practically only knew her by sight."

Mr. Emmerson—"I knew who she was."

Mr. White—"Had you ever heard anything against her character?"

Mr. Emmerson—"She is a woman of fine respectable family."

Mr. White—"In regard to these reports of being ejected from a hotel in Montreal?"

Mr. Emmerson—"No, never in my life, and the only woman I was ever to a hotel in Montreal was my wife in 1880, and Mr. White I want it understood I was not at that hotel with these ladies, they were there a day before I got there."

Mr. White—"You spoke, Mr. Emmerson, of being there under certain circumstances, what were those circumstances?"

Mr. Emmerson—"The circumstances were that I had left Dorchester on Thursday of June 10th and had been to Wolfville attending the closing of Acadia College of which I am a governor, and I had been there attending the graduation of my daughter from that college. I came to Dorchester on the morning of Thursday and left in the evening on the Maritime Express."

Mr. White—"Did you accompany my sister and daughter. On my arrival in Moncton, a constituent of mine came down to my car with his wife and wanted to know if I could take his wife to Montreal."

Mr. White—"I said that members of my family were going and if there was room I would be pleased to accommodate her. On Friday I found there was room and I myself to Montreal. At Lewis the lady told me she had a friend who was going with her to Montreal. We arrived in Montreal on Friday at six o'clock."

Mr. White—"The ladies left us at Montreal. I went on to Ottawa and my mother went to Toronto while the other members of my family accompanied me to Montreal."

Mr. White—"When these ladies left you did you know what hotel they were going to?"

Mr. Emmerson—"I had the impression that they were going to return on Sunday. When I returned from Ottawa to Montreal I had no idea of seeing those ladies."

Mr. White—"I think you said, 'I think you said it was on Sunday, June 10th, that you were in Montreal and registered there.'"

Mr. Emmerson—"Yes, that is my signature. Mr. Emmerson also registered at St. Lawrence Hall of that date, he wanted to know if, (pointing to the signature) if that was Mr. Emmerson's signature."

Mr. Emmerson—"Yes, that is my signature. Question—Is that the number of your room, 37?"

Answer—I cannot say.

Mr. White—"Did you arrive in Ottawa from the Lower Provinces?"

Mr. White—"On a Friday."

Mr. White—"That would be Friday, June 10th?"

Mr. White—"Who was the lady friend who went with you in the car?"

Mr. White—"One like to bring the lady's name into my publicity."

Mr. Emmerson—"Well, the name of the lady in Mrs. Allan's case was Mrs. Allan."

Mr. White—"Who is her husband?"

Mr. Emmerson—"Geo. C. Allan, of the I. C. R. offices."

Mr. White—"How did Mrs. Allan come to go along with you?"

Mr. Emmerson—"I addressed a public meeting in the rink in Moncton, and I saw Mr. Allan and Mrs. Allan, and they asked me if I could take Mrs. Allan to Montreal in my car."

Mr. White—"Who asked you?"

Mr. Emmerson—"I think they both did. On Monday night after this I took train No. 10 and went to Wolfville. After attending the graduation of Acadia College I returned to Moncton on Thursday night."

Mr. White—"Did you see or hear from Mrs. Allan between the night at the rink and the Thursday night you came to Moncton?"

Mr. Emmerson—"No."

Mr. White—"Just took a chance when she came down to the train on that night to go with you?"

Mr. Emmerson—"She was going in a Pullman car if I had no room in my car, when I found there was room I told her so and said I would be very happy to take her."

Mr. White—"Mrs. Allan had a pass did she?"

Mr. Emmerson—"Yes, she was entitled to one, because she was a wife of a railway official, but I do not know from whom she received the pass."

Mr. White—"When did you know that Mrs. Allan was going to have her friend meet her at Lewis?"

Mr. Emmerson—"Mrs. Allan told me before we reached Lewis."

Mr. White—"Who was the lady?"

Mr. Emmerson—"Mrs. Allan."

Mr. White—"Who was she?"

Mr. Emmerson—"I know that she was a friend of Mrs. Allan's and that I had met her at the graduation of Acadia College, and she being a great friend of my wife, I certainly thought any friend of hers would be beyond reproach."

Mr. White—"Did you ever hear of any trouble being connected with a hotel in Bathurst with Mrs. Allan?"

Mr. Emmerson—"I do not know of any trouble connected with a hotel in Bathurst with Mrs. Allan."

Mr. White—"Windsor Station where I took train"

"No, never."

"Did Mrs. Beuthner's mother accompany her to Montreal in the car with you?"

"She only came to the station and saw her on board the car."

"Did Mrs. Allan and Mrs. Beuthner not tell you they were going to stop when they went to Montreal?"

"I cannot remember that they did. I had the idea they were going to stop with some friends at Wolfville."

"Would it not be reasonable that they would tell you where they were going to stop?"

"I do not know as it would be. I do not tell you they were going to stop at St. Lawrence Hall."

"I cannot remember that they did. Mr. Hazen, showing register, where registered, he asked Mr. Emmerson if they were the ladies who accompanied Mr. Emmerson in his car to Montreal. Mr. Emmerson said that without a doubt they were the ladies."

"Do you generally stop at St. Lawrence Hall?"

"As often as at any other hotel in Montreal."

"How often have you been at St. Lawrence since 1904?"

"Twice. I usually stayed in my car when I went to Montreal, as I nearly always left early in the morning and therefore I usually always stayed in my private car."

"You say twice since 1904?"

"Yes. How often have you stayed at St. Lawrence Hall since 1907?"

"Montreal over six times in that period. I used to stay at St. Lawrence Hall at the time in question, was to see Mr. Peters who always stopped there."

"What Mr. Peters?"

"Mr. Joshua Peters, of Moncton."

"When you got to St. Lawrence Hall did you ever examine the register?"

"Not until after I had gone to my room."

"You found the names of Mrs. Beuthner and Mrs. Allan?"

"Yes, and I went up and called upon them."

"Mr. Emmerson then explained how the rooms were situated, showing that his was in a different part of the house from the ladies whose names are connected with his in the register."

"What time did you call on these ladies?"

"About 7:30 or 8:00 in the evening."

"How long did you stay?"

"Not very long."

"Where did you go then?"

"What time did you return?"

"About 10:30 o'clock."

The cross examination of Mr. Emmerson ended on Monday at 12:30. The person leaving the station for the hotel was Mrs. Allan. He did not register, he said, but they were assigned to rooms. He saw nothing improper in this. He left the next morning without seeing the ladies. As far as he knew the Allan had a good reputation.

The re-examination was then taken up by Dr. Fustley. Mr. Emmerson said that the registry clerk had retired when he arrived at the Albion.

Mr. Emmerson said that the ladies went down to the station the next morning and Mrs. Allan asked for a pass for her friend, Witness, however, could not grant that request.
