ST. REGIS LUMBAGO CURE

AN INDIAN REMEDY

Guaranteed to Cure Lame Back or money refunded!

An excellent remedy for Rheumatism, Lame Back, Etc., Etc.

Read the following testimonial from a man you all know:

Mr. W. A. Singleton, Crosby, Ont.
Dear Sir,—In the winter of 1905 I was laid up with La Grippe and unable to get relief from several other patent medicines. I was convinced by several of my neighbors to try St. Regis Lumbago Cure, and I can thankfully say it was the first thing that gave me immediate relief. Since that time I have never been without it in my house, and cannot speak too highly of it, especially for children, as it will break up a cold at once. I have also found it a sure cure for lame back.
You are at liberty to use my name for reference if you wish to publish it for the benefit of others. I am yours truly,
C. A. VANKOUGHNET.

If your dealer does not keep this medicine kindly ask him to order same for you as any sized order will be filled promptly.
First order, freight prepaid.
Yours truly,
W. A. SINGLETON

A LAZY MOMENT

When the soft June winds are flirting,
Kissing every mother's child,
And each leaf and bud is sporting
In the valleys of the wild,
When the Charleston hills look hazy
Through the sun-bright summer day,
Somehow I grow tired and lazy
And I long to get away.

To the curtained wildwood shady,
Flower and fern and leaf and brake,
There to court June's green-veiled lady
In her mansions by the lake;
'Mong her pictures worth the painting
Catch her thoughts that's worth the pen,
With no worldly cares restraining
I'll be happiest of men.

Some find joy in auto riding,
Which, of course, is very nice,
I myself would so go gliding
If I only had the price;
Some go yatching on the river
In a speedy motor boat,
Mine for style and speed won't never
Out much figure should it float.

Motors are a great creation
For to do a pleasure stunt,
But the craft of my vacation
Will be some old leaky punt;
Which, of course I'll have to borrow,
If I use a boat at all,
For my purse is lean and narrow—
It won't give to every call.

And perhaps I'll be as happy
In the class of Nature's school
As some million dollar chappie
Harnessed to the social rule.
They may all pursue their pleasures
In their yatches or touring Olds,
I'll be happy hunting treasures
Which the chest of Nature holds.
—Crawf C. Slack.

NORRIS—McNAMARA

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. J. T. McNamara of Philipville, when their second daughter, Elizabeth Winnifred, was united in holy matrimony to Mr. Wm. A. Norris of Althorpe by the Rev. C. N. Dewey of Delta on June 17th at 7.00 p.m. The bride party were very charming as they took their place beneath an arch of evergreens and roses.

The bride looked very dainty in a costume of cream lustre trimmed with lace and chiffon. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Norris, sister of the groom was attired in cream cashmere and lace. The groom was ably assisted by Mr. E. Fournier, also of Althorpe. After the ceremony the many guests sat down to a sumptuous repast, to which all did ample justice, after which music and other amusements were the order of the evening. The bride received many costly and beautiful gifts from her friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold bracelet and pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid, an exquisite gold brooch set with garnets, and to the groomsmen a black silk watch guard and charm.

The happy couple left for their home in Althorpe on Thursday at 6 p.m., followed by the best wishes of their many friends.

DEATH OF NATHAN MARSHALL

Nathan J. Marshall, caretaker of St. Alban's School, died suddenly on Saturday morning about 6 o'clock at his home on Crawford street Brockville. While Mr. Marshall had not been enjoying good health for many months, still he was able to be around and attend to his duties. Yesterday he was feeling much better than usual and during the evening visited the circus. On return having made no complaint of illness, but about four o'clock this morning was seized with heart failure and passed away in a short time.

Deceased was a member of one of the oldest and most highly respected families of the township of Elizabethtown his father being Benjamin Marshall after whom the well-known Marshall's school section was called. Nathan J. remained on the farm till a young man then learned the trade of a cheesemaker which he followed successfully for many years in various parts of the county. Some ten years ago he settled in Brockville, conducting for a time a woodyard and then the Island City boarding house on King street. He succeeded Wm. Cato as caretaker of St. Alban's School and by the head master, staff and pupils enjoyed the fullest confidence. He was courteous and affable in the discharge of duties and painstaking to the smallest detail.

Mr. Marshall married Miss Ophelia daughter of Henry Rowsome of Athens who with four children survive. They are Clarinda aged 15; Hattie 13; Harry, 10 and Hilda, 4. He leaves three brothers and two sisters: G. G. Marshall, of Chicago; Wm. Marshall, of Minnesota; Terrance of Rochester; Mrs. J. B. Checkley of North Augusta; and Miss Cynthia Marshall of Chicago. In religion he was a Methodist and a popular member of Court Island City No. 375, I. O. F. Mr. Marshall had attained the age of 45 years. Among his acquaintances in Brockville and throughout the county, deceased was held in high regard for honesty and industrious habits.—Recorder.

WORKED HIS WAY.

The Job an Energetic Student Took to Cross the Atlantic.

Jack had paid his way always. Out of the poverty of his childhood he had fought his way through the university. After graduation he felt he must see Europe, and with the little accumulation he had he "crossed the pond," trusting to good luck to get home again. But his trip of sightseeing over, he found himself in Liverpool without money and with no means of getting any.

He thought he would just go down to the steamship, go on board and see how it would seem if only he were going home.

As he wandered over the big liner his attention was attracted by a crying baby. The mother was traveling alone, and while she was attempting to see to all the thousand and one details incident to the beginning of an ocean trip the baby had resented the neglect he felt he had received and was crying. The mother was at her wits' end.

Jack's kind heart prompted him to say: "Let me take the baby, madam. Perhaps I can keep him quiet until your preparations are made."

This request, so unusual from a stranger, naturally filled her with surprise, but she looked at Jack so earnestly in the eye for a second and trusted him. "I wish you would," she said.

Jack's care was extremely satisfactory to his babyship, and when, in a half hour, the mother was ready to reclaim her child she found a happy, baby cooling and trying to devour a bunch of keys at one gulp.

She laughed as she took the youngster and thanked Jack. Then she added, quite in fun, "I wish you were going clear across."

Jack saw his opportunity. He said: "Madam, I'm a college student out of funds and longing for home. If you will pay my passage to America I will take care of your baby all the way across."

His proposition was accepted, and he kept his word. He is a prominent lawyer now, and he looks back with considerable amusement to his experience in getting home from Europe.

MURDER OF THE SEAL

The Way the Animals Are Slaughtered by the Hunters.

The ice echoes no footfalls, so the murder of the seal is a stealthy act. Yes, it seems like murder. On the pan lies a whitecoat alone. Up to it hurries one of the hunters. Lifting his bat above his head, he measures the distance; then, swinging downward the iron shod point, he strikes the skull of the seal such a blow that it is crushed in as if of pasteboard. Tossing aside the bat and whipping out the scalping knife, while the creature is still quivering, with a swift undercut and two or three side strokes the keen blade has severed the hide and the layers of fat beneath so they can be rolled into a pelt, the hide holding the fat in its folds. The seal whistles. Is with its parents. Their hide is coarser, but worth having, so the gunner takes a quick aim, lodging a charge of shot in the head of the growling mate just at the base of the brain. Here the skull is thinnest. One of the batters stands guard over the blowhole to prevent the mother from escaping, while another bats the cub. Then the female, who may desert her offspring to save her own life, is clubbed on the head. A few strokes of the knives and three more bloody carcasses crimson the ice.

The pelt of the first seal is piled with the other three in a pan. The flagman sticks a flag by its side, and the hunters hurry forward, leaving the pelts to be towed back to the ship when the hunt is ended.

Thus the slaughter continues hour after hour until nightfall only ends the stroke of the bat and thrust of the knife. If it began at daybreak the field may be strewn with thousands of dead seals, for if the pan of ice is thronged with them, as is sometimes the case, a hundred men will kill ten times their number in a day, since most of the seals are harp, which seldom try to protect their young, and are slain without attempting to defend themselves.—Day Allen Willey in Metropolitan.

Bunions and Rank.
"It is extraordinary," writes Sir Henry Drummond Wolff in "Rambling Recollections," "to observe in England the weakness that most people have for boasting of their friends in high places and the deference that they show to them. The daughter of a lady of very high rank had some pain in her foot which the mother asked the governess to be good enough to look at. The latter after examining it said, 'If it were not for her ladyship's exalted rank I should say it was a bunion.'"

Sign of Precocity.
"I believe," declared the Irishman, "that my youngest son's born to be a surgeon."

"Phwat leads ye t' say that?" asked his friend.
"O! caught him usin' th' scissors on a book O!d lately bought an' before O!d c'd stop him he cut out th' appendix."—Bohemian.

Joy.
Joy in life is like the oil in the lamp—when the oil commences to fall, the wick burns with a glimmering red flame, filling the air about it with a black smoke. Life also without a little joy burns unprofitably, filling the air with depression and sadness.

The hawk eats the dove, but the hawk seems to be surrounded by as many dangers as the dove.—Atchison Globe.

A Good Record

Mr. Wm. Johnston of Delta has four cows that have been milking since early in the season and are now yielding 233 lbs daily—factory report. They were sired by his Rob Roy, of Ocean Queen fame, and others of his stock are a cow owned by Dr. Lillie of Westport milking 90 lbs daily and a cow milking 87 lbs. daily, yielding 304 lbs. butter in seven days. His Rob Roy young stock all sold out at a high figure. Dr. Lillie is a specialist in Holsteins as well as in his profession. Rob Roy was bred in the well known herd of R. B. McGregor, North Hammond, N. Y.

This APPEAL You

.....is for.....

The Great Provincial Charity, The Hospital for Sick Children, Calls On You For Aid.

Remember that this Hospital is not a local institution, but Provincial.

It cares for every sick child in the Province of Ontario whose parents cannot afford to pay for treatment. Every dollar is better than a life.

The sympathy that weeps is good, but the Hospital has to have the sympathy that works.

Last year there were 1093 patients admitted. Of these 378 came from 254 places outside of Toronto—all were children of poor people who could not afford to pay for treatment of their little ones.

Each child was in the Hospital 47½ days at a cost of $1.31 each per day, or $62.22 for the 47½ days stay.

If your dollar could straighten the feet of a little boy or girl in club feet, you would gladly give it, and your dollar will do that.

There were 79 cases of club feet treated.

BEFORE. AFTER.

last year. Out of the 79, about 50 were from the country.

If you know of any child in your county who is sick or has club feet, and whose parents can not afford to pay, send the name to the Hospital Secretary.

The stock books are open. Won't you let the Hospital write your name down for a few shares in Heaven's own work of healing little children?

A great mine of Mercy—the mining stock that always pays dividends—is bought with the money that helps The Hospital for Sick Children to extract the Gold of Life from the Quartz of Death.

Please send contributions to J. Ben Robertson, Chairman, or to Douglas Davidson, Sec.-Treas., of the Hospital for Sick Children, College Street, Toronto.
