LIBERALITY OF THE CHINESE

The generosity of the Chinese residing in Canada would surprise many who do not know the facts. Last year they sent over $20,000 to one of their important centres in the home-land for the erection of a high school in which the youth of that country could be trained, as it had not been their privilege to be when they were young, the advantage of which educating the alien residents now realized. A short while ago the Chinese of Montreal paid $7,000 towards a mission costing $13,000 and underwrote the balance as a loan to the white population who promised they would repay it eventually. In Toronto at present the Chinamen are raising $30,000 for a Young Men's Christian Institute. A fellow Chinaman are on tour in behalf of this movement. This Montreal mission will among other things, foster strong Canadianism, teach Christianity, and educate children in the literature and history of their new homeland, as well as in the history of China.

Personally, if we were to refrain from working when we didn't feel like it, we wouldn't work very much.

THE DEAR OLD HOME PAPER.

(Georgia White, in Springfield Reporter.)
 It's a modest little weekly
 Just devoted to the news
 Of the country place, whose doings
 It painstakingly reviews
 All the things of interest happening
 To the people whom you know,
 With the full details recorded.
 Through its local columns flow.

It is not concerned with matters
 Of a National import,
 But neglects them for the items
 Of the purely human sort,
 And its given to extolling
 Every kind of town affair
 Till those mentioned in its pages
 Have a quite important air.

To sing everybody's praises
 It is never known to fail,
 Just as long as their offenses
 Do not get them into jail.
 And it never lends its columns
 To an underhanded "knock,"
 Though anonymously begged to
 Publish what is "common talk"

It is always granting favors
 To unreasonable cranks,
 Printing notices forever
 Without price and without thanks.
 Nay; it's very much more likely
 To be called up in a rage,
 Just because free advertising
 Wasn't on the foremost page.

Though it's speaking well of others,
 It is very seldom stirred
 By the laudatory phrases
 In its honor that are heard.
 And the ones that boosts the loudest,
 In a sweetly flatt'ing tone,
 Often take the neighbo's paper
 To save paying for their own.

MAN AND THE MONKEY, THE DIFFERENCE

"No wonder they say man is descended from the monkey."—Extract from a newspaper:

Let them say it all they please, brothers, it isn't so. And next time somebody springs that common lie on you as a scientific fact, just tell him that no competent scientist ever said anything of the kind. When the average chap speaks of our descent from the monkey, he of course thinks of the monkey or the ape that now inhabits the earth and which is familiar in menageries, zoos and museums.

What modern biologists beginning with Darwin claim—and prove to the satisfaction of the learned—is that man is descended from the same "root," the same original animal substance of millions of years ago that the ape is descended from. That is far from saying that said "root" was an ape. The ridiculous monkey of today is most certainly no more like the original stem, no more like that original "root" father than man himself is like that original father.

When you realize the evolution of the bird which, as has been abundantly proved, is descended from the reptile, and the reptile from water animals, you will understand what changes have come through evolution to both the human and the ape since that original ancestor lived and became extinct many, many millions of years ago, according to the scientists.

He may have been the most beautiful creature the earth has ever seen, throwing out one branch that degenerated steadily through ages into the ape and another branch that progressed through ages into the Godlike human.

But at worst when you think of you fellow beings, there is not the slightest reason why you should associate their ancestry with the monkeys of this age.
