Capt. L. P. D. Tilley of St. John, made a telling speech, pointing out why the young men, especially, should respond to the call of King and country. If they failed in this hour of their country's need the time would soon come when they would be compelled to serve, and this, he believed, no young man of Carleton county would care to have recorded against him when the

The chairman, Donald Munro, said he had a sun at the front and wanted to go himself but for some reason he had not been given the privilege. > Sergeant Knight, the first man who volunteered from Canada and who is crippled for life from wounds in battle, was the next speaker. He drove home to the young men their duty in the present crisis. He said there is a roll of honor in this campaign, and there is a roll of dishonor, the latter being kept by God against those who refused to aid in putting down the Kaiser and his people, who are defying all the laws of God and setting up their might as superior to that of the Ruler of the universe.

Sergt. Knight made a most touching appeal for recruits and as a result 12 men has signed up

The meeting closed with the playing of the National Anthem by the band, the audience heartily singing the words.

Much credit is due the ladies interfered with the attendance at of the Red Cross, who provided a dainty lunch for the speakers, the band and the workers in the recruiting campaign.
