Editorial Notes. The business failures in the Dominion this week numbered twenty-two, against twenty-nine in the corresponding week of 1898.

Mr. Hazen's proposition, in favor of the secret ballot, was shelved for three months' consideration. It does not mean by any means that this ends it far from it--as our enlightenment demands a better ballot system than has been in vogue in the past. Of course the delay, caused by the three months' silence on this subject, meant, at the time of the proposal, a dissatisfied majority of members, still, at the expiration of the time there will be a new party inaugurated, which, if perfectly secret, cannot but be beneficial to both parties.

The days of rowdism and drunkenness are past we hope. As the police committee have appointed, as we suggested, a policeman to do duty in our town in the day time which has been a very much needed necessity for some time. During the last week we have had several drunken men in the streets, and it is a disgrace to the community and the participants. However, like everything else, there must be a stop put to this unbecoming conduct and a step in the right direction has been taken in the appointment of a day policeman.

At last the Samson affair is well on the way of permanent adjustment, and as the three Great Powers, the United States, Germany and Great Britain have said they will fix this thing up themselves. In the meantime the government of Matsua will be recognized until an understanding favorable to the three Great Powers is arrived at, which must be favorable to all three, whether the same can be said of Samson or not, which, of course, is only of a secondary consideration. The whole trouble lies in the inability of the natives of Matsua, to rightly know which chief has the legal right to rule the island, and consequently there is always a slightly dissatisfied feeling when a new chief has succeeded the ruling throne, which usually ends disastrously for the occupant of that seat of honor. However, the arbitrators of the three Powers have decided to choose a person suitable to all, and see that his authority is not interfered with, which will leave everything in a peaceful condition, conducive to much trade and commerce.

In our last issue we were the means of propagating the wishes of our citizens of our shiretown as regards the erection of the new Alms House. There are many reasons why this should be so. We spoke last week of the use of the prisoners on the farm in the work of raising the vegetables used by the inmates of the Alms House, and the site is a particularly favorable one. We all know that when the spot selected for the building was chosen the advantage offered by the then present site was that the inmates could cultivate the adjacent land as a means of curtailing the expenses as much as possible. But this has proved beyond a doubt to be a failure, as the occupants were too old and feeble to materially aid in the tilling of the soil, resulting in the purchase of all the garden stuff which must be quite an item in the run of the year. Now Chatham has enjoyed for over thirty years the benefits accruing from the sale of the produce of the garden, and the part owners of this House have had no say in the matter of expenditure vouchers, barring the signing of vouchers, etc., for Chatham's produce. It is about time that this thing should be seen to and the location in our town be built upon. In a matter of this kind the welfare of the county should come first and foremost, which could only result in one way, viz. the erection of the Poor House in the shiretown.

It certainly must strike one very forcibly that the exodus of our Canadians to American cities must leave an impression behind, and cause us to ask why this thing is. As a country governed by its own people, Canada stands foremost. Then why should the flower of our young people leave for the U. S.?

Telegraphic reports show that over one thousand emigrants cross the borders within a week, that is during the spring months, and they are not going over on any holiday excursion either. Now these people do not leave here because the U. S. is a better country, but because the majority of young people raised on the farm, naturally turn to city and town life, and the only way of doing this is by crossing the border. It is a sad state of affairs, and it is a pity that our water facilities, it stands pre-eminent as a manufacturing town.

One of the troubles is that at long we allow the Americans to buy our lumber, nickel, lead, etc., in the manufactured article free of duty or at a low rate of duty, so long will our people leave us for the American manufacturing cities. One of our leading paper dealers says that if an export duty were placed on pulp wood that pulp mills would be established all over the country, which would give an increase of a million people to our Dominion in a year and we should be the receiver of dollars instead of cents for our work.

Mr. Wilfrid Laurier laid on the table on Friday, copies of the correspondence with the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain in the London Daily Mail which represents the views of the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain on the subject of the proposed canal. It is a very interesting document, and it is a pity that it is not more widely known. It shows that Mr. Chamberlain has a high regard for the Dominion, and that he is willing to consider the views of our people on this subject.

The debate was the longest on record on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, occupying 20 full days, and was only passed on the 34th day of the session. This is so abnormal that it is worth while to say a word about the custom with respect to the Address. From 1867 to 1890 inclusive there were 24 sessions of Parliament. At 15 of them the address was adopted on the 2nd day of the session; at 1 (1873) the address was not carried; at 8 (1874, 1875, 1876, 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880) the address was adopted on the 14th day of the session; at 3 (1881, 1882, 1883) the address was carried on the 5th day of the session (which simply means that instead of being taken up on the day after the opening of the session, it was considered on the Monday after, and was carried the same day it was taken up); at the other four sessions the address was carried on the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th days of the session, and at 17 (1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898) the address was adopted on the opening day but one (1879) when it was not carried until the 8th day.

There was also another reason why the debate was so protracted and that is that it was purposely kept alive by the government. It was not a question of the merits of the proposal, but a question of the merits of the government. The government wanted to show that it was not a party resolution, but a question of the merits of the proposal.

Local Legislation. FREDERICTON, April 20 -- Sixteen members of the Legislative Council, after a long and heated discussion, have passed a resolution in favor of the secret ballot. The resolution was carried by a majority of 16 to 10.

Suicide by Hanging. MICHAEL CONWAY DIES BY HIS OWN HANDS. One of Mr. Conway's little girls, climbed up the ladder leading to the barn loft, Friday morning, and a ghastly sight met her eyes. It was the body of her brother Michael, hanging by the neck from a beam, the feet just clearing the floor. An alarm was given at once, and Aid Fitzgibbon was called in quickly. He lifted the body up and held it till the arrival of Dr. McDonnell, when the rope was cut. The body was cold but not rigid. Dr. McDonnell declared the life was extinct. Police Constable Forrest took charge of the barn, keeping the crowd of curious people away, and Coroner M. S. Benson interviewed the members of the family. They said the deceased was about home the day before, apparently very low spirited, and complaining of feeling dull, heavy and unwell. He spent the night in his bedroom, and went to bed early. No one would make a declaration, stating that there were suspicious circumstances attending the man's death, and therefore no inquest could be held without an order from the Attorney General. It was clearly a case of suicide during a fit of melancholy or temporary insanity, and the remains were surrendered to the family. The grief of the young man's mother and sisters was very great, and much sympathy was felt for them by everybody. Michael Conway was about twenty-one years old, and worked in one of the sawmills in the sawing season. He was of a rather morose or melancholy temper. The rope with which he was hanged was a bit of melancholy or temporary insanity, and the remains were surrendered to the family. The grief of the young man's mother and sisters was very great, and much sympathy was felt for them by everybody.

Obituary. It is with deep regret we record the death of one of our most promising young men, Melvin Baldwin, the son of David Baldwin of Nelson, who expired on April 20th at the early age of 20 years. He was a student of the U. N. B. Fredericton, and would have graduated this year, he was an especial favorite of both the teachers and the pupils of the University. The young man's death was caused by consumption. The following telegram of sympathy was received by Mr. Baldwin: FREDERICTON, April 20, 1899. Daniel Baldwin: University students express their deep sorrow at the death of the talented student. Signed, W. H. CLAWSON. FREDERICTON, April 20, 1899. Daniel Baldwin, Esq.: Your boy was much beloved here, please accept our sympathy. DR. HARRISON. The floral tributes were beautiful, among which were a basket of flowers from classmates of U. N. B.; a cross from the U. N. B. Y. M. C. A. a wreath from the Debating Society of the U. N. B. His parents have the sympathy of the whole community.

On Wednesday, April 19th Mrs. John Brooks of this town passed away peacefully after a lingering illness of consumption which she had borne with Christian fortitude and cheerfulness. She was the daughter of the late Deacon Robertson and leaves a sorrowing husband and five young children to mourn the loss of a kind and loving wife and mother. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Baker assisted by the Rev. Mr. Harrison. The funeral took place on Friday at 2.30 in St. James' Church and a large number of friends were present. The remains were followed by a large number of friends of the deceased who had the pleasure of knowing her in life.

Anniversary Reception. On Wednesday evening, April 19th, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Atkinson, formerly of Newcastle, N. B., celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding at their home at 812 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. More than a hundred guests were present, among the number being Mr. and Mrs. George Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. George Boston, Mrs. C. E. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Atkinson, Mr. J. Atkinson, Jr., the Misses Everett of Fredericton, the pastor of the Tremont street M. E. Church and a large number of prominent members and friends of the same church. Messrs. W. and J. Atkinson and Edwidge Prichard presented the guests. Piano solos were played during the evening and Miss Atkinson sang several of the members of the church. All present sang a moving and impressive hymn, "The New Year's Greeting." The Advocate joins with all the friends of the Atkinson family in wishing them every blessing.

Shipping Notes. A London despatch of 10th April. The captain of the ship, Ingolby, lost a box of his own goods, which was named John Smith, belonged to Dalhousie, N. B. The Bridge Charge. LITTLE PROGRESS MADE BY THE COMMITTEES TODAY. FREDERICTON, April 22--There was considerable delay in starting the bridge investigation this morning, and it was nearly twelve o'clock when the committee was called to order, a fair number of spectators being present. The chairman stated that the Hon. Mr. Mott to take Mr. Robinson's place. The chairman also said he had received the minutes from the Assembly to continue the sessions during the sittings of the House.

A HAMILTON LADY. Finds Lax-Liver Pills a perfect cure for Sick Headache. Fully ninety per cent. of the women of this country suffer from sick headache. Liver disorder and constipation are at the bottom of the trouble. Lax-Liver Pills cure the headache by correcting the cause. And they do their work easily and perfectly without any griping, pain or sickness. But the Hamilton lady we referred to--her name is Mrs. John Tomlinson. Her address is 107 Stevens St., North. This is what she says: "Being troubled with severe headache, I was advised by a friend to try Lax-Liver Pills. I only required to take half a bottle when the headache vanished and I have not been troubled with it since."
