Squabble Over Plumbing Inspector Matter.

City's Relief Work Is Still Well In Hand.

move last night by which some of the aldermen got the Council to ne a special committee to consider the appointment of a plumbing inspec-tor has stirred up a lively little squab-Those who opposed it are charging se who voted for it with playing to the gallery to catch the labor votes While the Mayor and some of the aldermen declare that the move for the appointment of an inspector originated with the plumbers, Ald. Sweeney, who is one of the leading spirits in favor of creating this new position, says he is satisfied it is something the people are clamoring for. "The plumbing in Hamilton is a by-word throughout the Province," declared ex-Ald. Wallace, one of the master plumbers, to-day. "If we say anything, though, it is thrust up to that it is the plumbers who are after it." Mr. Wallace says that 75 per cent, of the plumbing done in Hamilton is defective, and that in the best houses in the city the occupants are inhaling sewer gas. The special committee will

The sudden activity displayed by the promoters of the Guelph Junction Railway about a week ago and the statement that the building of the road would be proceeded with at once appears to have been a false alarm. The company is now applying to the Legislature for an extension of its charter, which expires this summer, and the city has received a letter from Superintendent McNichol, of the C. P. R., which is behind the project, pointing out the advisability of keeping the charter alive, and intimatine that the company would take the matter up in the fall, if the money market was easier by that time.

Relief Officer McMenemy declared Rehef Officer McMenemy decarred most emphatically again to-day, when questioned about cases of suffering in the city, that there was no need of a public appeal for charity. This view, he says, is endorsed by the officers of the different charitable organizations. e different charitable organizations, f people who write letters to the pars about people starving and suffers would report the cases direct to me telephone or to the officers of any the charitable societies," said Mr. Menemy," it would mean that relief huld be afforded the suffering ones on twenty-four to thirty six hours over than waiting for notice through e new-spapers."

somer than waiting for notice through the newspapers."

Mr. McMenemy admits that the, demands on charity this year are the heaviest in probably ten years, but he says the situation is by no means beyond control. It is impossible for him to know of every case of suffering in the city, but he says it is the duty of every citizen who knows of any worthy cases to notify him immediately, without waiting to write a letter. Every man who wants work can get a permit to crack stones, he says, and every case that has been brought to the atse that has been brought to the at tention of the department has prompt ly been afforded relief.

In view of the action of the city soli

In view of the action of the city solicitor in Ottwan advising the Assessment Commissioner there in making the assessments this year to assess civil servants for income, it is probable that similar action will be taken here. Of course, the number of civil servants here is not large. The department here undertook to assess them once, but the solicitor advised against it.

Heretofore they have been exempt from the provisions of the Act, but the recent judgment of the Imperial Privy Council affirmed the right of municipalities in Australia to impose such a tax, and the New Brunswek Supreme Court has just followed that ruling and decided in favor of the City or St. John in a case arising out of the taxation of a Dominion official.

Chairman Sweeney, of the Board of Works, thinks he has a solution of the trouble over the snow cleaning problem and he will ask his committee to deal when he finds a place where the snow has not been cleaned, he proposed having the officer notify the tenant at once that unless the snow is cleaned within a stat-ed period a Police Court case will follow.

The Board of Health at its next meet will discuss the advisability of build-g a smallpox hospital, with the $5,000 ted by the Council last night, or wait-g until a larger amount can be secured.

The Ottawa Journal, which had a man here recently investigating the attractions of Hamilton as a manufacturing centre, has a two-page "boost" for this eity. It is done with a view of stirring up the Ottawa authorities.

City Clerk Kent declared to-day that there was no foundation for the story that the insurance carried by the city on the different municipal buildings was not equally divided. He says he presents a statement each year showing how the insurance is distributed.

The Markets, Police and Jail Committee will make its annual inspection of the markets, police stations, weigh scales and the jail to-morrow.

The House of Refuge Committee will meet on Thursday, instead of Tuesday, to strike the estimates.
