The 90,000,000 Market

Our Liberal friends are never done telling us of the advantages of the ninety million market. Innumerable arguments have been produced to completely dissipate this specious and misleading presentation of the friends of the Government. Statistics in abundance have been produced to show that, for the most part, our Canadian farmers are receiving better prices for their products than they could secure in the markets of the United States. But nothing more to the point has come under our notice than what took place in New York a week ago to-day. Liberal spouters quote strings of figures enumerating the prices paid for necessaries in the markets of the great cities of America. The prices quoted by our Liberal speakers are the prices paid by the consumers, after these products have passed through the hands of the middlemen and trusts, to whose tender mercies we would be subjected should this pact become law.

The interesting information which follows is taken from the New York Herald, which is labor ing so streneously to effect the ratification of the reciprocity pact. The Herald goes on to state that, on Wednesday of last week, a deputation of fifty American farmers, claiming to represent 600, 000 farmers in New York, Pennsylvania and other States came to New York. The spokesman of the party in an interview in the New York Herald said :

The farmer now receives about forty-one cents of the dollar that is paid by the consumer for the produce of the farms. All the rest goes to various middlemen; by far the greater part of it to the great trusts, who produce nothing and reap vast profits solely through the perfection of their of their gathering and selling organization.

The Herald goes on to state that on Wednesday, the deputation was engaged in investigating prices charged to New York consumers, and they found ample proof that the farmer did not get within 60 per cent of the prices charged the consumers, the difference going into the pockets of the middlemen. Among other things they found the following :- The best butter retailing at 38 to 40 cents a pound. For the same quality the American farmers receive 26 cents. In the Charlottetown market yesterday, the best butter sold for 28 cents a pound direct from the hands of the maker to the consumer. The farmers delegation in New York bought a dozen of the best fresh eggs and paid 45 cents for them. For this same quality of fresh eggs, these same farmers receive 22 cents a dozen. In the Charlottetown market yesterday the farmers wives ane daughters of Prince Edward Island received direct from the consumers 22 cents for their best fresh eggs. Small chickens, known as broilers, sold at 80 cents to $1 a piece, and the farmers declared they only received 60 cents a pair for them. Similar chickens changed hands in the Charlottetown market yester day at 80 to $1.00 a pair direct from the producers to the consumers. For corn of inferior quality, the farmers paid 30 cents a dozen. For a better quality they declared they at home receive only 8 to 10 cents a dozen. In the Sharlottetown market yesterday corn passed from the producers to the consumers for 29 cents a dozen. The prices of other commodities were in like proportion. The prices of all these commodities are probably higher by ten per cent or more in the markets of our larger Canadian cities than at Chrrlottetown. But taking the Charlottetown prices and adding the freight and other charges where would the advantage of the 90,000,000 market come in for Canadian or Prince Edward Island producers or exporters ? Last year Ganada exported eggs to the United States to the value of $11,551, and imported eggs to the value of $177,000. We sent to the United States $23,000 worth of cheese and received back $45,000 worth, $24,000 worth of heans and received back $35,000 worth. Of bacon we sent $7,678 worth and received back the amount of $816,000 worth. Of lard, we sent in $2,555 and received back the amount of $1,847,000 worth. In manufretured farm products we sent in the sum of $3,388,000 worth in 1886 and in 1910, $4,026,060 worth, the trade had grown less than a million in twenty-five years. At the same time we received from the United States in 1886 manufactured farm products to the value of $4,666,000, and in 1910, $18,000,000. All this was done in the face of the Canadian tariff. What will the 90,000,000 do for us when the barriers are lowered ?

single one of them to which we, outside of the United States, could ship anything with any advantage.

There is not a single one of these countries that cannot lay down at Halifax all these products provided they have a favorable freight rate that would only add a triffing amount to the cost per pound at which it would be sold to the consumer. Taking last year's prices as a basis, beef of excellent quality which is readily sold in Canada is brought from New Zealand to Montreal, to the Maritime Provinces and to parts of British Columbia; Argentina beef can be laid down in our market, duty paid for 7 cents per lb., mutton and lamb laid down for 8 cents per lb. Butter was imported from Australia last year and put on the market in the city of Montreal and reduced the prices from 271 to 19 cents per lb. in less than a month. One million dozen of eggs were imported last year, the market in Montreal was broken by the eggs from Chicago. We bought eggs from Japan last year in considerable quantities. One million dollars' worth of vegetables were brought from the United States last year.

Talking of the favored nation countries, in the months of April and May of this year, 1911, there were 351,000 lbs. mutton and lamb brought from Australia and sold in Canada, and 162,000 of mutton and lamb from the United States-7,743 bbls. of apples were brought in April and May from the United States and consumed in Canada, and 43,000 bushels of potatoes from the United States in May and April and consumed in Canada.

So that you come to this point, in consequence of the development of our farms, we have a good home market for 85 per cent. of our produce, a market which has been growing and getting better, but prices on that market have now got to the point, and this is the essential point of the argument-they have now got to the point when these very countries it is proposed to let into our market are able to send their goods in here and cut down the prices of our farmers in their home market. Is that what our farmers and exporters want ?

Favored Nations.

Our Liberal friends pretend to make light of the competition to which we would be subjected from the favored nations ; but a few facts will serve to disabuse the mind of any one having any doubts on this point. The favored nations are Argentins, which is the one country in the world where progress has been faster than Candas during the last ten years. Austria-Hungary, Bolivia, Hungary, Denmark (which is one of the countries which we have to admit beats us in butter and cheese in quality), Japao, Norway and Sweden, Russis, Spain, Switzerland, Venezuela, and in addition to these twelve the British "empire. Last year those enumerated below of these favored nations exported of the identical products we have to sell, after supplying the home consumption, quantities to the following values :
