Do You Believe in Ghosts?

By RUTH CAMERON.

Do you believe in ghosts? Is there anyone who hasn't discussed that fascinating question at one time or another? All our lives we have heard about the ghosts that visit haunted chambers and come creaking down winding stairways at midnight, and yet I doubt if there is one among my reader friends who could claim to have seen one. But there is another kind of ghost that most of us meet almost daily. I speak of those elusive, shadowy ghosts of thought which haunt that unexplored chamber of our personality, the sub-conscious mind.

You don't know what I mean? Well, let me describe one of these visits which, unlike the visits of the common ghosts, occur at any time of the day or night. You are sitting at your desk writing to a friend. Suddenly there comes into your mind the thought of a teacher you once had and the queer way she wore her front hair. You had not been thinking either of hair or teachers. You were writing to your friend. "Hasn't it been a warm winter?" There was absolutely no connection between your thoughts and this queer memory that flitted into your mind. What was it, then, but a vague ghost of a thought that had been dwelling in the sub-conscious mind, and came for a moment to the door of your conscious mind?

A year or two ago, I wrote about these queer, unfathered thoughts that come to all of us, and insisted that there was some connection, even if it were not immediately discernible.

MAN AND THE SOIL.

Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, author of the Common Sense Medical Adviser, says "why does not the farmer treat his own body as he treats the land he cultivates. He puts back in phosphate what he takes out in crops, or the land would grow poor. The farmer should put back into his body the vital elements exhausted by labor, or by ill-health induced by some chronic disease." Further, he says, "the great value of my Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is in its vitalizing power. It gives strength to the stomach and purify to the blood. It is like the phosphates which supply nature with the substances that build up the crops. The far-reaching action of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is due to its effect on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases that begin in the stomach are cured through the stomach. A bilious spell is simply the result of an effort made by the liver to catch up when over-worked and exhausted. I have found the 'Discovery' to be unsurpassed as a liver regulator and rich blood-maker."

Miss LOTTIE KINSELY of Perth, Kansas, says: "I will here add my testimony of the effectiveness of your remedy upon myself. I was troubled with indigestion for two years or more. Doctored with three different doctors besides taking numerous kinds of so-called 'stomach cures' but received no permanent relief. I was run down, could not sleep at night with the pain in my chest, caused by gas in the stomach. I was weak, could eat scarcely anything although I was hungry nearly all the time. About one year and a half ago I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after having taken several bottles am nearly cured of stomach trouble. Can now eat without distress and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I thank you for your remedy and wish you all success in your good work."

Get Busy, Mr. Mayor, and Councillors.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—In your interesting editorial notes of Tuesday's issue permit me to say that you have voiced the sentiments of the taxpayers of the city in regard to our water supply which is a poor one. Considering the thousands of dollars that have been spent on the new service from Windsor Lake inaugurated now some eight years ago and which up to the present is defective. It is a "ginger bread affair." It is high time that the property holders of the city should immediately take steps and demand from our city representatives the cause of this condition of affairs, in order to protect the city from a great conflagration. A plentiful water supply through the great wisdom of Almighty God is provided for our use by the never failing waters of Windsor Lake. The water power is there in abundance. There are two separate main pipes connected for city purposes east and west. Still we are in as poor position as we were 40 years ago, i.e., when a fire occurred in the West End the water was shut off from the East End.

I expect a thorough investigation will be made by our only two city practical representatives, Mayor Ellis and Councillor Coaker, whom the city look to for protection in this all important matter.

Yours truly,
WATER STREET WEST.

Bottled at Sea.

One of the most extraordinary stories ever told of the sea is related by Captain Engelland, owner of the steel sailing ship Brindte. He was at sea with three men on board when a great gale came sweeping and tearing and screaming over the waves, and drove his vessel before it into the gathering blackness of night. The skipper stuck to the wheel all through the long hours of darkness, and the gale dying down to a snarling growl at that if you hunted long enough you find the link.

I am writing this to retract that statement, for ever since then I have been continually haunted by thoughts of places and people that had absolutely no connection with what I was saying, feeling, thinking or doing. As I walk across the room to get a book I will suddenly think of a little newspaper boy I knew when I was in newspaper work. As I sit at the breakfast table scanning the advertisements of furs I will suddenly see in my mind's eye a little cottage where I spent a couple of days some fifteen years ago.

Really when you stop to think of it, isn't it almost as weird as being visited by ordinary ghosts to have these inexplicable spectre thoughts stalk all unbidden into your mind?

I know there are people materialistic enough to laugh at the term "sub-conscious mind," but I can't understand their attitude. It seems to me there is no doubt that the sub-conscious mind is a tremendous power that exists within us, and that if we could only utilize its force we could double our mental efficiency.

For in many ways the sub-conscious mind is superior to the conscious mind. For instance, my conscious mind cannot tell time without a clock, my sub-conscious mind can. I have never set an alarm for any time without being waked up just before the alarm went off by my sub-conscious mind.

"What on earth is all this about?" I can hear some materialistic and disgruntled reader exclaim. I know you won't believe me, my friend, but all this is about a force as real, as valuable, and almost as well understood as the electricity that lights your house and runs your vacuum cleaner.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 29.

Deputy Sheriff and strikers at the Rankin plant clashed. One man was killed and twelve injured, some fatally. All the wounded, except two deputies and a policeman, were spectators. No strikers were injured. Among the injured are several women and a six months' old child.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

General and Mrs. Drummond, with 30 other suffragettes, have been sent to jail for a fortnight. They declared their intention to start a hunger strike. Mrs. Drummond complained that the police had handled her roughly, and thrown her in the mud. To the presiding magistrate, Mr. Marshall, she said: "You and Lloyd George have a lot of trouble ahead of you." All refused the option of a fine.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

With the presentation of their note to the Turkish delegation, the Balkan plenipotentiaries consider their work at an end. Premier Venizelos, of Greece, will leave before the end of the week, and the others follow. Diplomats have not given up hope believing that the Allies will await the answer of the new Turkish Cabinet to the joint note of the Powers, in accordance with the Powers' advice.

MONTREAL, Jan. 29.

Brenton A. McNab, late editor of the Star, has issued a writ against Hon. Sam. Hughes, for $10,000 damages for alleged slander. He claims that in July, 1912, Col. Hughes informed a well known newspaper man in Montreal, that he (McNab) and the late Lieut.-Col. Worthington were interested in a small arms company in England, and for monetary consideration or otherwise had conspired to campaign against the Ross rifle.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

The Servian delegation delivered the Allies' note to Rechad Pasha this afternoon. The determining factor was the receipt of reports of a grave ferment among the Turkish troops stationed on the Chatalja lines, who appear to be unwilling to follow the lead of the Young Turks. It is thought that in view of internal complications, Sheket Pasha may yield before the energetic action of the Allies.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 29.

On the Emperor's birthday, the German Ambassador here said that Turkey's future lies in Asia Minor. He told an enthusiastic gathering of his compatriots that German interests in Asia Minor were bound up with those of Turkey. The recent note of the European Powers had promised that after peace had been declared, Turkey could be aided in her future development by powerful assistance, but in any case, as to Turkish possessions in Asia Minor the label "Touch me not," could be affixed.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

The text of the note handed by the Allies to Rechad Pasha, to-day, is as follows: The plenipotentiaries of the Allied Balkan States having, since the suspension of the work of the Peace Conference, awaited in vain for three weeks for the reply of the Ottoman plenipotentiaries to their last demands; and the events which have occurred at Constantinople appearing to them to have destroyed the hope of arriving at the conclusion of peace, they are, therefore, with great regret, obliged to declare the Peace negotiations, commenced on Dec. 16th, to be broken off.

LONDON, Jan. 29.

The Londonderry election takes place on Thursday. Col. Pakenham is the Unionist candidate, and David Hoeg the Nationalist. Despite her bereavement, the Duchess of Abercorn, known as "the electioneering Duchess," is working hard for the Unionists. Yesterday she made a whirlwind tour in Pakenham's interest. John Mitchell arrived at Londonderry yesterday from Toronto, especially to record a Unionist vote. The result is a toss-up, the parties being so evenly divided. The majority for the Unionists at last election was 105.

SOFIA, Jan. 29.

General Savoff, commander in chief of the Bulgarian Army, to-day addressed the following communication to the men under his command: "From the course taken in the peace negotiations, it becomes evident that the enemy is unwilling to yield an inch of territory conquered by our victorious armies. The Turks wish by a stroke of the pen to destroy all that you and your brave brothers who have fallen in battle have won. Will the heroes of Kirk Khrisgh, Danabaziser, Lule Burgaz and Velataga allow this affront to the glorious Army of Bulgaria, to go unanswered? Prepare, then, for fresh victories, and with your irresistible movement forward, show your enemies and the whole world that Bulgaria our fatherland, deserves more respect."
