

MAKES YOUR BACKACHE VANISH, DRIVES ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY

New Discovery Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles Relieving Backache and Bladder Disorders After Few Doses are Taken.

No matter how badly you suffer, how chronic your case may be, or what has failed to cure you, your pains will leave, your aches vanish and the torturous, killing backache or rheumatism will bother you no more.

This is what Croxone, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It cures these diseases because it reaches the cause and removes it. It soaks right into the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes, and dissolves every particle of uric acid and makes the kidneys sift from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition.

so they can filter the blood and keep you well.

If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or sides—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croxone will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croxone is different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else on earth ever used for the purpose, it starts to work the minute you take it and relieves your suffering the very first time you use it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

On Getting Hurt.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

A young woman was making arrangements to entertain a small group of her college mates at a house party. "I'd like to invite Margaret," she said regretfully as he went over the list with her mother. "But there really isn't any man I could invite for her, and it would be awkward to have her without, under the circumstances."

"Won't she be hurt, if you leave her out?" asked the mother. "Thank goodness, no," said the daughter, emphatically. "Most of the girls would, but Margaret is one of those people who don't get hurt. I guess she is too busy."

Doesn't that description make you think you would like to know Margaret, whoever she is?

That was the effect it had upon me. I had never met the girl to whom my friends referred nor even heard her name mentioned but when I heard that characterization I felt my heart warm towards her.

"One of those people who don't get hurt,"—how many people do you know of whom you could confidently say that? Not many, I reckon.

Permitting one's self to get hurt over fancied slights or real grievances is too much of a luxury to the average person to be willingly dispensed with.

What some people would find to occupy their minds if they did not have grievances to nurse and slight to brood over I cannot imagine. I suppose they would be as unhappy as unmarried women I used to know. She had no children, no intellectual interests and, as she boarded at a hotel, no household cares. She was crying down married life to me one day. "My dear," she said, "you can't imagine how bored I am with the whole thing. Why, Phil and I haven't even had a good quarrel for three months."

I suppose the people who take such pleasure in getting hurt are in much the same state of ennui when they cannot find a grievance.

The sensitiveness which makes its possessors continually fancy themselves slighted or hurt has too long been regarded as a kind of virtue, or at least the half-mark of an artistic temperament. To me it is nothing but another name for self-centeredness and the half-mark of an unoccupied mind. It is only people who have nothing to think about but themselves who are super-sensitive. The busy, unselfish people do not have time to wonder if they are being slighted.

Sensitiveness is a fine enough quality so long as you are sensitive to the right thing. Be as sensitive to beauty as you can. There is happiness in that for you. Fortunate indeed is the man who can say "My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky." Be as sensitive to the suffering of others as you can; but as for the paltry, self-pitying, self-centered sensitiveness that is forever "getting hurt," don't consider that a virtue for it isn't. The virtue lies on the side of those people who, like Margaret, are too busy to feel it.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glyceric extract made from bloodroot, mandrake, stone, queen's root and golden seal root, and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery,

gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption by the blood of the food it requires. Eradicate the poisons from the blood with this alternative extract which does not shrink the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other injurious ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden that builds up those weakened by disease. Sold by druggists everywhere. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. CHAR. PARKER, JR.

Mr. CHAS. PARKER, JR., of 222 Woodlawn Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I was troubled with my stomach for almost three years. Tried several doctors and most everything anybody recommended to me, but kept getting worse and honestly did not care to live as I was never well even though, at times, I had no pain. My symptoms were as follows: Always tired, my whole body in a throbbing condition of pain and nervousness in the stomach, vomiting, constipation, could not tell what to eat or who would agree with me, and was melancholy. But after taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with the 'Fountain Tablets' it has made me a well man which is something to live for."

Household Notes.

The perfect apple corer has a wooden handle.

Water cress salad is at its best this time of the year.

Cream taken after a meal is excellent to increase flesh.

White fish is, as a rule, more digestible than any meat.

Broiled green peppers make a delicious finishing touch to a steak.

Curry is a great resource among a housekeeper's seasoning supplies.

The nutritive value of fresh herring is greatly increased by the roe or milk.

Tomato juice will remove ink stains from fingers; so will lemon juice.

Before beginning to paper a house always see that the chimneys are clean.

Before planting garden seeds, make sure of plenty of little wooden labels.

Rinse cut glass in bluing water if you wish it to have the utmost sparkle.

Fruits of all available kinds should make a large part of the spring dietary.

To make cut flowers last, set them in a pail of water up to their necks over night.

Olive oil makes an excellent tonic in the spring—a teaspoonful three times daily.

To save the heels of your silk stockings line the heels of your slippers with velvet.

When buttering sandwiches, be sure to have the butter soft enough to spread smoothly.

If a sewing machine needle becomes blunt or hooked, rub it evenly on a sharpening stone.

The newest lamps are neither for table nor floor, but the right height to be placed on a tabouret.

In the spring all winter clothing should be looked over, brushed, cleaned, aired and repaired.

To frost a bathroom window, paint the glass with a strong solution of Epsom salts in hot water.

The heaviest part of the spring housecleaning should be put through before the hot weather comes.

Try using a little book for the shopping list, instead of a loose leaf of paper. It is less likely to get lost.

The first step toward spring housecleaning is to turn out and put in order all cupboards and drawers.

Try rubbing a dry, hard sponge over wallpaper to remove spots. Carriage sponges are best for actual cleaning.

Bread and muffins, made with raisins and dates, are both wholesome and nutritious for grownups as well as children.

Ivory may be cleaned with white soap, tepid water and a soft toothbrush with alcohol.

Oil paper can be saved from the packaged brands of biscuit, and will be found as good as new for wrapping up lunches.

Whenever possible, save the green leaves of a head of lettuce for egg salad, while the hearts are kept for the tomato, fruit and other salads.

Asparagus bought in the market should have the cut ends sliced over again; then set the bunch upright in water until ready to prepare for cooking.

Tattooed Aristocrats.

Religious Enthusiasts' Strange Fads.

Although the practice of tattooing is expressly forbidden in the Scriptures—for in Leviticus it is stated, "Ye shall not make any cutting in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you"—the fashion of decorating the skin with religious subjects seems to be steadily growing. According to a London tattoo artist, he is often called upon to tattoo hymns, texts, and copies of famous religious pictures on the bodies of religious enthusiasts, as well as original symbolical designs.

A well-known bishop has upon his upper arm a representation of the Sun of Righteousness and a cross crushing the head of a hideous dragon typifying sin, while a young clergyman has a picture of a skull with a serpent thrusting its head through one of the eye-sockets and a radiant butterfly flitting away, symbolical of death and eternity.

The head of Christ crowned with a halo is carried about the wilds of Africa by a stalwart missionary on his chest, and a lady who devotes her time to Church work bears an anchor, a cross, and a heart—faith, hope and charity.

Hymns and Religious Pictures.

One of the most remarkable examples of tattooing of religious subjects is that provided by the case of an engineer storekeeper on one of the White Star Liners. He has, perhaps, the most wonderful tattooed body in the world. From his neck to his waistline he is covered with pictures and inscriptions. Displayed on his body is a wonderful piece of the tattoo artist's work. It is nothing less than a faithful reproduction of Leonardo da Vinci's picture "The Last Supper."

The greater part of his body is taken up with tattooing of a religious nature. On his back are the Lord's Prayer and the hymn, "Nearer My God, to Thee."

There is also a lady who has had Leonardo da Vinci's great picture of "The Last Supper" tattooed on her back, the picture being produced with marvellous fidelity; which reminds one that some time ago a woman entered a well-known London hospital, and the nurses discovered that the upper part of the right arm was entirely occupied with a pictorial representation of "The Rock of Ages," while on the lower part of the arm was the scene of the Crucifixion.

Tattooed Royalty.

Perhaps the most extraordinary tattooing idea ever carried out was that of a coachman, who, at the time of the Dreyfus trial, had his body and legs covered with no fewer than 120 illustrations of the leading personages. Altogether the work occupied nearly two years, three months being devoted to a picture of the terrible ceremony of degradation, when Dreyfus was stripped of his decorations and uniform.

It is interesting to note, by the way, that quite a number of members of European Royal Families bear tattooed designs. The Grand Duke Alexis of Russia, for instance, is most elaborately tattooed; likewise his cousin, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. The Queen of Greece and the King of Sweden are also tattooed. On his arm Prince George of Greece has a wonderful representation of a flying dragon in many colors. One of King George's arms bears a similar design, and Prince Francis of Teck, has a curious picture of a frog leaping for a small beetle tattooed on his right forearm.
