n Getting Govt. Job.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-day.
During the course of the debate in the Commons, a lively passage of arms occurred. It was stated by a Unionist member who inquired if Churchill's disclaimer extended to the members of the Government. Churchill explained the question was prompted by rumors he had heard. Major Archer Shee, Unionist, said there was a good foundation for rumors as would come out later, and referred to investments of certain gentlemen in oil, intimating that an agreement had been made on behalf of Liberal party funds. Churchill pressed him to give the names, but he declined. Churchill then said that Fisher, before becoming chairman of the Admiralty Oil Commission, held a large number of oil shares, but sold them all at a loss.

IN HARD FIGHT GAME.

The most exciting game for the season was witnessed on St. George's field last evening. The opposing teams were the Stars and Felidians. The championship depended on the result, consequently there was a large gathering of spectators present in spite of the unpleasant weather.

Felidians—Goal, Raley; backs, Hewitt, Rendell; halves, Rowell, Tait, Strong; forwards, Winter, C. Rendell, Piment, Lamb, White.
Stars—Goal, Clare; backs, Dunn, Hart; halves, T. Duggan, W. Duggan, Kavanagh; forwards, Power, Blen, Murphy, Morgan, Caul.

At the opening the Felidians became aggressive and kept the Stars back division busy in defending. Tait and Rendell made two hard tries but could not find the net. After about fifteen minutes playing the Stars started the attack and Raley was called upon to save several shots which he did splendidly. The Stars continued a bombardment at the Felidian goal and just before half time Caul landed the leather in the net.

On changing ends the Felidians settled down with a vim and determination and for a while had the best of the game. A foul was given to White. Power secured the ball and sent it to Raley who in saving gave a corner from which Caul again succeeded in beating Raley.

On resuming the Felidians made a splendid dash and came within an ace of scoring the equalizing goal. The final whistle sounded giving the victory to the Stars by two goals to one. The Stars have to play the Casuals next week and if they win will become the holders of the championship cup.

Address

To Rev. W. Swan, Methodist Minister, St. George's.

Rev. Sir—On the even of your departure from St. George's, we beg to express to you our appreciation of your sterling qualities as a citizen, a gentleman and a Christian. We regret very much your departure and sincerely hope that the future may bring you all happiness, and we know that in your future wanderings, perhaps amid fairer scenes and in more favored climes, your thoughts will oft return to this town, washed by the waters of St. George's Bay, and near the Laurentine Gulf, and realize that here are kind hearts that beat true, that kind thoughts are being waited for the sea and kind prayers ascend from loving hearts for your welfare and tranquility.

We beg you to accept this address and the accompanying testimonial, as slight proof of our high appreciation.

The Coming Election Contest.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—The fishery to date here has not been bad every trap secured over a hundred quintals and many have gone over the two hundred qt. mark.

Small boats have done very well on caplin bait but the past two weeks not much has been done with hooks and lines.

I have been reading the reports sent in from time to time to Board of Trade and I notice our learned (?) Sub-Collector has sent in a report from Point Laffan to Cape St. Mary's; his report of course includes all the fish caught on this stretch of coast, but when the men who are fishing in schooners on these grounds return home their catch will be counted again under the heading of schooners from fishing grounds which will certainly mix matters up somewhat.

Capt. Tom is always aiming at big things and were it not that his presumption outweighs his brains he would be a leading light in social as well as marine circles.

I note the remark of your correspondent "Fools step in where angels fear to tread."

I note the remarks of your correspondent re advice on nautical questions, but catering to one man is very noticeable now in this district. This is but the policy of a dying government like raising the pay in certain government positions when more competent men can be got for the original salary. I assure you Mr. Editor, that the people of this Bay are alive to the situation and that the friendship of discredited politicians went count for much in the coming contest.

SOPIA, July 17.—An official despatch reports the defeat by Bulgarians of two Serbian forces which penetrated Bulgarian territory on the western frontier. The Bulgarians attacked them yesterday and put them to flight. The Serbians retreated in the direction of Vlasina, across the border. Another despatch says that severe losses have been inflicted on the army operating on the Bulgarian left flank.

SOPIA, July 17.—King Ferdinand to-day personally telegraphed to King Charles of Roumania, that Bulgaria was ready to negotiate terms of settlement. The Roumanians to-day took possession of the cable station at Varna on the Black Sea, thus controlling communication with Schastopol. As the railway between the coast and Sofia has also been cut, Bulgaria cannot communicate with the outside world, except through Servia and Roumania.

NEW YORK, July 17.—King Ferdinand has denied the horrifying atrocities attributed to various quarters to Bulgarian troops during their retreat through Macedonia. He cabled the following message through his private secretary, to-day: "All rumors about Bulgarian atrocities are infamous Greek calumnies, designed to poison universal opinion, in regard to which the truth will be established one of these days."

CHRISTIANIA, July 17.—Mysterious stories of an attempt to kill the ten-year-old Crown Prince Olaf, grandson of King Edward VII, caused great commotion. A man was found a week ago hiding in the gardens where Olaf plays. He was arrested, and the fact hushed up. It is reported that when the Queen heard of it she was prostrated, and sobbed for hours, saying the royal family must leave the country; and that the Bill now before the Storting virtually puts a premium on Olaf's head. This Bill provides that if the King and Queen die without a male heir, Norway shall become a republic. The anti-monarchical agitation is making great headway here and the outlook for the royal family is anything but hopeful.

MEXICO CITY, July 17.—The Mexican Government has decided to take vigorous action in reference to the sending out of false reports from Mexico regarding the situation and matters relating to the administration. A Government official last night announced that foreign correspondents and informed them that inaccurate news, or news that was construed as intending to injure the government, would involve the expulsion from the country of the correspondent responsible for the publication.

MEXICO CITY, July 17.—U. S. Ambassador Wilson left here last night over the Mexican railway for Vera Cruz, whence he will sail to-day. He will place the exact situation before the Washington administration, but it is not probable that he will make a plea for recognition, unless in some modified or indirect form. That he will advocate intervention unless conditions grow worse, is not considered likely. Many Mexicans regard indications as a certainty. Present indications are that the Federals in the North are meeting with success. They have occupied towns formerly held by Carranza rebels, but the rebels have not been captured and are still operating.

NEW YORK, July 17.

The building of the largest and most complete Y.M.C.A. in the world has been made possible by a gift of $500,000 by Mrs. Smith of Brooklyn. She is the widow of William Van Rensselaer Smith, of Archibute Brothers, the great sugar refiners. The gift is a memorial to her son Clarence E. Smith, who was a worker among men and boys. The new building will cost $1,000,000, and will be erected at a central point in Brooklyn.

The Regatta.

The Regatta Committee meets to-night principally to receive reports from the collectors, who, we learn, have raised the necessary amount to run the Regatta.

An application will be considered from the Harbor Grace Brigade for a place on the programme.

A crew of carpenters are practicing hard in the Myrtle. They will row the Shamrock in the Trade race.

Only two crews of amateurs are at work.

Conditions on the lake last evening were unfavourable, fog being the cause.

Much enthusiasm is being manifested in the Brigade race. Stock is about even.

The C. C. C. crew have pitched a tent on the back of their boat house and will camp there every night until the Regatta.

The C. E. T. S. are practicing hard in the Doctor for the Society race. Their opponents the L.O.A., will row the Nellie.

Five boats will take part in the Factory and the same number will row in the Laborers' race, including the Bell Islanders.
