Making Ready.

Though the promoters of the Woman Suffrage movement in Newfoundland have been apparently quiescent since their interview with the Prime Minister last spring, it by no means follows that their activities have been held in check because of that unfortunate contretemps. On the contrary they have been carrying on an intensive campaign, without any noise and have now become organized more strongly and aggressively than ever for the purpose of again carrying their war into the male strongholds of the House of Assembly, when it resumes in December next. Furthermore those interested in the outposts have been welded more closely together in their determination to win the right of the franchise and exercise the prerogative of all free born subjects whether male or female. The outport contingents when added to that of the city will make a formidable array of strength, and one which will have to be reckoned with by the Government. When all the women want the franchise, who shall say them nay? Of course neither all men nor all women have ever been unanimous in wanting anything. It is always, however, the majority that counts, and in this instance we are safe in saying that the majority of the women of Newfoundland want, and expect, the right to ballot for candidates in a general or municipal election. Woman is becoming more and more a factor in the life of nations. The Great War brought them to the fore in all walks and professions, and right nobly did they perform all the difficult—and sometimes distasteful—duties to which they were called. They did the work of men and did it thoroughly and in such a manner as to evoke universal admiration and approbation. To-day they ask for a right which they have nobly earned—the right to vote. The conservatism of human nature (male) does not approve, but the advance of the times is gradually overstepping those old fashioned barriers erected against women, and with united effort and concerted action, these antiquated barricades to human progress must topple over and be levelled down.

A Splendid Achievement.

Newfoundland has good reason to feel proud of her representative in the Halifax Modified Marathon, for there are few who will not consider Jack Bell's achievement a splendid one. To take second place in a field of over one hundred runners, was no mean feat, and he should feel perfectly satisfied with the result. It is true, that it would have been a greater satisfaction if Bell had won, but after all everyone cannot win, and we know that our representative did his best, and that best was very good indeed. McAlay, who came fresh from his victories in the States, was a power to be reckoned with, and though winning from Bell yet the sports of Newfoundland have not been backward in congratulating him on his splendid success. We presume that the N.S.C. will go to some trouble to show their appreciation of Bell's work, inasmuch as he is the greatest athlete who has ever represented us abroad. What form their welcome will take we are not aware, but whilst there are some who believe that celebrations similar to those which greeted the return of our track team, should not be held now, it would scarcely seem fair that an equal reception should not be given to Bell.

School Has New President.

Rev. Bro. J. E. Ryan has been appointed president of St. Bonaventure's College in place of Rev. Bro. J. B. Ryan who retires from office after a term in which he has met with great success. The new President goes to St. Bonaventure's rich with the experiences of successful work in the educational arena, having laboured in Ireland, British Columbia, and above all in Newfoundland where his phenomenal success at St. Patrick's Hall has brought that Establishment to the forefront in Educational progress. We are glad to learn that the retiring President whose ripe experience in the work of the schools invaluable, will continue a member of the College Staff.

Feldians Won School Game.

The Feldians defeated the M.C. in the first game of the Intercollegiate series on Saturday by 8 goals to 2. The game was very keenly contested, and both sides showed a great deal of pluck and energy. The winning goal was scored only a few minutes before full time. The next game will be played this afternoon between the St. Bon's and the M.C. and an exciting contest should result.

Paupers in Court.

CHARGED WITH DRUNKENNESS.
The extent to which the Prohibition Act is being evaded reached an extreme to-day when the Superintendent of the Poor Asylum had two inmates of the institution before Judge Morris on being drunk and disorderly. Both the accused were big, husky men. Mr. A. W. Miller, Superintendent of the Poor Asylum, said that the accused had come in drunk several times and had made trouble for him. Mr. Fox spoke briefly on behalf of the accused, and said they would guarantee their future good behaviour. Mr. Miller wanted time to think over whether he should take them back, and the accused were remanded until to-morrow. It was not an usual occurrence for inmates of the Poor Asylum to get drunk even in the good old days, and that they should do so now, proves how useless the Prohibition Act has become.

Owing to a heavy breeze yesterday the ships made poor progress, and at 11 o'clock to-day a further message to the Furness Co. gave the position of the ships as Bacallan to the north-west, three-quarters west, or about 25 miles off this port. The Hiscock Trial.

The case of the King vs. Peter Hiscock charged with breaking and entering the King Cafe on the morning of Sept. 9th, was heard this morning in the Supreme Court, before Mr. Justice Johnson and a special jury. Mr. J. Barron appeared for the prosecution and Mr. G. W. B. Ayre for the defence. The first witness called was Constable Walsh, who swore that after discovering a man in the cafe he and Constable Bennett gave chase but their quarry escaped by the back entrance through which he had broken in. The constables followed him to Neal's wharf, when the man jumped into a boat and escaped, but they saw him by means of flashlights. The constable swore that the man in the dock was the person he saw. Constable Bennett was next called and he gave practically the same evidence as the previous witness, stating in addition, that the prisoner escaped on board of a.s. Piona by means of a small boat. Mr. Ayre cross-examined the witnesses at some length. Mr. Barron raising several objections. Up to recess hour the cross-examination of Constable Bennett had not concluded. The following is the special jury on the case: George Halley, A. B. Chaffs, John Nowgorthy, Gordon Winter, Joseph Nugent, J. J. Henley, P. J. Casey, W. H. Lawrence, Walter Clouston, Lorenzo Moore, Stephen J. Tucker, N. H. Chown.

Inspector General Hutchings has received the following message from Sgt. Gardner, of Bonavista: "Schr. Romeo, John Parsons, master, bound from St. John's to Bonavista, lost her foremast whilst heading up the Cape Shore on Saturday evening. The schooner was hauled too and anchored, but later the chain parted and she drove to sea. The crew, however, escaped in the boats. Both schooner and cargo are insured."

Police Court.

(Before Judge Morris)
A drunk who was conveyed to the station was fined $1.00.

A man charged with being drunk and disorderly and assaulting several persons entered the usual plea of ignorance of all that had happened. Constable McCue said he saw the accused threatening people on the street, and afterwards chasing two men and kicking them in the back. Witness arrested the accused with the aid of two other constables. A fine of $5 of 10 days was imposed.

No Work for Loggers.

Only 200 men will be employed in the logging camps of the A.N.D. Co. this winter instead of the 2000 to whom employment was given last year. The reason for this is that there is a considerable amount of logs on hand which could not be used up on account of the strike. The pulp market is still in an unfavourable condition and Scandinavian competition is proving inimical to our interests.

Prospects Brighter.

PORTIA ARRIVES FROM WESTWARD.

According to the reports brought along by S.S. Portia, which arrived in port from the Western Coastal Service this morning, prospects have brightened considerably along the Coast. The fishermen are all getting rid of their catches at favourable prices, and the general outlook for the winter season seems more cheerful. In port wine Bay, however, conditions are very bad. The fishery was practically a failure there, and the people are without means of sustenance for the winter. The Portia brought down to Belleoram the crew of Kearley's vessel "Ethel M. Prior," which was wrecked recently. Over 1100 quintals of fish which were being brought back from the Banks were lost. The Portia experienced a very stormy trip going West, and was detained for two and a half days at St. Broilan. The run down was an excellent one. The ship brought a full freight, consisting chiefly of cask fish, and the following passengers:—Misses Edwards, Isaacs, Parry, Fitzgerald; Messdames Forsey, Pilgrim; Messrs. Dr. Gear, W. Goodland, P. Murphy, F. W. Diamond, B. Foote, P. Lewis, J. Cheeseman, and 18 steers.

The N. S. C. Sweep.

The first message to the Anglo-announced that the race had been won in 55.30. Later in the afternoon a message to the National Sports Committee from Harvey Thomas stated that the official time was 55.33%, and the Committee has it promptly bulletined. About 7 o'clock a further message was received from him supplementing his first, and stating that the correct time was 55.35%. Simultaneously a message was received from the Halifax Herald (on whose announcement it will be remembered the National Sports Committee decided to award the prizes) corroborating this. The persons holding

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

NO WORKMEN DELEGATES.

LONDON, Oct. 16.
Lord Robert Cecil speaking at Hull, Saturday, said he considered the great blot on the League of Nations was the fact that it contained no workmen delegates. He emphasized the urgent need of Government control of the manufacture of arms, in order to minimize incitement to war. He held that Germany ought to be admitted to the league, and he believed would have been admitted at the recent assembly if she had applied.

GOES TO SCAFFOLD.

QUEBEC, Oct. 16.
Chow Tong will be hanged at 7 o'clock on the morning of December 16, for the murder of five of his companions on board the coal vessel Maskinonge on the morning of August 27. The Chinaman's trial came to end when the jury returned a verdict of "guilty." Saturday evening, after a session that had lasted all the afternoon, the jury entered with their verdict a recommendation for mercy. Chow Tong heard the verdict, which was translated into his own language by an interpreter, with tears streaming from his eyes. During the hours of the examination seven witnesses were heard, five of them being for crown and two for the defence. The latter principal witness was the condemned man, who accused Yung Au Sen, one of the crown's witnesses, who was a member of the ship's crew, of attempting to shoot him (Chow Tong) and also said that one of the firemen on the ship tried to kill him with a knife.
